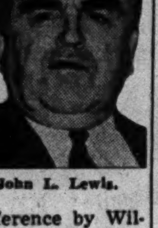
LEWIS ASKS RETURN TO AFL

GREEN REVEALS UMW'S PLEA TO RE-ENTER FOLD

Miners' Chief Calls for Labor Unity.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 19.—John L. Lewis today wrote a climax to a lusty chapter in labor history as he applied to the American Federation of Labor for readmission of his United Mine Workers.



John L. Lewis.

This bombshell that rocked the labor world was tossed to reporters at a late afternoon press conference by William Green, AFL president, who handed them this brief statement:

"The United Mine Workers made formal application to the executive council for reaffiliation with the American Federation of Labor. The council welcomes the receipt of the application and is proceeding to consider and act upon the application in an orderly and sympathetic way.

Applies by Letter.

"The executive council interprets the application of the United Mine Workers for reaffiliation as a response to its repeated appeals to those organization, which originally were chartered by the American Federation of Labor and which had withdrawn, to return for unity and solidarity within the ranks of labor."

Green said that Lewis had made the application in a letter to the executive council. The AFL chief said he was unable to make public its contents because it was in the hands of the council secretary, but he added that in it Lewis merely "emphasized the need of unified labor in the United States."

Green said he would appoint a committee to consider the application and to meet with UMW officials. The committee will report back to the AFL executive council, which will rule on the application.

Hint Delay on Appeal.

The executive council, whose present session probably will last until early next week, will not meet again until August. Whether it can act on the application at this meeting was considered doubtful.

He would make no prediction as to whether the council would approve the application. He commented that "it is expected that all national unions affiliated with AFL would conform to AFL general policies," indicating that Lewis would be expected to observe the "no strike" pledge given by organized labor to President Roosevelt.

He said that many jurisdictional questions would have to be settled before the UMW could reaffiliate. He mentioned particularly UMW district 50, a division including a variety of workers—chemical and construction workers and even farmers.

Expects Scant Trouble.

Green said he expected no serious trouble in dealing with the AFL Progressive Mine Workers' union on the question of admitting the once bitterly fought UMW.

"Time heals wounds, and time has been healing the wounds that were created when the Progressive was formed," Green said.

He said the Progressives might remain an independent union or they might merge with the UMW.

[The way for UMW to reënter AFL is thru Progressive Miners' union, international president says. Story on page 8.]

Capital observers saw great political significance in Lewis' move. Reaffiliation with the AFL, from which he withdrew his 500,000 members in 1935 to form the Congress of Industrial Organizations, would give him an extremely powerful voice, they said—perhaps the political power he long has been credited with seeking. Lewis broke with the CIO over the third term for President Roosevelt, which he opposed, and over his inability to dictate CIO policies.

OPA Draws New Attacks as Costs Soar

BARE SHARPEST INCREASE SINCE AGENCY BEGAN

Bureau's Collapse Seen in 2 Months.

A barrage of condemnation from a variety of major sources yesterday blasted the office of price administration, already on the defensive.

The United States department of labor disclosed that, despite OPA's efforts, the living cost increase recorded for the month ended March 15 was the sharpest in OPA history. Meanwhile the executive council of the American Federation of Labor in Washington, D. C., denounced OPA policies as giddy, feeble, fumbling and farcical and blamed the agency for black markets.

Collapse of the OPA within the next two months was predicted by the American Institute of Food Distribution of New York, a highly regarded reporting and service organization, which said in a statement released in Chicago that the OPA now is almost entirely discredited.

Charge Hint of Fascism.

An official of the Greater New York Grocers conference condemned the OPA regulation separating food stores into four categories as "a direct approach to Fascism" and declared a mass meeting of 15,000 will protest it.

Details of the gathering storm of disapproval follow:

WASHINGTON—Retail food prices and costs of spring clothing, supposedly controled by OPA, led soaring living costs to a high of 22.8 per cent above the 1935 to 1939 average, department of labor statistics disclosed.

Latest statistics indicate that living costs now are 21.7 per cent higher than January, 1941, basic time used in the "little steel" formula, which permits a 15 per cent wage increase since that date.

Cite 1.5 Per Cent Rise.

During the month ended March 15, the retail prices of food, clothing, fuel, electricity, and rent rose 1.5 per cent over the preceding month, bureau of labor statistics showed.

Denunciation of the OPA by the AFL council came on the heels of attacks on the agency yesterday by

Order Government Buying of Canned Foods Cut 20%

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 19.—The war food administration moved today to increase civilian supplies of canned fruits and vegetables and juices by ordering a 20 per cent reduction in government purchases of these foods from the 1943 pack.

The action, officials said, will result in a net increase to civilian consumers of about 30 million cases—7 millions of canned fruits and 23 millions of canned vegetables.

Until the total amount of the 1943 pack can be more accurately estimated, however, WFA said, point values of canned foods will not be reduced by rationing authorities.

Follows Complaints.

Today's action followed complaints from members of congress and the canning industry that the army, navy, and lend-lease administration have been buying and storing foods, including canned goods, far in excess of their actual requirements.

WFA officials said governmental requirements have been scaled down because more frozen, dried, and fresh foods will be available for government purchase than had been estimated and because the 1942 pack of canned goods was larger than advance estimates.

Requirements Compared.

Most of the new percentages include "contingency reserves" which must be held by canners until they are notified whether the government will require them in addition to basic percentages.

The new and old set aside requirements on foods for which revisions were ordered are shown below, in terms of percentages of the actual 1942 pack:

RATION BOOK NO. 3.

Distribution of applications for war ration book No. 3 will be started today by mail carriers thruout the nation, the office of price administration announced yesterday. Book No. 3 will extend the current books No. 1 and 2 and provide coupons for any additional products to be rationed. The cards are to be filled out and mailed to OPA headquarters here, and the new books will be returned by mail.

Pageant Stirs 15,000 to Vow: Jew Must Live

BY EDWARD BARRY.

From a majestic stage flanked by representations of the tablets of the law and the star of David, 1,000 American Jews last night delivered a plea to an audience of 15,000, and thru these 15,000 to the world, to heed the plight of the Jews of Europe before the last remnants of the race there are sacrificed to the Nazi fury.

The plea took the form of an elaborate pageant in the Chicago Stadium called "We Will Never Die." It utilized a script by Ben Hecht and a musical score by Kurt Weill. It was produced by Billy Rose and directed by Moss Hart. The bulk of the huge cast—singers, actors, musicians—was drawn from the ranks of Chicago's Jews.

Noted Actors Take Parts.

A few key persons—Jacob Ben-Ami, John Garfield, and Burgess Meredith, who had important speaking parts—were brought here from New York, where they took part in the original production of the pageant. Ernest Byfield was executive chairman of the committee which planned the Chicago performance.

The pageant opened with an eloquent prayer for the Jews of Europe—"a great and ancient people dying like a single child on a single bayonet"—and a pledge that the Jews of America, "in the name of the innocent dead and of human honor, will battle forever and without end."

Depict Glories of Race.

Then the ancient glories of the Jews were presented in pageant and speech. Rabbis in their vestments and men bearing the Torah, the scroll of the law, formed the background for the story of how a small and humble eastern tribe once received so blinding a revelation of the moral law that its teachings have determined much of the ethics of the western world. "They [the ancient Jews] wrote that above all the greeds and lusts in the human soul stood goodness and justice."

A great procession of black robed figures carrying candles then wound across the stage while the narrators called the roll of some of the great Jews who as philosophers, writers, scientists, and artists have contributed to the civilization of Europe and America. There were Spinoza, Montaigne, and Bergson; Wasserman, Proust, Heine, and even Bret Harte; Steinmetz, Freud, Ehrlich, and Einstein; Mendelssohn, Bizet, and Saint-Saëns; Horowitz, Heifetz, and Elman; Rosa Bonheur and Picasso and Sarah Bernhardt, and a host of others.

Another part of the script celebrated the heroism with which the Jews who have a flag to fight under have met the horrors of the present war. The story was told of the 22 year old army telegrapher, Irving Strobing from Brooklyn, who, during the last hours of Corregidor, kept tapping hopeful and gay messages out to the world. Also of Maurice Levy, a Chicagoan, who accounted for 25 enemies before he was gravely wounded, and of Hymie Epstein of the medical corps operating in New Guinea, who crept to the wounded under heavy fire again and again until his luck ran out and Jap bullets tore into his body.

Underlying the pageant was the prayer that the allied nations, and especially the United States, raise such an outcry at the Hitler program for the extermination of the Jews that even the Nazis themselves would be cowed by it.

Sees Nippon Dams as Easy Bomb Targets

Japs Warn Russia

New York, May 19 (AP).—The British radio reported today that the Tokio radio had warned soviet Russia against placing Siberian bases at the disposal of the United States. The British broadcast said that as a result of American advances on Attu Island, the Japanese are showing anxiety over their towns which are liable to be bombed. It also said that if Russia ever puts Siberian bases at the disposal of the United States, the Japanese army will "deal the heaviest blows Russia has ever known."

Milwaukee, Wis., May 19 [Special].—American aviators will have a field day with Japanese dams if they ever get bases close enough to operate against the Nipponese homeland, Dr. William Monroe White, who has installed turbines and hydro-electric equipment thruout the orient, said here today.

[Americans bomb two German U-boat bases; floods from dams broken by R. A. F. continue to spread. Story on page 5.]

Dr. White, formerly manager and chief engineer of the hydraulic department of the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company, praised the blasting of the Moehne and Eder dams in Germany Sunday as "the kind of warfare which strikes home," and said Japan will be particularly vulnerable to doses of the same medicine.

"Japan must have approximately 100 dams equipped with hydro-electric plants," he said. "Japan is one of the wettest countries in the world and has developed her water power tremendously because of her lack of coal."

Asserting that the power needs of industries producing guns, tanks and planes are about two and one-half kilowatt hours for each hour of employé labor, Dr. White said the destruction of Japan's hydro-electric power sources would have a crippling effect on her war production.

"The power house, with its turbine and generator equipment, is the most vulnerable part of a hydro-electric installation," he said. "It takes nine months to replace a turbine or generator because they first have to be cast, then machined and then assembled."

He urged prompt help to our Chinese allies and stressed the necessity of getting them plenty of planes.

WHY NOT FIGHT TO WIN BURMA? CHANDLER ASKS

BY JOHN FISHER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 19.—Sen. Albert B. Chandler [D., Ky.], most outspoken advocate in the senate of beating Japan first, tonight took exception to certain statements made by British Prime Minister Winston Churchill in his speech to congress. Chandler pressed his demands for early vigorous action against the Japanese.

Sen. A. B. Chandler.

Chandler was warmly congratulated earlier today by his colleagues for being the first senator to cause a British prime minister to take the floor of congress to answer, as they expressed it, criticism from congress. They were cheered that the debate on Monday questioning the Roosevelt-Churchill war strategy caused so much concern.

Military Backing Seen.

According to reliable information, Chandler's attack on war strategy on that occasion had the support and encouragement of high military officials. Chandler denied reports that the White House knew he was going to make the speech, saying, at least, it was not informed thru him.

In his words of comment tonight on the prime minister's address the senator said that Mr. Churchill made "a brilliant and persuasive speech" but asserted that he still disagrees with the prime minister's position that the defeat of Germany is of primary importance and that the defeat of Japan would follow inevitably.

"Mr. Churchill did not explain why the great armies of air and naval forces now marshaled, as he said, by Great Britain on the eastern frontiers of India, had not made a more effective attempt to open the Burma road," said the senator in rebuttal.

Difficulties Unminimized.

Commenting upon the Churchill statement that "logistics" explains the difficulty of pressing attacks on the Japanese, Chandler said that he doesn't minimize the difficulties involved "but some more complication than the science of logistics should be incurred before this important move is absolutely prevented."

"The facts are that this large British army in India has been held off for some time by a far greatly inferior Japanese army. The prime minister and his government can avoid any suspicion that anything is being held back by making use, along with us, of every facility at his command to speedily relieve Burma so that the brave and noble Chinese people can be given the help without which they cannot continue successfully in the war."

Chandler also disagreed with the prime minister's suggestion that the major part of American army forces is now deployed on the Pacific fronts.

Calls Japan First Enemy.

The Kentucky senator added that it will take a great deal more than air power to reduce Japan, which he termed the "primary enemy of the American people and at this moment the greatest enemy to the peace of the world."

He said that Mr. Churchill cast no light on what support the United States and Britain can expect from Russia against Japan or on Russia's post-war plans. Japan is consolidating gains and becoming harder to beat while Germany is stopped, he asserted.

CIGAR'S A CIGAR EVEN ON FLOOR —TO CHURCHILL

Washington, D. C., May 19 (AP).—Prime Minister Churchill figures a good cigar is a smoke and what if he did drop it.

The British premier had one of his famous stogies jammed into his jaw as he emerged from luncheon at the senate foreign relations committee room today. Somebody jostled him a little and the cigar fell to the tile floor.

The chubby premier bent quickly and grabbed it up.

PULVERIZE JAPS AFTER HITLER: CHURCHILL VOW

Explains Strategy to Congress.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 19.—In the presence of congress, the cabinet, and the Supreme court, Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain today solemnly and impressively pledged the British empire to war upon Japan side by side with the United States "while there is breath in our bodies and while blood flows in our veins."

He promised that British air power will be joined with American to bomb the cities and war industries of Japan and jutting out that famous pugnacious jaw he added:

"In ashes they must surely lie before peace comes to the world."

Speaks Nearly Hour.

In the course of a speech of nearly an hour at a joint session of the house and senate the prime minister, with the eloquence and disarming frankness for which he is renowned, defended the Churchill-Roosevelt strategy which calls for the defeat of Hitler first and then the conquest of Japan. This strategy, he said, is founded upon the judgment of the President and the prime minister and their military advisers that "while the defeat of Japan would not mean the defeat of Germany, the defeat of Germany would infallibly mean the ruin of Japan."

Adheres to "Hitler First."

The prime minister left no doubt in the minds of his audience that this strategy will be confirmed by the current White House conference as the guiding policy of the British and American governments, possibly with provision for some additional diversion of allied resources to the far east. He made no commitment regarding an invasion of Europe beyond saying that with possibly a new German offensive against Russia impending "we must do everything in our power that is sensible and practicable to take more of the weight off Russia in 1943."

Mr. Churchill was accompanied to the capitol by the members of his staff and British Ambassador Halifax, whose son, Lt. Richard Wood, who lost his legs in North Africa, sat in uniform in his wheel chair at the rear of the assemblage. Among those who paid their respects to Lt. Wood was Rep. William J. Miller [R., Conn.], who lost his legs in the first World war and attends the house in a wheel chair.

Carries the Day.

Looking down upon the scene from the executive gallery were Edward Windsor, the former King Edward VIII. of Great Britain, and his wife, who upon their appearance received an ovation equaling the greeting of the prime minister by American officialdom.

Facing a congress shot thru with doubt of the wisdom of the Churchill-Roosevelt strategy and clamoring for an immediate all-out offensive against Japan, the prime minister came to the joint session as he frequently has confronted a hostile opposition in his own parliament—and carried the day. He was every inch the veteran parliamentary campaigner, speaking with only occasional reference to notes and employing all the arts of persuasion, a captivating personality whose serious discourse now and then was illuminated by shafts of humor that brought down the house.

His performance thruout measured up to the most redoubtable exploits of the man who has made himself the dominating figure on the allied side. Again and again storms of applause and cheers swept the chamber as he drove home his points.

In his defense of Anglo-American strategy Mr. Churchill was palpably answering Sen. Albert B. Chandler [D., Ky.], who led the critics in the senate last Monday in their demands for reversal of the policy with a view to defeating Japan first. Sen. Chandler sat in the front row of senators and applauded as much as any the prime minister's pledges

2 YANK FORCES MEET ON ATTU; JAPS IN POCKET

Face Fight to Death at Chichagof Harbor.

Washington, D. C., May 19 (AP).—Advancing United States troops tonight were reported to be driving Japanese forces on Attu Island into a pocket around Chichagof harbor, where they can only surrender or fight to the death.

The Aleutians trap set up last week by two American landing parties, one of which drove into Attu from the north and the other from the south, has been closed, a navy communique said today. Forward patrols of the two units met south of Holtz bay.

The Japanese positions on the bay's southeastern arm have been rendered virtually untenable, and while the exact course of the battle was not clear it was considered possible that the Japanese would draw most of their strength back to Chichagof.

Clear Pass of Japs.

A navy communique disclosed three developments:

1. Tuesday morning the American northern force was in possession of a high ridge southeast of Holtz bay.

2. The southern force which had landed on the shores of Massacre bay advanced northward during the day thru a pass which was held by enemy troops. Advance patrols from the Holtz and Massacre units joined.

3. Yesterday afternoon the pass was finally cleared of enemy troops, which withdrew toward Chichagof harbor, leaving only snipers behind.

Considerable significance was attached to the fact that the retirement was in the direction of Chichagof harbor rather than toward Holtz bay. The navy said yesterday that the enemy's main installations were in the Holtz bay area. Capture of high ground flanking the Holtz bay positions gave the Americans advantageous positions from which to pour heavy fire upon the Japanese.

Take Anti-Aircraft Guns.

Today's communique reported the capture of several three inch anti-aircraft guns which were promptly turned upon the Japanese. There was no mention of aerial activity.

The positions at Chichagof, like those at Holtz bay, are subject to bombardment by guns of American war ships.

The bulletin also reported on operations in the South Pacific. United States divebombers attacked the Japanese seaplane base at Rekata bay on Santa Ysabel Island in the Solomons Monday.

Ration Boards Get Names of 243 Speeders Fined

Names of 242 motorists arrested for speeding have been transmitted to their local rationing boards in Chicago and one to his Blue Island board, for possible revocation of their gasoline rationing books, Michael F. Mulcahy, OPA metropolitan rationing director, announced yesterday. An additional 44 names were sent to the OPA office yesterday by Judge Gibson E. Gorman in Traffic court.

REDS ROUT NAZIS IN KUBAN; SINK 14 BOATS OF TROOPS

LONDON, May 20 [Thursday] (AP).—Red army troops shattered two Nazi attacks in the Caucasus on Wednesday, killing nearly 350 troops and blasting 14 boatloads of Nazis attempting to retreat over the Kuban river, Russia announced early today.

Another tank-led German thrust northeast of Novorossisk against the soviet lines throttling the Nazis' Caucasian bridgehead also was halted, with the enemy losing 150 dead.

Another Moscow broadcast reported more than 500 German planes had been downed in air combats in the last three weeks in the Caucasus.

Violent actions over the rest of the front cost the Germans 600 more dead on Wednesday, the midnight war bulletin said, with 300 annihilated on the Smolensk front west of Moscow.

[The Germans yesterday said that on the Kuban bridgehead and in the Izyum area [of the Donetz front] the Russians had launched attacks, but were repulsed.]

Chinese Battle to Keep Japs Out of 'Rice Bowl'

CHUNGKING, China, May 19 (AP).—Severe fighting is continuing in the Taungting lake area or north Hunan province where the Japanese seek to break into China's "rice bowl," and the enemy has been fought to a standstill at the outskirts of the key highway town of Tsingshih, a Chinese high command communique announced today. On the eastern side of the Taiheng mountains the Chinese captured the north Honon towns of Linhsien and Hochih.

HINT SOME CUTS MAY BE PASSAGE PRICE OF PEGGED LEVY BILLS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 19.—It was predicted today in Republican legislative circles that Cook county taxing units will have to accept some cuts in order to pass their bills for pegged tax levies. These units are asking more money in most instances, besides requesting that the pegged levies be made permanent.

Clayton F. Smith, Cook county board president, defended the requests today before the house committee on municipalities. The county wants higher pegged levies of $10,800,000 for even numbered years and $9,600,000 for odd numbered years. It also wants authority to issue about $9,000,000 in bonds to pay debts.

"Taxes for county corporate activities in recent years [until 1942] have shown a declining trend," Smith said.

The Chicago board of education at tonight's session of the house brought in its pegged levy bill calling for a permanent peg of $56,000,000 a year, an increase of $4,000,000 over the present levy. The school board joined with Cook county, the sanitary district, and the Chicago park district in seeking a showdown fight to extend the pegged levy system.

BRIGADIER TO PRIVATE TO FRONT.

OTTAWA, Ont., May 19.—A brigadier in the Canadian army has resigned his commission and gone overseas as a private. He is J. A. Leclaire, who had been accused of conduct unbecoming to an officer. At his own request he was allowed to resign his commission so that he might enlist in the ranks for overseas service.

GERMANS ADOPT SCORNED FRENCH INVASION GUARD

Build Atlantic Wall Like Maginot Line.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, May 19 (AP).—With invasion threatening, Adolf Hitler and his military advisers have switched to the Maginot line complex which they once scorned and held partly responsible for France's fall.

The Atlantic wall, stretching from northern Norway to southern France, is termed by German war reporters "the greatest defense wall of all time," superior to the west wall Hitler built opposite the Maginot line. Construction still is going on after three years. As fast as fortifications are completed troops take up posts and engage in anti-invasion drills.

British Know About Defenses.

Pictures of the Atlantic wall are being published by the Nazis regularly to convince the Germans of the impregnability of the European fortress. The photos reveal it has the same characteristics as the west wall.

The Germans contend Hitler benefited by the weakness of the Maginot line in planning the flexible west wall and also has incorporated the costly lessons which the Russians taught him in the east.

"Experiences gained in the east in street and house fighting have been exploited," one German war reporter wrote.

Turn Houses Into Forts.

Photographs seem to verify that. The Germans have bricked in all openings on first and second story levels of houses and stores in the evacuated channel coast towns. Thus the invader is deprived of the protection of doorways and house interiors while the Germans can use them as forts.

"One next to another, with overlapping fields of fire, nests of resistance stretch along the whole Atlantic front with their fast firing cannon, light and heavy machine guns, grenade and flame throwers, and mine fields," a German correspondent wrote.

"Behind them are army batteries and between them are heavy coastal batteries. Far behind this deeply coördinated advance defense system reserves are waiting."

SHARE OR SLASH SALES TAX, CITY CLUB DEMANDS

Receipts from the state sales tax should be paid in part to county governments or other taxing bodies, with the ultimate end of reducing local tax rates. This was announced yesterday as the policy of the City Club of Chicago.

It was urged that, unless some such use is made of the sales tax money, a reduction to 1 per cent should be made.

New Threat to Bomb Rome! Study Possibility of Surrender

No Pledge Prevents It

LONDON, May 19 (AP).—The royal air force would "not hesitate to bomb Rome if the course of the war should render such action helpful and convenient," Capt. Harold Balfour, undersecretary of state for air, told parliament today.

His statement followed a report from Italy printed in London newspapers that the R. A. F. had dropped leaflets over Rome saying that the city was on the R. A. F. bombing list.

"No assurance or agreement exists of any kind whatsoever that Rome shall not be bombed," Balfour said.

Campaign of Intimidation.

BERNE, Switzerland, May 19.—The press of Italy appeared today to have launched a campaign of intimidation against the people, led by Premier Mussolini's organ, the Popolo d'Italia, which said:

"The war is the paramount objective governing the actions and life of every Italian today. All Italians—and we mean all—must adapt their every movement to the war's imperative demands. Those who do not bend themselves to this principle will be eliminated.

"We will clear up all the dead wood in this elimination process. We will get all the incapable vampires, in short, any one who blocks the road to achievement or hampers our efforts. Let those who fall out of line remember this: We will cleanse the nation of such as they."

Fascist organizations and the Italian police during the past few days have intensified their measures against so-called defeatist elements.

According to a semi-official report, numerous arrests have been made in Turin, Naples, and Milan, particularly among economic, cultural, and political groups accused of anti-Fascism.

Fear Country's Doom

Washington, D. C., May 19 [Special].—Questions regarding terms of Italy's surrender, which were asked for the first time in the Italian press yesterday, were regarded here today as significant of the growing realization by Italians of the doom facing their country and its régime, but not as signs of an immediate collapse of Italian resistance.

It was authoritatively indicated the terms that would be offered to Italy would be unconditional surrender and allied military occupation of the country for probably a prolonged period. This, it was said, would involve the disappearance of the Fascist régime with which neither Washington nor London would have any dealings.

Two Classes of People.

Some persons believe it would be advisable to make it clear to the Italian people that, while insisting upon surrender of the Italian fighting forces and entry of allied forces into Italy, the allies do not place the Italian people in the same category of guilt as the Germans and would assist them to recover the control of their own destinies after the downfall of Fascist power, which has chained Italy to the Nazis.

Only President Roosevelt or Prime Minister Churchill, it is believed, could make such a declaration of allied intentions. If made, it was said, it would amount to an invitation to the Italians to overthrow the Fascist régime and thus hasten Italy's exit from the war.

Churchill's statement in his address to congress today that from North Africa allied air power would deliver "violent attacks" on "the whole of Italy" was taken as indicating the necessity of further punishment to bring about an Italian collapse.

F. D. R. NOTE TO STALIN FLOWN TO MOSCOW BY FORMER U. S. ENVOY

MOSCOW, May 19 (AP).—A letter from President Roosevelt to Premier Josef Stalin today arrived in a brief case carried by former Ambassador Joseph E. Davies on his second mission to Moscow.

Davies will be in Moscow only a short time and probably will carry back to Washington a letter from Stalin to Roosevelt in reply.

Davies completed the last leg of his aerial postman's journey half around the world on a hop from the alternate capital of Kuibyshev with an escort of five soviet fighter planes.

Dutch Girls to Give Tulips with War Bonds Today

Girls of Netherlands descent, wearing colorful Dutch costumes, will celebrate Holland Tulip day at the Treasury center, 105 West Adams street, today by selling war bonds. Each purchaser will get a tulip, but the tulips, because of the unseasonable weather, will be artificial.

F. D. R., CHURCHILL REPORTED EASING POLE-RED SPLIT

LONDON, May 19 (AP).—Reliable circles today said that during the Churchill-Roosevelt discussions in Washington, D. C., progress had been made on a formula for solution of the Polish-Russian dispute. These sources indicated a formula acceptable to the Poles had been evolved.

There were definite indications, however, that the Poles have no intention of changing the structure of their government in exile, which the Russians have criticized.

Russia suspended diplomatic relations with Poland after the latter asked the International Red Cross to investigate a German story of an alleged mass murder of Poles near Smolensk.

VAST CROP RUIN RIDING FLOODS THRU 6 STATES

22,000 Flee Homes Before Onrush.

Surging waters from rivers and streams in midwestern states overflowed into farm and bottom lands yesterday, ruining crops, inundating parts of cities, covering highways, and driving at least 22,000 persons out of their homes.

At least nine persons were reported drowned—five in Indiana, three in Missouri, and one in Oklahoma—as troops, coast guardsmen, militia, and civilian workers labored to bulwark levees and protect war plants menaced by the rising waters in the 500 mile wide zone.

See Light Rain Today.

The weather bureau last night predicted light rain for Chicago again today, but said the rain this afternoon probably would not be so heavy as it was yesterday. The northern and central parts of Illinois will get little or no rainfall but central and southern Illinois, where high waters are causing the heaviest damage in the state, are expected to have moderate to "locally heavy" rainfall, the bureau said.

In the Chicago area a fall of .33 of an inch by 10 p. m. brought the monthly total of rain to 5.06 inches, or 3 inches above normal. Yesterday's showers made it the 16th day of rain in the month, the fourth wettest in the weather bureau records.

100,000 Crop Acres Lost.

Rain has destroyed at least 100,000 acres of corn, wheat, and oats in Illinois alone, and is seriously threatening food production thruout the high water belt.

Indiana, Missouri, Illinois, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Kansas appeared to be the states most heavily hit by high waters.

Many central and southern Illinois communities were hard hit. Vandalia, Mount Carmel, Carmi, New Haven, and bottom lands in Jackson county were heavy sufferers. A 28 foot crest on the Wabash river at Mount Carmel was expected, a foot higher than the record waters of 1937, and a threat to the city's water plant.

Dr. Roland Cross, Illinois director of public health, recommended mass immunization against typhoid fever in the high water areas and the boiling of all drinking water.

Red Cross Shelters 2,000.

Roy Wingate, director of the Red Cross disaster relief headquarters at St. Louis, estimated that 10,000 persons were homeless in Illinois and that his organization was sheltering 2,000 of them and working in 20 counties.

One hundred families were evacuated near Peoria, where the Illinois river reached a 23.77 foot level. Flood level there is 22 feet. Workers hurled sand bags into a leaking dike threatening the Caterpillar Tractor company war plant on the Illinois river, and the R. G. Le Tourneau company war plant on the same river also was threatened.

Highways were under water east and north of Springfield, and an Illinois terminal railroad bridge was washed out at Riverton, forcing Springfield war workers to detour 50 miles to reach war plants 20 miles away.

Surge Threatens Levee.

Water was a foot deep in some Liverpool homes. The Mississippi river showed a 32 foot reading from Chester to Grand Tower, causing alarm from Chester to East Cape Girardeau. Grand Tower residents said 35 feet of water would tax the levee system in Jackson county, protecting 45,000 acres of land. From Gorham to Cora, along the Mississippi, 40,000 acres of crop land were inundated. At Granite City 500 soldiers and civilians were patroling levees.

At Pana, in Christian county, the Kaskaskia river and eight tributaries were out of their banks, washing out more than 40 highway and county road bridges. Beardstown's city council ordered 30,000 sandbags prepared and ordered the main bridge across the Illinois river closed because of high water.

THOMAS M. LYONS.

HERO'S HERO, 57, TO GET TRIBUNE WAR JOB AWARD

Navy Says Tom Lyons Keeps Carrier Going.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Every day since last September, at 7 a. m. or earlier, a thin, wiry man near 60 has boarded a boat at the naval armory to be taken to the aircraft carrier Wolverine. Many times in the dark of wintry days a gale was blowing and the snow was so thick you couldn't see 10 feet ahead. When the Wolverine was reached, he had to stand up in the pitching boat to clutch a Jacob's ladder and climb aboard the carrier.

Climbing a Jacob's ladder—a sailor's fancy name for a rope ladder—is tricky under the best of circumstances, but in stormy weather the climber frequently gets a dunking. Once on the Wolverine, there was hard work for this eager patriot until late in the evening, frequently until midnight, seven days a week. Overtime was something for the younger men to shout about—all the thin, wiry man wanted was to help Uncle Sam win the war.

Gets Reward Tonight.

So tonight Thomas M. Lyons—born 57 years ago in the stock yards district of Chicago—will be presented with THE TRIBUNE'S War Workers' Award for April for "unusual devotion to duty." Presentation of the gold diamond studded pin symbolical of the award will be made by Capt. R. L. Bowman, skipper of the Wolverine, in a radio ceremony to be broadcast at 7 o'clock this evening over radio station W-G-N.

Tom Lyons is a civilian worker employed by a civilian company, Gallaher & Speck, Inc., Chicago piping firm founded in 1886. He was born on Halsted street, near 37th, and lives with his family at 6441 South Aberdeen street. He and his wife, Lillian, have four children, Robert T., a soldier; June, Mary, and Jack, now a student at Loyola, who leaves for military duty in June. Tom is a member of local 597, Steamfitters' Protective association. His father was born in England and his mother in Ireland.

Nominated by Skipper.

Capt. Bowman, who nominated Tom, has the highest praise for his efforts.

"Let me remind you of the vital importance of the work in training carrier pilots that the Wolverine is doing here on Lake Michigan," he said in his letter suggesting Tom. "When these young men leave the Wolverine, they have received the final polish and jewel-like luster without which they never could sparkle as they have in combat the world over, for it is on the Wolverine's broad decks that they learn to land and take off.

"The Wolverine is a lady, but not a young lady, and her joints creak and her pipes are throaty, and she requires constant and particular care to keep to the sea and keep those young pilots streaming to the front. In that regard Tom's record is perfect.

"We of the Wolverine, officers and men alike, with veterans of the Coral sea, Midway, and Pearl Harbor among us, concur in this: Tom Lyons is a fighting man, with a fighter's heart and his weight in the war effort is the weight of a squadron of fighting planes, and to him we pay tribute as such.

"To quote Shakespeare:

> 'And we are rich in having such a jewel
> As Twenty Seas, if all
> Their sands were pearl,
> Their waters nectar,
> And their rocks pure gold.'"

Tom, who has been a steamfitter in Chicago all his life, gives this advice to war workers:

"Just keep plugging until it's over. Everybody should stay on the job, sick or well. There's no place for absenteeism."

7 DIE IN CRASH OF ARMY PLANE NEAR ITS BASE

Charleston, S. C., May 19 (AP).—The Charleston army air base announced today that three officers and four enlisted men were killed in the crash of their airplane on a routine flight near the base early yesterday. The victims included: 1st Lt. John S. Dreher Jr., Madison, Wis.; Flight Officer Joseph W. Lewis, Decatur, Tex., and Staff Sergt. Frederick Rentner Jr., Trenton, N. J.

Illinois Flyer Killed.

San Antonio, Tex., May 19 (AP).—Capt. John L. Robinson, 24 years old, of Jacksonville, Ill., was killed late yesterday when his pursuit plane crashed on a routine cross country flight, Kelly field officials said today. Capt. Robinson was based at an army air field at Smyrna, Tenn. His plane fell and burned seven miles south of Kelly field shortly after taking off.

Michigan Cadet Dies.

Courtland, Ala., May 19 (AP).—Cadets Stanley T. Smith, 26 years old, Byron, Mich., and Olin A. Stafford, 25, Memphis, Tenn., were injured fatally yesterday in the crash of their army training plane near Gadsden, Ala., the Courtland air base public relations office announced today.

Training Ships Collide.

Marianna, Fla., May 19 (AP).—A collision between two army training planes here killed aviation cadet Lloyd R. Coffman of Akron, O. Cadet Harold C. Cobb parachuted to safety.

REVEAL 10 STORY LEAPER ESCAPED WITH BRUISES

Physicians at St. Luke's hospital expressed amazement yesterday after preliminary X-rays revealed that Robert McDonald, 33 years old, had suffered no broken bones in his 10 story leap Tuesday from a window of the First National Bank building, 38 South Dearborn street. Attempting to evade arrest on charges of failure to pay a Milwaukee hotel bill, McDonald jumped from the 14th floor and landed on a fourth floor skylight.

McDonald suffered only numerous bruises and cuts on his body, the physicians said, and would recover. They termed his escape from possible fatal injuries "a miracle of God."

A guard watched over McDonald in the hospital yesterday to prevent any further attempts at suicide. The injured man was secretary to Washington Porter II., art collector and former secretary of the American legation in Copenhagen, who himself is held in a Jacksonville [Fla.] jail awaiting trial on a charge of failure to pay a hotel bill.

Miss O'Connor, known as the "flyingest woman in the world," has flown for approximately 2,500,000 miles. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John James O'Connor of 1423 Warner avenue, Miss O'Connor obtained her nurse's training at St. Francis hospital, Evanston.

RENEW EAST'S BAN ON DRIVING FOR PLEASURE

Washington, D. C., May 19 (AP).—The office of price administration tonight reinstated the eastern ban on pleasure driving, "to meet a gasoline supply crisis resulting from the tremendously increased military demands, and to assure adequate gasoline for farm production of food."

The ban is effective at noon tomorrow in New England, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, eight western counties of West Virginia, and the District of Columbia.

"Every effort will be made to detect violators and not only to revoke their present rations but to suspend their right to any further rations for the duration, or for an appreciable time," OPA said.

ZONING ADOPTED TO SPEED CITY MAIL DELIVERY

Chicagoans Urged to Use Number in Address.

(Maps on back page.)

Postmaster Ernest J. Kruetgen yesterday asked all Chicagoans to add new numbers to their mailing addresses.

To speed the handling of mail, the postmaster said the city had been divided into 50 zones and the zone number should henceforth be added to the address, thus:

John Doe, 240 North Michigan avenue, Chicago 11, Ill.

The postmaster said carriers would inform householders of the district in which they reside and the postoffice will examine firms' mailing lists and add the zone numbers.

Kruetgen said that while mail would be delivered whether it had the zone number or not, firms would be asked to change their address lists to include the numbers.

Tried in Last War.

The zone number system, he said, was tried in Chicago during the last war but was abandoned. In Europe it has been used for several years.

"We plan to keep the zone system after this war," the postmaster said. "Firms therefore are justified in going to some expense to correct their mailing lists."

About 1,000 men are needed to separate the 3¼ million pieces of mail handled on an average day into the 50 subpostoffice zones, he said. These sorters need three years' training and then are required to handle only 16 pieces per minute to pass tests in obtaining their jobs.

Sorters Lack Knowledge.

Because a tenth of the postal staff has changed since the war began, he said, the number of experienced sorters is inadequate and inexperienced men, who have to consult maps while sorting the mail, are retarding deliveries.

Three suburbs, Elmwood Park, Cicero, and Evergreen Park, which are handled by the Chicago postoffice, will be included in the 50 city zones. In Evanston Postmaster Fred C. Lindstrom announced that the city will have no zone boundaries, but zone numbers will be allocated to the 66 carrier routes in the city. Other Illinois cities adopting zone systems are Bloomington, Moline, Rockford, Decatur, Mount Morris, Springfield, and Peoria.

FOSS WATCHES JAP SHIPS FALL; PLEASANT SIGHT

Leader, Annoyed, Gets Four in Hurry.

[The Tribune today presents the fifth instalment of a thrilling narrative of the war—the personal story, told here for the first time, of Capt. Joseph J. Foss, the fighting marine from South Dakota who leads all American pilots of the war with a bag of 26 enemy planes.]

BY CAPT. JOSEPH J. FOSS.
As told to Walter Simmons.
[Copyright: 1943: By The Chicago Tribune.]

It wasn't always easy to sleep on Guadalcanal, tired tho we always were. On the night of Oct. 16, for example, some crazy Jap swept so low over the field that his rear gunner was able to strafe with a machine gun, doing little damage but being a great nuisance as far as sleep was concerned.

His plane sounded just like a popcorn machine. While this boob was flying around shooting, everybody ran out of the tents and cut loose at him from foxholes with pistols or anything. It was the funniest thing I ever heard of in my life—this Jap plane flying around in the dark all alone at low altitude and everybody shooting at it. I was in the shack when it started, but got out of there in short order.

A little later two more planes came over and dropped bombs. One 500 pounder landed about 10 feet ahead of my parked plane, but did little damage except for one queer thing. A flying fragment cut off my throttle handle.

Forage for Gasoline.

I took off on a morning mission to strafe the valley in which the Japs had been concentrating supplies west of Henderson field. We flew within a few feet of the trees so the anti-aircraft was unable to get any bead on us. Our dive bombers spotted and destroyed several AA positions with the loss of only one plane.

After returning to the field to regas and reload, we strafed landing barges all along the beach so they could not be used again. When our .50 caliber bullets hit, they knock big holes.

We were extremely low on gasoline and resorted to all means of getting it, including the draining of wrecked airplanes. Toward evening all the flyers were happy, because a gas barge was pulling in, and a squadron commanded by Col. Joe Bauer, Coronado, Cal., was coming to help us.

The colonel's squadron had flown from another island as evening was approaching, and his boys were landing when a thing happened that plunged us into bitter gloom.

Behind a Beard

(Story in adjoining column.)

Capt. Joe Foss of the marines wearing the beard he cultivated while knocking Japanese planes out of the sky over Guadalcanal.

Goodby Gas Barge.

Most of the planes were on the ground already when Jap dive bombers were sighted in full dive, coming down to hit the gas barge.

The third plane down made a direct hit—which was the end of the barge. Then the remainder of the bombers came on in.

Col. Bauer was so incensed he raced after them alone and shot down four in quick succession, almost as quickly as you read these words. This feat was accomplished in full view of most of us on the field, and at an altitude of only a few hundred feet.

Our precious gasoline was lost, but the quick avenging guns of Col. Bauer made us feel a little better. He was such a dynamic leader that when he landed and gave us a short pep talk we got our chins off our chests and were ready to go again.

Next morning the flight led by Maj. Leonard [Duke] Davis, of Coronado, Cal., went up and knocked down eight dive bombers and four Zeros within a few minutes. I slept late, but went out in time to watch the Jap planes falling—a sight we never tired of. One of our boys didn't come back.

Tragedy Mars Takeoff.

My job came later when I took a late evening patrol to strafe hell out of the Jap camps. No shells were fired at us as we came in for a surprise attack over the mountains.

Bitter tragedy marred our next takeoff. As we went up on an interception Lt. Edward P. [Andy] Andrews, the little powerhouse from Liberty, Neb., lost control of his plane, crashed into a parked plane, and was killed. I don't need to tell how we felt at a time like that. Maybe it was a good thing we had to keep right on going to attack.

Due to the accident, two of the boys—Lt. William Marontate, Seattle, Wash., and Lt. Cecil Doyle, Marshall, Minn., were delayed in taking off, and were a little behind the other five of us. We circled and kept scissoring [circling and turning in toward each other] back and forth while waiting for them to join us.

Marontate and Doyle were a couple of thousand feet below. On one turn I noticed there were five planes below now—not two. On closer view I could see three of them were Zeros. They were flying a few feet behind the marine planes with the apparent idea of knocking off those two planes and then any others they could surprise.

Three Zeros Polished Off.

We slid gently down behind them and started shooting. I picked the Zero farthest to the left. My first tracers set him afire, and he tipped over into a spin and went in.

Marontate and Doyle didn't know they were in danger till our tracers went by their ears. They turned, but already the rest of us had polished off the three Zeros.

Then came other Zeros from above, precipitating a general dogfight. The prospective victim I selected was tough—I couldn't get behind him. I shot at him from the side and the bullets looked as if they were going into the cockpit. But apparently they went in back of the motor somewhere, for he started smoking. Whether he went down or not I do not know, because I jumped immediately into action with another Zero.

Battle with Bombers.

The second time we approached headon, I held my fire until he was close in, and he pulled up. As he did so, I had barely shot at him before he burst into flames. He did a tight wingover, blazing fiercely, and I pulled off and saw him far below, going down in flames. There were other Zeros, too, down there smoking.

I looked off in the distance and saw the bombers we were expecting. They were what we called Type I—twin motored jobs resembling our B-25s somewhat. I climbed to meet them on a 180 degree course and made a run on the right rear bomber—the one on the right of the "V." As I came down in a vertical dive, making my run and ready to shoot, he suddenly blew up. One of his tanks had exploded, tho I had not fired a single shot. I later found that Ensign "Red" Thrash, a navy pilot, had got him.

I pulled thru the pieces, moved up and shot at the next bomber in the echelon. By that time I was too close for anything but a short burst, which started smoke but produced no fire or explosion.

Lands Out of Gas.

Then I dove and came up under the left leg of the V formation, taking a belly shot at the last plane in line. It was a direct hit which caused an explosion and fire on the left motor. I was right under him, my nose pointing straight up and the plane almost in a complete stall. It was impossible to miss. It was like pointing a pistol straight up in a room—you couldn't fail to hit the ceiling.

He went down at a 45 degree angle. Bombers all go down the same way when you get them. There's a big burst of fire, then it dies down, goes whoooosh! again, dies down and repeats. Pretty soon a wing drops off and the bomber goes into a hopeless spin.

This one plunged into the water between Henderson field and Tulagi, right in the middle of the channel. It went right on in full tilt, but three Japs out of the crew of six or seven lived. They didn't even have a scratch on them—nobody could figure it out.

I returned to the field, ammunition gone, with Zeros in hot pursuit. I landed out of gas.

That flight cost us. Andrews had been killed at the takeoff.

ORO BAY RAIDED BY JAP PLANES, ONE SHOT DOWN

ALLIED HDQS. IN AUSTRALIA, May 20 [Thursday], (AP).—The Japanese, continuing their resurgence of air activity, raided Oro bay, New Guinea, 50 miles south of Buna, yesterday. Nine were in the raiding party and anti-aircraft downed one. The raiders dropped 20 bombs which today's communique said fell "in the water, causing no damage or casualties."

Between Buna and Oro bay the Japanese sent a small force of planes which ineffectively bombed Douglas harbor.

Allied heavy bombers attacked the Gasmata airdrome and harbor area on the southern tip of New Britain and the dispersal areas and supply dumps at Cape Gloucester. Two Japanese planes were destroyed and two damaged on the ground and three were shot down in an allied raid on Koepang, Dutch Timor. Three allied planes are missing.

AIR STRENGTH OF JAPS IS 2 TO 1, SAYS COLONEL

Washington, D. C., May 19 (AP).—Japanese air strength in New Britain has been practically doubled in the last five months, Col. Frederic H. Smith reported today, estimating the enemy now has roughly a 2 to 1 numerical superiority over the allies in the southwest Pacific.

Smith, chief of staff of the 5th air force and commander of the Buna air task force, played a leading part in planning the battle of the Bismark sea March 2 and 3.

YANKS DROP 100 TONS OF BOMBS ON FOE IN BURMA

Tenth Air Force Strikes Its Biggest Blow.

NEW DELHI, India, May 19 (AP).—American bombers dropped more than 100 tons of bombs on Japanese supply bases and communications in eastern Burma on Tuesday, the heaviest weight of bombs ever delivered by the force in a single day.

Liberators "in strength" struck the Japanese with 67 tons of bombs, and medium bombers "operating in coördination increased the total tonnage to well in excess of 100 tons for the day," a 10th air force communique announced today. Points attacked were a supply center at Minbu, northwest of Magwe, railroad installations at Prome, Thayetmyo, 60 miles southeast of Magwe, Lanywa on the Irrawaddy river, and Chauk.

Two Attacks on Minbu.

All the American planes and crews returned safely from the destructive raids, which smashed enemy supply stocks, fuel dumps, and railroad installations, leaving fires and smoke visible for 50 to 100 miles.

The communique said "two heavy bomber formations concentrated their attack on the supply center at Minbu, five miles northwest of Magwe. The majority were direct hits on large installations in the central section.

British Kill 23 Japs.

"The second flight reports similar destructive effect. Another heavy formation pin-pointed its attack on railroad installations at Prome. Tracks, rolling stock and warehouses were destroyed. A large fire burned furiously."

The British raids harried enemy water transport along the coastal area of Burma from the Mayu river to Sandoway, destroying at least 12 Sampans.

British troops killed 23 Japanese and took two more prisoner in skirmishes in the Taung Bazaar area and in northern Burma near Sumprabum.

Tells Dutch: Germany to Be Hell of Bombs Soon

LONDON, May 19 (AP).—Pieter S. Gerbrandy, Netherlands premier, tonight broadcast to his countrymen from London a warning to stay away from Germany. He said Germany would be made a "hell" of "incendiaries and explosive bombs in the coming days."

FLYING FORTS BLAST 2 NAZI U-BOAT BASES

Rip Kiel and Flensburg; 6 Bombers Lost.

LONDON, May 19 (AP).—Newly reenforced American Flying Fortress units smashed thru a heavy German fighter screen today to set consuming fires in the Kiel and Flensburg submarine yards of northwestern Germany.

Flying 1,000 miles unescorted, the big bombers knocked down many of the challenging fighters during a two hour running battle from which six bombers failed to return.

"Bombing results were good," said the headquarters announcement. "Both targets were left in flames."

Tens of thousands of incendiaries were reported dropped on the two targets in one of the largest fire bombing operations ever made by American airmen.

Nazis Use Smokescreen.

At Kiel the Germans put up a defensive smudgepot smokescreen both from land and from ships in the harbor, but it failed to interfere with the attack.

London had two alerts during the night. After the second, gunfire was virtually continuous in one area as enemy planes came over the city for the fourth consecutive night. Bombs were dropped in two places near the Thames estuary. An area in southeast England also was bombed.

There were indications that the R. A. F. was attacking over the continent again, as the Berlin radio went off the air during the night.

Continuation of the air offensive against Germany, now in its eighth day, came while deeping and widening floods added new devastation to the Eder and Mohne valleys in the wake of Sunday's R. A. F. dam attacks.

The Eder floods have reached a point some 50 miles below the breached dam across that river, the air ministry said, and flooded many parts of Kassel.

Mohne Flood Races 30 Miles.

Among the towns which have been flooded by the Eder dam breach, which was reported to be 180 feet across at the crown and 100 feet at the base, are Bergheim, Fritzlar, Wabern, and Gensungen.

Photographs of the Mohne area, it was stated, showed that the floods had rushed thru Neiderense and Neheim, which have a population of 50,000 and tonight had reached Froendenberg and Schwerte, 30 miles from the reservoir.

DNB, German official news agency, listed 711 persons, including 341 prisoners of war, as flood casualties and said 36 still were missing.

A third dam, the Sorpe, which was mined along with the broken Mohne and Eder reservoirs, also was believed to have been weakened and R. A. F. reconnaissance planes were watching it closely for signs of collapse as a result of seepage. The Sorpe dam is six miles south of the Mohne structure at the junction of the Sorpe and Ruhr rivers.

QUASH REPORTS JEW SUGGESTED RAID ON DAMS

LONDON, May 20 [Thursday]—(AP).—All war important objectives in Germany have long since been studied with a view to attack at the most favorable time, the air ministry declared today in a formal statement denying that the bombing of vital German dams originated from suggestions by private citizens.

The statement was made to quash reports that a German-Jewish medical specialist, now a refugee in London, had suggested the attack. The Nazis had threatened reprisals against the Jews because of it.

Declaring that "misleading statements have appeared" about the origin of the raids, the air ministry said "it is true that an attack on the dams was suggested on several occasions by members of the public, but the operation did not in fact originate with any such suggestions."

[A Stockholm dispatch reported that the Gestapo was rounding up Berlin Jews in reprisal for the attack on the dams.]

SEND MORE AID TO MacARTHUR, ROMULO URGES

Col. Carlos P. Romulo, author and one of the last to leave Bataan, last night made a plea for immediate aid to Gen. Douglas MacArthur in a talk to 4,000 delegates assembled in the Palmer House for the 103d convention of the Illinois State Medical society.

He urged an immediate attack on Japan by saying that our armies right now can do much with a little, but later with much war material it may be too late.

"As of tonight the United States is still the defeated nation and Japan is the victor," he said. "It is wishful thinking on the part of Americans to think that Japan cannot stand a war of attrition. Japan has conquered the richest empire that it has ever seen. It has everything it needs in materials and food to prosecute the war. We must strike now."

Dr. Edward H. Weld of Rockford, president of the society, earlier in the day urged the members to take an active part in local, state, and national politics so they could help shape the nation's trend of thought.

Berlin Reports Battle

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

The Berlin radio reported yesterday that units of the German army and the SS [élite guards] have been battling in Jugo-Slavia with "communists and remnants of Serbian groups" under the command of Gen. Draja Mihailovitch for several days.

The broadcast said Croat and Italian detachments also were taking part in the fight in the wild, mountainous districts of southern Bosnia. The Jugo-Slav patriot groups, it was reported, have been making raids against villages and traffic facilities.

The broadcast told of "short, but embittered engagements" in almost continual rainfall and said the "armed bandits" were being "systematically decimated." Three hundred of the patriots were killed in a single encounter, the broadcast said.

OPPOSE PLANS TO HOUSE 135 NEGRO FAMILIES

Rockford, Ill., May 19 [Special].—Members of the Winnebago county housing authority unanimously adopted a resolution last night opposing federal plans to set aside 35 homes for Negro families in the 200 unit victory homes project on Harrison avenue. The housing authority planned to provide living accommodations for 135 Negro families thru use of 35 of the federal homes and 100 government trailers.

324,000 TROOPS LOST BY AXIS IN TUNISIAN DEFEAT

U. S. Planes Pound Sicily and Pantelleria.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, May 19.—Axis losses in man power in the Tunisian defeat totaled 324,000, including 267,000 taken prisoner, 30,000 killed, and 27,000 seriously wounded, it was announced today.

The allied losses have not been disclosed here, but they are reported to have been comparatively light—only a fraction of what the Germans and Italians suffered.

[Prime Minister Churchill yesterday said the Tunisian campaign cost the allies "about 50,000 casualties." He said the African adventures of Hitler and Mussolini had cost the axis 950,000 casualties and the loss of 2,400,000 tons of shipping, 8,000 planes, 6,200 guns, 2,550 tanks, and 70,000 trucks.]

Operations of All Forces.

The figure of 324,000 covers operations of the American 2d corps, the British 1st army, and the French since the beginning of the campaign last November and operations of the British 8th army since the Mareth line break thru late in March. Casualties inflicted by the 8th army in its sweep across Egypt and Libya were not included.

Of the 224,000 axis prisoners seized from May 5 to 18, about 45,000 were gathered in by Americans and the remaining 179,000 by the British.

The casualty and prisoner aggregate was not divided into German and Italian classifications.

Some of the flower of Adolf Hitler's armies were lost to him in Africa. The toll taken by the allies included the powerful Barenthin regiment, elements of the Goering division, and the 10th, 15th, and 21st Panzer [armored] divisions.

French Occupy an Island.

A French headquarters communique announced that French naval forces yesterday occupied the island of La Galite, 25 miles northwest of Cape Serrat off the north Tunisian coast.

American flyers yesterday gave the Italian island of Pantelleria, stepping stone to Sicily, its worst bombing of the war and also heavily attack the Sicilian port of Trapani.

Photographs taken after the Pantelleria raid showed that the 100 tons of bombs dropped caused immense damage, with the warehouse area particularly hard hit. Six merchant ships in Pantelleria harbor were hit, five enemy planes were smashed on the air field, and numerous fires were raging in the dock and warehouse areas.

Flying Fortresses carried on the battering of Sicily itself, blowing up a ship in Trapani harbor and covering docks and railway yards of the base with bomb bursts. Fierce fires burst out in the railway yards, and numerous explosions were seen thruout the town.

Crippled Ships at Gibraltar.

LONDON, May 19 (AP).—The German radio, quoting unconfirmed dispatches from La Linea, Spain, said today that four severely damaged allied freighters had arrived at Gibraltar from the Mediterranean.

CLAIM 27 PLANES DOWNED.

An Italian communique broadcast by the Rome radio said that allied planes, besides attacking Pantelleria and Trapani, also struck at Porto Empedocle in Sicily and at several points near Calabria. The Italians asserted that during the raids the allies lost 27 planes.

The broadcast also asserted that three large steamers in an allied convoy had been holed by Italian torpedo planes off the Algerian coast, and that one of them, a 10,000 ton vessel, was seen to sink.

Tech. Sergt. Harold J. Wellnitz, 28 years old, member of a Flying Fortress bomber crew, died of injuries received May 7 in an airplane accident in the European area, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Wellnitz, 030 Charleston street, were notified yesterday by the war department.

F. N. Balmes.

Wellnitz, a graduate of Lane Technical High school, enlisted in the army the day after the Pearl Harbor attack.

Two other Chicago boys of the same crew were previously reported killed in the crash, their parents said. They were Staff Sergt. Irving Berger of 2142 North Avers avenue and Sergt. Edward Cilhar of 7715 Addison street.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Balmes of Green Bay road, Waukegan township, were notified by the war department yesterday that Flight Officer Frederick N. Balmes, 20 years old, one of five sons in the army, was killed in action in Africa April 25.

REPORT ONLY 2% OF WOUNDED IN NAVY LOSE LIVES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 19.—Only 2.6 per cent of the United States naval and marine personnel wounded in action since Pearl Harbor have died as a result of wounds, the office of war information reported today.

Complete figures are not available for the army, but released information indicates about the same percentage of deaths from wounds prevails there, the report said.

This death rate from wounds is only about 40 per cent of the rate in the first World war, when approximately 7 per cent of American personnel wounded in action died subsequently as a result.

The OWI attributed the lower death rate to improved medical facilities and treatment in combat zones.

LT. COMDR. OLSEN HONORED AFTER DEATH IN TULAGI

News of the posthumous decoration of Lt. Comdr. Earl Kenneth Olsen, 39 years old, one of five brothers, all navy officers as was their father, was received yesterday by the family from Secretary Knox of the Navy and Adm. William F. Halsey. Lt. Comdr. Olsen was killed in action last November in the Solomons and is buried on Tulagi Island. He was born in Waukegan where his mother, widow of Hjalmer Olsen, a retired naval lieutenant, lives at 238 Ridgeland avenue. The surviving brothers are Comdr. Clarence E., Comdr. Charles E., Lt. Comdr. Robert, and Lt. Albert R. Olsen. Lt. Comdr. Olsen's widow, Louise, and a 10 year old adopted son reside in Honolulu.

MOVIE CAMERA STOLEN.

Irving Erickson of 1402 Thome avenue, reported to police yesterday that his movie camera outfit was taken from his car, parked in front of his home.

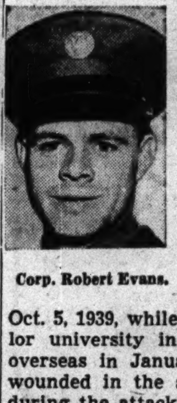
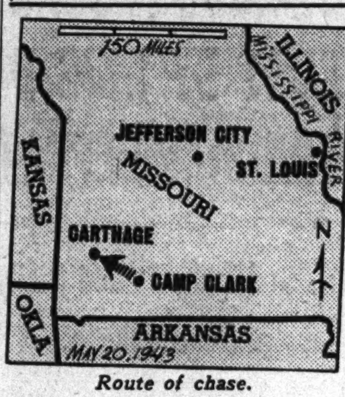
CORPORAL HURT IN PLANE RAID HOME ON VISIT

Corp. Robert Evans, a ground mechanic in the army air forces who was wounded in a Japanese bombing of an American airport in the New Hebrides last Jan. 3, will leave today to resume hospital treatment in Memphis, Tenn., after visiting his mother, Mrs. Catherine Evans. Corp. Evans joined the army Oct. 5, 1939, while a student at Baylor university in Texas. He went overseas in January, 1942. He was wounded in the spine by shrapnel during the attack.



Corp. Robert Evans.

Prisoners Caught



Route of chase.

Camp Clark, Mo., May 19 (AP).—Five Italian prisoners of war were captured in a barn seven miles south of Carthage, Mo., today a few hours after they had escaped from a prison camp here. Highway Patrolman Charles P. Corbin and Ed Bilyeu, an inspector for the Missouri public service commission, trailed them to the barn from the place where they had abandoned a stolen automobile. Unarmed, the men surrendered without resistance.

REVEAL ITALIAN WAR PRISONERS HELD IN INDIANA

Camp Atterbury, Ind., May 19 (AP).—Army officials disclosed officially for the first time today that an internment camp for Italian prisoners of war has been located here and that the Italians would be made available for "necessary agricultural labor."

Col. Welton M. Modisette, post commander, said use of the Italians would be limited at first to farm work in the five counties in an area within approximately 25 miles of the internment camp.

There had been unconfirmed reports that war prisoners had been confined at Atterbury but the announcement regarding farm labor was the first confirmation.

Captives to Be Sent to U. S.

ALLIED HDQS. IN NORTH AFRICA, May 19 (AP).—Some of the 267,000 German and Italian troops captured in Tunisia will be sent to the United States and England. Italians only will be sent to Britain to join others already employed in agriculture labor. Both Germans and Italians will be sent to the United States and some undoubtedly will be used on farms. A portion will be kept in North Africa where some will be used on farms and highway improvement.

Hold Tunisia Victory Services at St. Paul's

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 19.—St. Paul's cathedral in London was crowded this evening for national thanksgiving services commemorating "the victory granted to Britain and her allies in North Africa."

REFUGEES CAN'T BE HELPED MUCH NOW, SAYS EDEN

Denies Britain Has Failed to Give Some Aid.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 19.—While the British government is anxious to do everything possible to ease the refugee problem "within the limits of the war effort," it does not believe that much can be achieved, except to "rescue a few people here and there," until the final victory has been won.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden made this statement in the house of commons today in winding up debate on the refugee problem. He said the government had considered holding the debate secretly, but finally decided on a public hearing, tho this imposed restrictions on what the government could say. The cabinet has finally approved the report on the recent Bermuda refugee conference, but the recommendations cannot yet be made public, he further asserted. He denied that Britain has done nothing to aid refugees and repeated figures given out by Osbert Peake, undersecretary of the home office, showing that 4,000 refugees had arrived in Britain in the last five months.

Ease Neutrals' Burden.

Eden assured commons that the British government has been "making very considerable financial contributions" to ease the burden of refugees costs borne by neutrals and would continue to do so. Nevertheless, he stressed that "until Hitler's power has been overthrown you cannot deal with more than the fringe of the refugee problem."

Earlier in the debate Peake, who was a delegate to the Bermuda conference, had said that the British government would give "special consideration" to refugees who have sons serving in the British or allied forces or mercantile marines. He placed in the same category persons of other than allied nationalities willing and fit enough to join the British forces, and the parents of children under 16 years old who already were here unaccompanied.

M. P.'s Critical of Government.

Among suggestions put forward in the debate by members of parliament, many of whom protested that the government is not handling the refugee problems with sufficient urgency and is exaggerating the difficulties, were the following:

Creation of a ministry for refugees; an open door for Jews in Palestine; Jewish settlements in Cirenaica [Libya]; greater financial aid to neutrals absorbing refugees, and greater facilities for the entry of Jews and other refugees to Britain.

Temporary Haven Provided.

Washington, D. C., May 19 (AP).—A first contingent of refugees from a neutral country has been transferred to a temporary haven, the state department said today, in a followup of the Bermuda refugee conference. Where the movement took place was not disclosed.

Two Chicagoans Listed as Prisoners of Japs

First Lt. Walter J. Hinkle, 26 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Hinkle, 8201 South Peoria street, and Staff Sergt. Richard Koerner, 29, brother of Mrs. Eugene Richard, 12127 Eggleston avenue, are prisoners of the Japanese in the Philippines, the war department notified the relatives yesterday. Sergt. Koerner was in the regular army seven years before war was declared.

GOOD NEWS! DU PONT HOUSE PAINT is self-cleaning!

Get good paint now . . . It pays

In painting your house, protection of the wood is just as important as good looks. Du Pont House Paint forms a tough, durable film—guards the surface against rot, rust, and decay. And its beauty lasts and lasts.

Keeps white houses white

Du Pont House Paint contains titanium dioxide pigment—whiter than snow! That's why, with Du Pont House Paint, you'll have the whitest house in the block. Yes, and this paint stays white, because—

It's self-cleaning

All paints collect dirt on exposure. But, with Du Pont House Paint, "self-cleaning" starts after a few months of normal weather conditions. A fine white powder forms on the surface. Heavy rains wash this away, carrying the dirt with it—leaving the newly exposed surface clean and white again! (Unusual climatic or dirt-collecting conditions in extremely sooty industrial communities may, of course, delay this process.) Because this "self-cleaning" is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

▶ Despite this remarkable quality of Du Pont House Paint, it costs no more than other good paints. Call in a reliable painter for your painting job, and specify Du Pont House Paint. It's available in white, and in durable tints.

There's a Du Pont Paint dealer near you. For his name see your Classified Telephone Directory or call Du Pont Co., Brunswick 6900.

PILOT UNIT ENDS YEAR WITH 148 PLANES IN BAG

Chicagoans and Illinois Men in Group.

BY ROBERT CROMIE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, May 17 [Delayed].—A group of fighter heroes has just completed a year in New Guinea with a total of 148 Japanese planes shot down. Midwestern pilots have played a heroic rôle in helping amass the victories. They include:

Capt. Charles S. Gallup of Chicago, holder of the silver star and the air medal. His six victories include a Zero on Dec. 27, two Zeros on Jan. 7, two more on Jan. 8, and one on April 12.

Capt. Albert W. Schinz of Ottawa, Ill., holder of the silver star, distinguished flying cross, and air medal, who shot down a photo [reconnaissance] plane last August and a Zero during the Japs' mass raid on Port Moresby on April 12.

Illinoisan Gets Bomber.

Capt. Charles Sullivan of Eureka, Ill., holder of the silver star and air medal, who got a bomber on June 17, Zeros on Jan. 7 and March 3, and another bomber on April 12 for a total of four.

Second Lt. Eugene C. Deboer of Hammond, Ind., silver star and air medal, who got a Zero on Feb. 6.

Lt. Richard E. Smith of Evansville, Ind., silver star and air medal, who bagged Zeros on Jan. 6 and March 3, and a bomber on April 12, for a total of three.

Awards were given today to a large number of fighter pilots during a ceremony held at an advanced allied air base. Midwesterners honored included:

Lt. Harry E. Lidstrom of Chicago, air medal; Lt. John H. Griffith of 8533 Carpenter street, Chicago, who shot down a Zero in a recent raid on Oro Bay, New Guinea, distinguished flying cross; Lt. Lowell C. Lutton of Kankakee, Ill., distinguished flying cross; Lt. Martin P. Alger of Fort Dodge, Ia., air medal; Lt. Jack C. Mankin of Kansas City, Mo., air medal, and Lt. John J. Hood of Kansas City, Mo., distinguished flying cross.

Midwesterners Honored.

Four midwesterners also were honored for a joint act of heroism. They were Lt. Lutton, Tech. Sergt. Joseph R. Malin of 2241 South Hamlin avenue, Chicago; Tech. Sergt. Bruno Topik, and Staff Sergt. John Ovlasuk, both of Detroit. All were given the soldier's medal.

They attempted to rescue the crew of a Mitchell bomber which crashed and burned on Nov. 3. Despite the danger of live bombs and exploding ammunition, all four rushed in and succeeded in saving one man.

THREE YEARS IN SERVICE.

Capt. Charles S. Gallup, 25 years old, enlisted in the air force nearly three years ago, after completing a three year stretch as a private in the marine corps. He is a graduate of Hirsch High school. He formerly lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Gallup, at 2703 East 76th place.

Capt. Schintz, 24, of Ottawa, is a graduate of La Salle Junior college. He enlisted in the air force two years ago and has been in the South Pacific since the first of the year. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Schinz, have two other sons in service, Oliver, 29 years old, a private now in Africa, and Robert, 18, a private in an air force technical school.

Lt. Lidstrom, 28, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Lidstrom, 5935 North Rockwell street. He is a graduate of Monmouth college and enlisted in the air corps in January, 1941. He was sent to the South Pacific last September. Prior to his enlistment he traveled for a Chicago drug concern.

1,442,361 Youths Register in England and Wales

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 19.—A white paper issued tonight disclosed that 1,442,361 boys and girls in England and Wales between the ages of 16 and 18 years registered under the government youth plan last year. The registration was said to be to enable local education authorities to contact young people, encourage them to find the best way of fitting themselves for the responsibilities of citizenship and to assist the war effort.

OUT TO LUNCH, HOUSE DELAYS NAVY FUND BILL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 19.—Passage of the 29½ billion dollar navy appropriation bill was delayed in the house today because so few members returned from lunch after hearing Prime Minister Winston Churchill's address.

Republicans complained that the Democrats were remaining away while the house prepared to vote on the largest naval appropriation in the history of the nation.

Consideration of the bill finally was halted when Rep. Fred L. Crawford [R., Mich.] raised the point that there was not a quorum present and thereby forced adjournment. Democrats explained that their members were thoroly familiar with the bill's provisions and regarded it as unnecessary to attend.

Rep. Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.] complained that debate on the appropriation bill had been throttled yesterday by limitation of the discussion times, and introduced several unsuccessful amendments today in an avowed effort to gain time to discuss aspects of the measure.

GRANTS DIVORCE, $15,000 A YEAR TO MRS. PAULSEN

Mrs. Florence T. Paulsen, 52 years old, of 1020 Pleasant street, Oak Park, was granted a divorce from Bennet R. Paulsen, president of the Western Rustproof company, by Superior Judge Joseph A. Graber yesterday on her charge of desertion.

In a divorce settlement submitted to the court for approval by Atty. Harry X. Cole, representing Mrs. Paulsen, and her husband's counsel, Atty. George D. Sullivan Mrs. Paulsen receives permanent alimony of $15,000 a year.

A $100,000 block of stock in the company, according to the agreement, will revert to Mrs. Paulsen and their son, Robert, 25, upon her husband's death. She also receives furnishings of their Oak Park home, valued at $5,000, and a $25,000 summer home at Long Lake, Wis.

Bandit in Army Uniform Robs Cab Driver of $7

TRIBUNE'S PART IN ELECTION OF LINCOLN IS TOLD

Kinsley, History Author, Recounts Early Battle.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

The story of how THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, during its early years, mirrored the rise of the middle west, fostered the development of the Republican party and devoted all its strength and resources to the election of Abraham Lincoln as President was told last night by Philip Kinsley in a special broadcast on W-G-N. Kinsley, a veteran Tribune reporter, was interviewed by John Holbrook on the occasion of the publication of the first volume of "THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE—Its First Hundred Years," which he wrote.

Kinsley told of an amusing sequel to the story of Lincoln's "lost" speech. Joseph Medill, then a reporter as well as an editor of THE TRIBUNE, went to Bloomington in May, 1856, to cover a speech by Lincoln. All reporters present were so carried away by the speech that they forgot to take notes. Lincoln had nothing on paper so the address was "lost."

Recorded Famous Debate.

Medill then took a precaution so that there were no more lost speeches. He engaged Robert Hitt, a stenographic reporter, to take down the Lincoln-Douglas debates in shorthand.

"Historians are pretty well agreed," said Kinsley, "that it's largely because of Hitt's skill that we have such authentic records of what both men said."

When Lincoln, who was supported by THE TRIBUNE, was defeated for United States senator by Douglas, it said: "We are beaten, but not disheartened or overawed. Now is the time to put the elements of the next great campaign in motion."

In the Presidential campaign of 1860 THE TRIBUNE supported Lincoln, and it maintained that loyalty thruout the conflict and confusion of the war years, said Mr. Kinsley.

Was Power in Middle West.

"THE TRIBUNE was now the most powerful paper in the middle west," said Mr. Kinsley, "and its argument that Lincoln was the one Republican candidate acceptable to all sections of the party and in doubtful states carried great weight. More than any other newspaper, THE TRIBUNE was responsible for securing the nomination of Lincoln."

During the Civil war THE TRIBUNE came to its maturity as a newspaper, Mr. Kinsley continued.

"It became the strongest editorial voice in the northwest for the preservation of the Union, for the prosecution of the war, and for the emancipation of the slaves," he said.

Tribune Tells Own Story.

"THE TRIBUNE of the Civil war years speaks for itself thru its pages. THE TRIBUNE was a newspaper of one personality. That was the personality of Joseph Medill. . . . Tribune editorials might rail like a partisan or they might thunder like a prophet. But they were written with courage and they were published with passion and sincerity.

"Men might not agree with THE TRIBUNE. But they read it. They continued to read it whether they agreed with any particular editor or editorial. Above all THE TRIBUNE was fiercely, uncompromisingly, unswervingly for the Union."

ARMY REQUESTS USED SAFES FOR MEN'S PROPERTY

A request for used safes was made yesterday by Brig. Gen. J. E. Barzynski, commanding officer of the Chicago quartermaster depot. The safes will be used for the storage of valuable papers, money, and personal property of enlisted men, Gen. Barzynski said. They may be any height from 28 inches to six feet, he added, and the army will pay all removal charges and will recondition the safes for use. Arrangements can be made by calling Lafayette 5500.

URGES WORLD AIR LINES ON EQUAL BASIS

New York, May 19 (AP).—Juan T. Trippe, founder and president of the Pan-American Airways system, said tonight that after the war each of the allied nations should "be permitted to obtain—on equitable terms—all the ocean transport planes that are needed to restore the balance for fair competition." He spoke at the annual dinner of the National Institute of Social Sciences.

Trippe disclosed that over a year ago Pan-American started a program for the construction of 50 giant clippers, each capable of carrying 153 passengers from New York to London in 10 hours at a fare of $100. Referring to statements that the British would be at a disadvantage after the war because this country is building more air transports, Trippe said:

"We all share the healthy American aspiration to be the winner of a race or a ball game or an international business competition. But fair is fair. If you want to win a baseball game, you try to outhit the other fellow, but you don't take away his bat."

MINER LEADERS APPROVE MOVE TO REJOIN AFL

UMW Must Join PMWA, Official Says.

John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers are welcome back in the American Federation of Labor, but they will have to become members of the AFL's Progressive Mine Workers of America, Lloyd A. Thrush, international president of the PMWA, said last night in Springfield. Thrush's faction of the miners stayed in the AFL when Lewis' group left in 1935.

"The charter of the Progressive Mine Workers under the AFL clearly states that it shall be the only union for coal miners in the AFL," Thrush said.

He declined to say whether he would subordinate his leadership to that of Lewis, and said he had "no idea" how Lewis would react to letting Thrush run all the miners. Thrush added that he wanted to talk with President William Green of the AFL before making further comment.

Members Express Pleasure.

Ray Edmundson of Springfield, president of district 12 of the UMW, who has remained loyal to Lewis thru the years, said he would be glad to get "back home" in the AFL. Rank and file members of the UMW, questioned at their building in Springfield, expressed pleasure over Lewis' move for reunion with the AFL, and said they were not surprised.

In Chicago, Daniel D. Carmell, attorney for the Chicago and Illinois federations of labor and other unions, called Lewis' action the first big step toward unification of the entire labor movement. He said readmitting the miners to the AFL would involve several problems of jurisdiction, but if these are solved, it would show that similar problems involving conflict between the AFL and CIO are not insurmountable.

Predicts Satisfactory Plan.

Carmell said Lewis is experienced in the ways of labor union politics, and would never have made application to reënter the AFL until he had satisfied himself that he would be received graciously by the AFL executive board. Carmell expressed belief the board would adjust jurisdictional matters to the satisfaction of everybody.

Patrick F. Sullivan, president of the Chicago Building Trades council [AFL], said he was surprised at Lewis' move, but expressed belief it would be a good thing for the labor movement.

Matt Kearns, international vice president of the CIO Transport Workers' union, said he thought Lewis was "running for cover."

"Lewis knows he is slipping and wants protection," said Kearns.

"If the AFL admits him, it should make sure first that he will start aiding the war program instead of continuing to hinder it."

3 IN CONSPIRACY CASE SET FREE; 1 IS REARRESTED

Charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice against three Negroes were dismissed yesterday by Judge Rudolph F. Desort in Criminal court, but a moment later one of them was rearrested. The grand jury was reported to have voted a true bill charging him with attempted bribery. He is Gus Saunders, partner in a tailor shop at 11th street and Michigan avenue.

Saunders was indicted last August with his partner, Joseph Monroe, and Iley Kelly, reputed policy game operator, on charges of attempting to bribe a Negro witness against Golf Bag Sam Hunt, former Capone hoodlum, at Hunt's first trial for the slaying of Michael Wade. The jury disagreed, and later Hunt was acquitted.

Police said Saunders confessed the jury fixing plot when he was arrested, but yesterday he refused to testify, and the state was left without a witness. After Judge Desort dismissed the charges, the grand jury voted a new indictment against Saunders.

Reveals OWI Has Scheme to Solve U. S. Tax Problems

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 19.—Disclosure that the office of war information, along with its many other activities, is attempting to solve the nation's tax ills brought from Rep. Charles A. Halleck [R., Ind.] the charge today that the agency is engaging "in political propoganda to defeat the will of the people."

Halleck assailed the printing and distribution of an OWI pamphlet, "How to Raise 16 Billion," asserting that it contained material designed to prejudice taxpayers against pay-as-you-go taxation. Money used for the project, he declared, was appropriated by congress for winning the war and not for use in influencing the outcome of a legislative controversy.

"It is time that congress trims the sails of OWI's domestic division before it trims the civil liberties of the American people," said the Indiana congressman.

Prints 56,900 Pamphlets.

Halleck's blast at the OWI tax publication was the first that Capitol Hill had heard of the enterprise. Inquiry disclosed that the propaganda agency, headed by Elmer Davis, had printed 56,900 of the pamphlets, bearing the subtitle, "Discussion Guide No. 4." They were distributed chiefly to schools, libraries and discussion groups, according to an OWI spokesman.

In six pages, the publication detailed the method of writing a tax bill and presented a résumé of various questions confronting the legislators. It emphasized thruout the treasury's expert participation in drafting the legislation and thru such questions as the following stressed the importance of the department in the matter:

"Which of the groups that advise congress should know most about collecting taxes? Business groups? Farm groups? Independent economists? Labor unions? United States treasury?"

Resents Meddling.

"The OWI has again been caught red handed dealing in political propaganda," said Halleck. "In the midst of the controversy to effect pay-as-you-earn taxation OWI threw its efforts and money appropriated by congress to win the war behind the plan of the treasury and the New Deal to defeat the will of the people.

"Operating subtly, under the screen of war information, the federal propagandists sought to first build a case against pay-as-you-go taxation and then to inspire a letter writing campaign to influence congress.

"It is time that congress specifically gives Mr. Elmer Davis and OWI specific instructions that it has no right to enter into controversial legislation pending before congress or likely to come before congress, including post-war plans."

Rough Going Seen

Washington, D. C., May 19.—When the house and senate conferees on the pending legislation to put taxpayers on a current collection basis begin their sessions tomorrow they will be faced with the same problem that has dogged the measure's weary course thru congress since the first of the year.

It is the question of how much back taxes are to be forgiven to achieve currency. The house bill calls for 75 per cent forgiveness of 1942 obligations and doubling up for 10 per cent of the taxpayers in the higher brackets. The senate bill, opposed by the administration, contains the Ruml skip-a-year plan, allowing 100 per cent forgiveness of last year's taxes, which the house has thrice rejected.

Chairman Walter F. George [D., Ga.] of the senate finance committee, said today that failure to resolve the question within 10 days will mean the end of hopes for a withholding tax by July 1, as the treasury needs that length of time to place the new collection system in operation.

His colleagues on the committee made no secret of their despair over their task. The two chambers together have turned thumbs down on a total of eight separate pay-as-you-go plans and many members of both houses were wondering what, if anything, the conferees will be able to find by way of a new compromise plan acceptable to both houses.

3,000 DEFY MINE TRUCE PLEDGE; STAGE WALKOUT

Johnstown, Pa., May 19 (AP).—Spreading strikes left more than 3,000 coal miners idle in this area today, and Don Gingery, manager of the government operated mines in central Pennsylvania, announced he was reporting the situation to Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes, federal "boss" of the mines.

The strikes, defying the truce pledge given Monday by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, closed six mines and caused a daily production loss of 15,000 tons of coal.

First walkouts occurred last night after Ickes informed Lewis that any settlement of the miners' contract dispute must have war labor board approval. Miners voted to strike amid shouts of "No contract, no work."

Joseph Simasek, president of U. M. W., local 1386, said he was booed when he pleaded with miners to stay on the job.

"The more I talked, the less orderly the meeting got," he said. "So I finally had to put the motion, and they voted to go out."

FALL RESULTS IN DEATH.

John Rainey, 74 years old, 1425 North Ashland avenue, died last night at County hospital of complications resulting from a broken leg suffered in a fall in his home April 26.

LOST IN STRIKE: STEEL TO MAKE 340,000 RIFLES!

Outlaw CIO Walkout at Gary in Fifth Day.

A giant open hearth furnace, used for making armor plate steel, was kept cold and idle for the fifth successive day yesterday by CIO strikers at the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation's Gary works. The strike has continued despite pleas by officers of the 9th naval district and the army's 6th service command.

The idle furnace can produce 340 tons of steel ingots every 24 hours. Therefore, since the strike began, production of 1,700 tons of steel has been lost. Company officials are not permitted to say what use is made of the steel, but in order to show how much the strike has cost the war program, they computed that 340,000 Garand rifles could have been produced with the precious metal.

"Outlaw Strike," Says Union.

Officials of the United Steel Workers' union, of which the strikers are members, said the work stoppage was unauthorized by the union, and asserted they were coöperating with the company in trying to reach a settlement.

The dispute goes back to last Dec. 1, when an eighth open hearth furnace was installed in the plant. Pay scales are adjusted according to tonnage produced, and when the new furnace was opened the union called for a new pay scale.

Before Dec. 1 the top pay scale was $1.54 an hour, but after the new furnace went into operation the scale was raised to $1.74 by agreement between the company and the union. The union then insisted that wages be paid on the basis of continuous operation of the eight furnaces.

Ask for Repair Allowance.

Because all furnaces must be shut down periodically for repairs, the company asked for a wage schedule based on operations of approximately seven-eighths of full time.

At 1:45 a. m. last Saturday eight charging machine operators refused to work on the new furnace, and since then have kept it idle. The seven other furnaces have been kept going by 140 men, members of the same union, who refused to strike.

Company officials said yesterday that preliminary steps in its machinery for settling labor disputes have been exhausted and that efforts are being made to use the next step, a conference between representatives of the international union and the company.

INDICT 2 UNION HEADS; $300,000 PAYOFF CHARGED

Pair Accused of Huge Extortion Plot.

New York, May 19 (AP).—Indictment of two international vice presidents of American Federation of Labor unions, Joseph S. Fay of the union of operating engineers, and James Bove of the hod carriers' union, on charges of extorting $420,000 from Delaware aqueduct construction companies was announced today by District Atty. Frank S. Hogan.

The seven count indictment also charged the two union leaders with a conspiracy to extort more than $700,000. Hogan said the grand jury action followed a 15 months' investigation by his office into the construction of the 300 million dollar aqueduct which will supplement New York's water supply.

$25,000 Bail Furnished.

Both men surrendered and pleaded innocent. General Sessions Judge Jonah Goldstein held each in $25,000 bail, which was supplied by a surety company.

The indictment charged that Fay and Bove approached representatives of numerous construction firms seeking contracts to construct portions of the aqueduct with demands that they be paid money or that higher than prevailing wages be paid union men.

In addition, it was charged, the two men promised that no labor troubles would develop if they were paid designated sums, but threatened that, if they were not paid, laborers would not be sent to the jobs.

Dates Back to 1936.

Hogan said the alleged extortion and conspiracy started in 1936. Many of the payments, he said, were made in cash, and added that the investigation by his office halted some of the payments.

Fay and Bove were charged specifically in the six extortion counts in the indictment with receiving $125,000 from the Seaboard Construction company; $150,000 from Associated Contractors, Inc.; $36,000 from the Mason and Hanger company of Lexington, Ky.; $35,000 from B. Perini and Sons of Framingham, Mass.; $62,000 from the Walsh Construction company, Davenport, Ia., and $12,000 from the New York Traprock corporation.

BOSSES LIVE HERE

Joseph S. Fay and James Bove, indicted in New York yesterday for extortion, are the "hired men" of two Chicago labor chieftains who boss the powerful operating engineers and hod carriers.

These bosses are William E. Maloney, who is international president of the operating engineers, and Joseph V. Moreschi, international president of the hod carriers.

Maloney rose to power thru terrorism, bloodshed, and the use and support of such well known gangsters as George [Red] Barker; "Three Fingered Jack" White; "Klondyke" O'Donnell; Charles Fischetti, a cousin of Al Capone, and James [Fur] Sammons.

Appointed—Never Elected.

Maloney and Moreschi carried Fay and Bove with them. Neither Maloney, Moreschi, Fay, nor Bove was ever elected to office by the union workers. They were appointed either by executive boards or by the international presidents of their respective unions.

The "shakedown" practices of which Fay and Bove are accused are the same methods which Maloney and the late Michael Carrozzo, boss of Chicago hod carriers and associate of Moreschi, used.

Fay, incidentally, is the same man who slugged David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers union, at an AFL convention in New Orleans, La., in 1940.

Warning Recalled.

In 1932 Fay, then fifth vice president of the international of operating engineers, and boss of the New York City-New Jersey district, threatened John Possehl, another vice president of the union, who wanted to dedicate a monument to his dead predecessor.

"If you go to Salem [in Massachusetts, where the dedication was held], buy a one way ticket—because you won't be coming back," Fay told Possehl.

Possehl appealed to Maloney, then the "heavy man" of the union in Chicago who was recovering from auto accident injuries, in Chicago, for help. What Maloney told Possehl was never disclosed, but the same gunmen—Barker, White, O'Donnell, with Murray Humphreys, Claude Maddox, and Sammons—went to Salem to protect Possehl.

Wins Reinstatement.

Possehl then "fired" Fay. Fay appealed later to be reinstated. Maloney, who was appointed to fill Fay's vacancy, was given the job of a one man jury to "try" Fay for fitness to be a vice president of the international again.

Maloney found Fay "okay" and Fay was given the first vacancy on the executive board. He has been in favor with Maloney since, thru the latter's rise to the international presidency.

DR. DARLINGTON YIELDS PART OF WIDOW'S ESTATE

New York, May 19 (AP).—Mrs. Anna H. Paton, whose bequests to the Rev. Henry Darlington, rector of the New York Episcopal Church of the Heavenly Rest, resulted in a contest over probate of the will, left a net estate of $1,089,827, an estate tax appraisal revealed today.

Under terms of the will, which was admitted to probate after Surrogate Charles D. Millard of Westchester county had dismissed allegations of undue influence, Mrs. Paton left Dr. Darlington the income from a trust fund of three-tenths of the residuary estate, personal effects and her estate at Irvington, N. Y. She left the church one-tenth of the residue, estimated at $98,662.

Appraisal papers revealed that under a compromise agreement entered into by the beneficiaries, Dr. Darlington relinquished the real estate, accepted only part of the personal effects and accepted a life interest in one-half of a trust fund consisting of three-twentieths of the residue of $49,771. His two sons will receive the income from the remaining half, and the entire trust, upon Dr. Darlington's death, will go to the church.

NYE TO ADDRESS G. O. P. 'REVIVAL' SESSION TONIGHT

United States Sen. Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] is scheduled to address a Republican "revival meeting" in the Mural room of the Morrison hotel at 8 o'clock this evening.

The gathering was arranged by Capt. William J. Grace and in general is a protest against the post-war planning movement led locally by Deneen A. Watson and similar activities. There are indications also that it is aimed at Wendell L. Willkie.

"The meeting has developed into an incipient revolt against another betrayal of the party such as occurred in 1940 [when Willkie was the Presidential nominee]," read a statement issued yesterday. "It is the beginning of a movement that will try to make certain that only stalwart Americans, loyal to the constitution, shall be sent to the Republican convention in 1944."

THIRTEEN ROUTED BY FIRE.

Thirteen persons were routed from their apartments in a three-story building at 9904 Forest avenue early yesterday by fire in the kitchen of John Doody, an auditor for the Commonwealth Edison company. Damage was estimated at $800. The fire was attributed to defective wiring.

SEEK $140,000 IN TAXES FROM STEVENS HOTEL

The first step toward the collection of $140,000 in 1929-'30 taxes and accrued penalties from the Stevens hotel was taken yesterday when Marshall V. Kearney, assistant state's attorney, formally asked permission of the Circuit court to file a bill to set aside an injunction which at present bars collection.

Judge William V. Brothers, to whom the matter was assigned, set June 3 as the date for a hearing. It was explained that the Stevens Hotel company, at the time it settled its taxes for the years 1928-'38 and sold its properties to the government for army use, obtained the injunction to obviate any question of the title being clouded.

Kearney said that apparently there had been an error made in the office of the county treasurer and that this error was not discovered until two weeks ago; that the $140,000 was due in penalties and interest for the two years. He added that of the six million dollars paid for the hotel $500,000 was still under control of the federal District court to be used in the paying of claims.

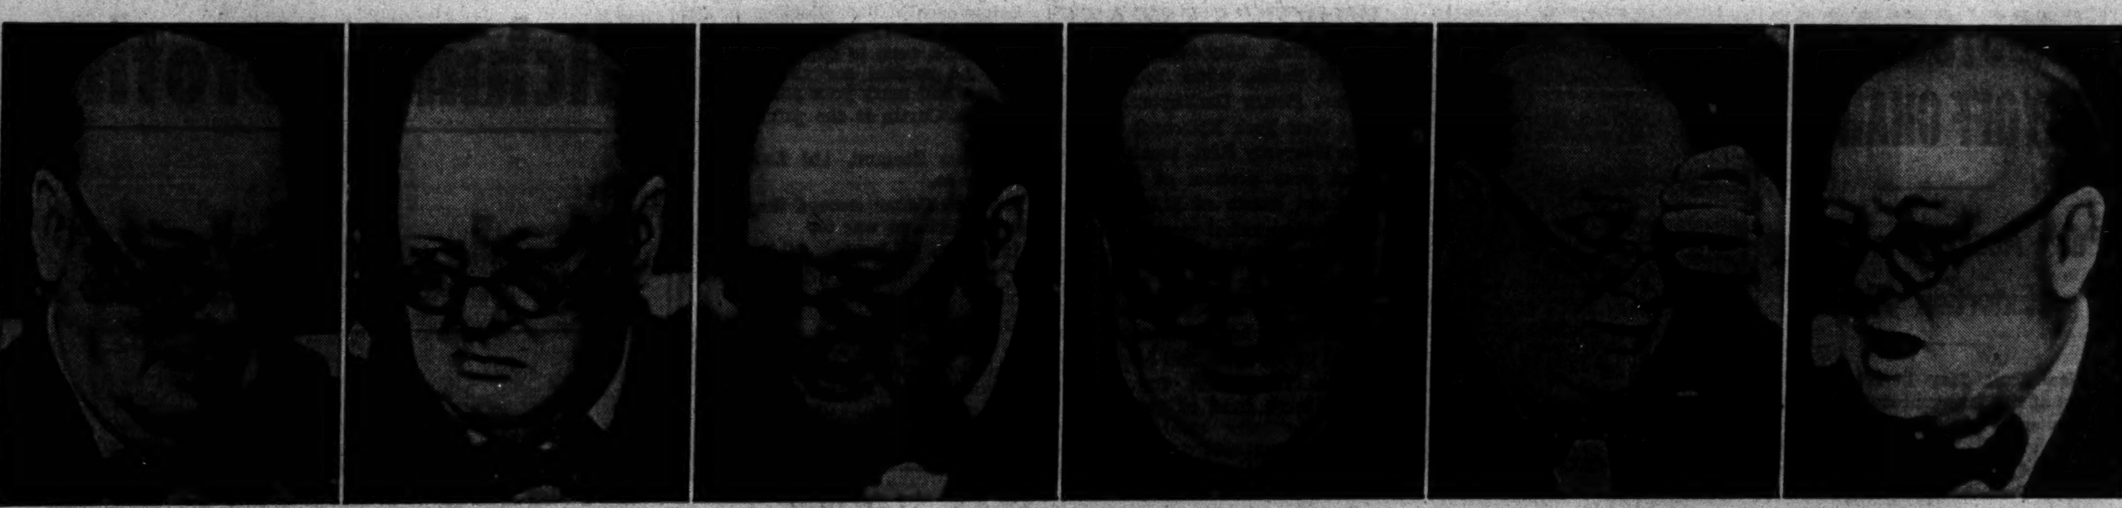
CHURCHILL VOWS TO FIGHT JAPAN UNTIL THE END

Defends Present Strategy of Hitler First.

Facial Expressions of Prime Minister Churchill During Address to United States Congress



Some of facial expressions displayed by British Prime Minister Winston Churchill yesterday as he addressed congress are shown in series of pictures above. Churchill, in a speech almost an hour long, solemnly pledged that Great Britain would help the United States fight Japan after the defeat of Germany in Europe. [Associated Press Wirephotos.]

of war to the death on Japan. Later Chandler said Mr. Churchill had left "some of my main questions unanswered" in commenting on the prime minister's speech.

There was a flood of glowing approval of the address by senators and representatives of both parties, amid which there were such restrained comments as that of Sen. Edwin C. Johnson [D., Colo.] who said "Mr. Churchill talks a good Jap war; I hope that action will follow his words" and that of Sen. Pat McCarran [D., Nev.] who hoped "he meant what he said." Rep. Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.] said "his words should be well received by the nation."

Before leaving the capitol Mr. Churchill had a long meeting with the members of the senate and house foreign affairs committees at which he explained confidentially the situation the allies confront in both Europe and the far east and the present and prospective resources available for an offensive.

CHURCHILL SPEECH

Washington, D. C., May 19 (AP).—Following is the text of Prime Minister Winston Churchill's address to congress today:

"Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, members of the senate and the house of representatives:

"Seventeen months have passed since I last had the honor to address the congress of the United States, more than 500 days, every day a day in which we have toiled and suffered, have dared shoulder to shoulder against the cruel and mighty enemy, acted in close combination or concert in many parts of the world, on land, on sea and in the air.

"The fact that you have invited me to come to congress again a second time now that we have settled down to the job and that you should welcome me in so generous a fashion, that is certainly a high mark in my life and it also shows that our partnership has not done so badly.

"I am proud that you should have found us good allies, driving forward in comradeship to the accomplishment of our task without grudging or stinting either life or treasure or indeed anything we have to give.

Relieved at Alliance.

"The last time I came at a moment when the United States was aflame with wrath at the treacherous attack upon Pearl Harbor by Japan and at the subsequent declaration of war upon the United States made by Germany and Italy.

"For my part, and I say it quite frankly, there were those days after our long and for a whole year lonely struggle when I could not repress in my heart a sense of relief and comfort that we were all bound together by common peril, by solemn faith and a high purpose to see this fearful quarrel thru at all costs to the end.

"That was an hour of passionate emotion, and our most memorable in human records, an hour, as I believe, full of hope and glory for the future, when the experiences of the long life and the promptings of my blood awoke in me the conviction that there is nothing more important for the future of the world than the fraternal association of our two peoples in righteous work both in war and peace.

TURNS TO THE PACIFIC

Vows to Retrieve All Lost Territory in East

"So in January, 1942, when I had that feeling of comfort and I therefore prepared myself while in a confident and steadfaster spirit to bear the terrible blows which were evidently about to fall on British interests in the far east—which were bound to fall upon them from the military strength of Japan during a period when the American and British fleet had lost for the time being the naval command of the Pacific and Indian ocean, one after another in swift succession, very heavy misfortune fell upon us and upon our allies, the Dutch.

"In the Pacific theater the Japanese have seized the land and islands they have greedily coveted. The Philippines are enslaved. The lustrous, luxuriant regions of the Dutch East Indies have been overrun. In the Malay peninsula and at Singapore we ourselves suffered the greatest military disaster, or at any rate the largest military disaster, in British history.

"Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, all this has to be retrieved and all this and much else has to be repaid. And here let me say, let no one suggest that we British have not at least as great an interest as the United States in the unflinching and relentless waging of war against Japan. I am here to tell you that we will wage that war side by side with you in accordance with the best strategic employment of our forces while there is breath in our bodies, while blood flows in our veins.

"A notable part in the war against Japan must of course be played by the large armies and by the air and naval forces now marshaled by Great Britain on the eastern frontiers of India.

"In this quarter there lies one of the means of bringing aid to hard-pressed and long tormented China. I regard the bringing of effective and immediate aid to China as one of the most urgent of our common tasks.

"It may not have escaped your attention that I brought with me to this country and to this conference Field Marshal Wavell and the other two commanders in chief from India. They have not traveled all this way simply to concern themselves about improving the health and happiness of the mikado of Japan.

NOT AN EASY TASK

Great Armies Stand Ready at Gates of India

"I thought it would be good that all concerned in this great theater should meet together and thresh out in friendly candor, heart to heart, all the points that arise—and there are many, you may be sure of that.

"If all that was necessary was that an order be given to the great armies standing ready in India to march toward the rising sun and open the Burma road, that order would be given this afternoon.

"The matter is, however, somewhat more complicated, and all movement or infiltration of troops into the mountains and jungles to the northeast of India is very strictly governed by what your American military men call the science of logistics.

Pledges All Resources.

"But Mr. President, I repudiate, and I am sure with your sympathy, the slightest suspicion that we should hold anything back that can be usefully employed or that I and the government I represent are not resolute to employ every man, gun and airplane that can be used in this business as we have proved ourselves ready to do in other theaters of the war.

"In our conferences in January, 1942, between the President and myself and between our high expert advisers it was evident that, while the defeat of Japan would not mean the defeat of Germany, the defeat of Germany would infallibly mean the ruin of Japan. The realization of this simple truth does not mean that both sides should not proceed together and indeed the major part of the United States forces is now deployed on the Pacific front in the broad division which we then made of our labors.

"In January, 1942, the United States undertook the main responsibility for prosecuting the war against Japan and for aiding Australia and New Zealand to defend themselves against a Japanese invasion which seemed far more threatening then than it does now.

BURDEN OF ATLANTIC

Willingly Done Full Share of Work at Sea

"On the other hand we took the main burden on the Atlantic.. This was only natural. Unless the ocean lifeline which joins our two peoples can be kept unbroken the British Isles and all the very considerable forces which radiate therefrom would be paralyzed and doomed. We have willingly done our full share of the sea work in the dangerous waters of the Mediterranean and in the Arctic convoys to Russia and we have sustained since our alliance began more than double the losses in merchant tonnage that have fallen upon the United States.

"On the other hand again, the prodigious output of new ships from the United States building yards has for six months past overtaken and now far surpasses the losses of both allies. And if no effort is relaxed there is every reason to count upon a ceaseless progressive expansion of allied shipping available for the prosecution of the war. Our killings of the U-boats, as the secretary of the navy will readily confirm, have this year greatly exceeded all previous experience. The last three months and particularly the last three weeks have yielded record results.

U-Boat Danger Greatest.

"This, of course, is to some extent due to the larger numbers of U-boats operating, but it is also due to the vast improvement in the severity and power of our measures against them and of the new devices continually employed.

"While I rate the U-boat danger still the greatest we have to face I have a good and sober confidence that it will not only be met and contained but overcome. The increase of shipping tonnage over sinkings provides—after the movement of vital supplies of food and munitions have been arranged—that margin which is the main measure of our joint war effort.

"We are also conducting from the British Isles the principal air offensive against Germany and in this we are powerfully aided by the United States air force in the United kingdom, whose action is chiefly by day as ours is chiefly by night.

"In this war numbers count more and more both in night and day attacks. The saturation point of the enemy's flak thru the multiplicity of attacking planes, the division and dispersion of his fighter protection by the launching of several simultaneous attacks are rewards which will immediately be paid to the substantial increases in British and American numbers which now are taking place.

"There is no doubt that the allies already vastly outnumber the hostile air forces of Germany, Italy, and Japan and still more does their output of new planes surpass the output of the enemy in this air war by which both Germany and Japan fondly imagined they would strike decisive and final blows, terrorize nations great and small into submission to their will.

"In this air war it is that these guilty nations have already begun to show their first real mortal weakness. The more continuous and severe the air fighting becomes the better for us because we can already replace casualties and machines far more rapidly than the enemy and we can replace them on a scale which increases month by month.

Progress Takes Time.

"Progress in this sphere is swift and sure, but it must be remembered that the preparation and development of air fields and the movement of the great masses of ground personnel on which the efficiency of modern air squadrons depends, however earnestly pressed forward, is bound to take time.

"Opinion, Mr. President, is divided as to whether the use of air power could by itself bring about the collapse in Germany or Italy. The experiment is well worth trying so long as other measures are not excluded.

"Well, there is certainly no harm in finding out. But, however that may be, we are all agreed that the damage done to the enemy's war potential is enormous.

DAM DESTRUCTION

Aims to Render Nazi War Industry Impotent

"The condition to which the great centers of German war industry and particularly the Ruhr, are being reduced is one of unparalleled devastation. You have just read of the destruction of the great dams which feed the canal and provide power to the enemy munitions works. That was a gallant operation costing eight out of the nineteen Lancaster bombers employed, but it will play a very far reaching part in German munitions output.

"It is our settled policy, the settled policy of our two vast war making authorities, to make it impossible for Germany to carry on any form of war industry on a large or concentrated scale either in Germany, in Italy, or in the enemy occupied countries. Wherever these munitions centers exist or are developed they will be destroyed and the populations will be dispersed.

"If they don't like what is coming to them, then let them disperse beforehand on their own. And this process will continue ceaselessly, with ever increasing weight and intensity, until the German and Italian people abandon or destroy the monstrous tyrannies which they have incubated and reared in their midst.

Forcing Nazis to Withdraw.

"Meanwhile our air offensive is forcing Germany to withdraw an ever larger portion of its war making capacity from the fighting front. In order to provide protection against the air attacks, hundreds of fighter aircraft, thousands of anti-aircraft guns, and many hundreds of thousands of men, together with a vast share of the output of the war factories, have already been assigned to this purely defensive function.

"All this is at the expense of the enemy's power of new aggression or of the enemy's power to resume the initiative. Surveying the whole aspect of the air war we cannot doubt that it is a major factor in the process of victory. That, I think, is established as a solid fact.

"It is all agreed between us that we should, at the earliest moment, similarly bring our joint air power to bear upon the military targets in the homelands of Japan. The cold blooded execution of United States airmen by the Japanese government is a proof not only of the barbarism but of the dread in which they regard this possibility.

LAY JAPAN TO ASHES

Public Discussion Useless in Determining Method

"It is the duty of those who are charged with the direction of the war to overcome at the earliest moment the military, geographical, and political difficulties and begin the process so necessary and desirable of laying the cities and other munitions centers of Japan in ashes. For in ashes they must surely lie before peace comes back to the world.

"That this objective holds a high place in the present conference is obvious to thinking men. But no public discussion would be useful upon the method of sequence in events which should be pursued in order to achieve it. Let me make it plain, however, that the British will participate in this air attack on Japan in harmonious accord with the major strategy of the war.

"That is our desire and the cruelties of the Japanese enemy will make our airmen all the more ready to bear the perils and sufferings of their American comrades.

"At the present time, speaking more generally, the prime problem which is before the United States and, to a lesser extent, before Great Britain is not so much the creation of armies or the vast output of munitions and aircraft. These are already in full swing and immense progress and prodigious results have been achieved.

"The problem is rather the application of those forces to the enemy in the teeth of U-boat resistance across the great ocean spaces and across the narow seas or on land thru the swamps, mountains, and jungles in various quarters of the globe. That is our problem.

"All our war plans must therefore be inspired, pervaded and even dominated by the supreme object of coming to grips with the enemy under favorable conditions or, at any rate tolerable conditions. We cannot pick and choose too much in engaging on the largest possible scale at the earliest possible moment that enemy wherever it is profitable and indeed, I might say, wherever it is possible to do so. Thus, in this way, shall we make our enemies in Europe and in Asia burn and consume their strength on land, on sea, and in the air with the maximum rapidity.

WHERE TO STRIKE?

Selection of Place Is Called Complicated Task

"Now you will readily understand that the complex part of finding the maximum opening for the employment of our vast forces is selection of the point at which to strike to the greatest advantage to those forces and the emphasis and priority to be assigned to all the various enterprises which are desirable, but that is a task requiring the constant supervision and adjustment of our combined staffs and of the heads of government.

"It is a vast complicated process, especially when two countries are involved directly in council together and when the interests of so many other countries have to be considered.

"And the utmost goodwill and readiness to think for the common cause, the cause of all the united nations, is required from every one participating in our discussions.

Must Know All Facts.

"The intricate adjustments and arrangements can only be made by discussion between men who know all the facts and who are and can be held accountable for success or failure.

"Lots of people can make good plans for winning the war if they have not got to carry them out.

"I dare say if I had not been in a responsible position, I should have made a lot of excellent plans and, very likely, should have brought them in one way or another to the notice of the executive authorities. But it is not possible to have such full open argument about these matters and that is an additional hardship for those in charge that the questions cannot be argued out and debated in public except with enormous reticence and even then with very great danger that the watching and listening enemy may derive some profits from what he overhears. In these circumstances, I give you my opinion that the American and British press and public have treated their executive authorities with a wise and indulgent consideration.

"Recent events have, I think, vindicated their self-restraint. Mr. President, it is thus that we are able to meet here today in all faithfulness, sincerity, and friendship. Geography imposes insuperable obstacles to the continuous session of the combined staffs and executive chiefs.

VINDICATE RESTRAINT

Scene Constantly Changing for the Better

"But the scene is constantly changing and lately, I think I may say, constantly changing for the better. Repeated conferences are indispensable if the sacrifices of the fighting troops are to be rendered fruitful and if the course of war which now lies so heavily upon almost the whole world is to be broken and swept away within the shortest possible time.

"I, therefore, thought it my duty, with the full authority of his majesty's government, to come here again with our highest officers in order that the combined staffs may work in the closest contact with the chief executive power which the President derives from his office and in respect of which I am the accredited representative of the cabinet and parliament.

Praises Founders' Wisdom.

"The wisdom, Mr. President, the wisdom of the founders of the American Constitution led them to associate the office of commander in chief with that of the Presidency of the United States. In this they were following the precedents which were successful in the case of George Washington.

"It is remarkable that after more than 150 years this combination of political and military authority has been found necessary, not only in the United States, but in the case of Marshal Stalin in Russia and of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek in China.

"Even I, as that majority leader in the house of commons, one branch of the legislature, have been drawn from time to time, not perhaps wholly against my will, into some participation in military affairs.

"But modern war is total and it is necessary for its conduct that the technical and professional authorities should be sustained and if necessary directed by the heads of government who have the knowledge which enables them to comprehend not only the military but the political and economic forces at work and who have the power to focus them all upon the goal.

HOPES TO SEE STALIN

Can't Shed Any Light on When or Where

"These are the reasons which compelled the President to make his long journey to Casablanca and these are the reasons which bring me here. We, both of us, earnestly hope that at no distant date we may be able to see what we have so long sought, namely a meeting with Marshal Stalin and, if possible, with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

"But how, when, and where it is to be accomplished is not a matter upon which I am able to shed any clear ray of light at the present time. And if I were I should certainly not shed it. In the meanwhile, we do our best to keep the closest association at every level between all the authorities of all the countries who are engaged in the active direction of the war. And it is my special duty to promote and preserve this intimacy and concert between all parts of the British commonwealth and empire and especially with the great self-governing dominions like Canada whose prime minister is with us at this moment, whose contribution is so massive and invaluable. There could be no better or more encouraging example of the fruits of our consultations than the campaign in northwest Africa which has just ended so well.

Tells of Tobruk Sympathy.

"One morning in June last, when I was here, the President handed me a slip of paper which bore the unexpected, utterly unexpected, news of the fall of Tobruk and the surrender of its garrison in unexplained circumstances, the surrender of its garrison of 25,000 men. That indeed was a dark and bitter hour for me. I shall never forget the kindness, the delicacy, the true comradeship which our American friends showed me, and those with me, in such adversity. Their only thought was to find means of helping to restore the situation and never for a moment did they question the resolution or the fighting quality of our troops.

"Hundreds of Sherman tanks were taken from the hands of American divisions and sent with the utmost speed around the Cape of Good Hope to Egypt. When one ship carrying 50 tanks was sunk by torpedo, the United States government replaced it and its precious vehicles before we could even think of asking them to do so.

HAILS U. S. TANKS

Played Big Part in Ruin of Rommel's Army

"The Sherman tank was the best tank in the desert in the year 1942 and the presence of these weapons played an appreciable part in the ruin of Rommel's army at the battle of El Alamein and in the long retreat which chased him back to Tunisia.

"At this time, June of last year, June, 1942, when I was here last, at this time also there lighted up those trains of thought and study which produced the memorable American and British descent upon French northwest Africa, the results of which are a cause of general rejoicing today. We have certainly a most encouraging example here of what can be achieved by British and Americans working together, hand in hand. In fact one might almost feel that if they could keep it up there is hardly anything they could not do either in the field of war or in the not less tangled problems of peace.

"History will acclaim this great enterprise as a classic example of the way to make war. We used the weapon of sea power, the weapon in which we were strongest, to attack the enemy at our chosen moment and at our chosen point. In spite of the immense elaboration of the plan and the many hundreds of thousands, even, who had to be informed of its main outlines, we maintained secrecy and effective surprise.

"We confronted the enemy with a situation in which we had either to lose invaluable strategic territory or to fight under conditions most costly and wasteful to him. We recovered the initiative, which we still retain. We rallied to our side French forces which are already a brave, and will presently become, a powerful army under the gallant Gen. Giraud.

"We have secured bases from which violent attacks can and will be delivered by our air power on the whole of Italy with results which no one can measure but which must certainly be highly beneficial to our affairs. We have made an economy in our strained and straitened shipping position worth several hundreds of great ships and one which will give us the advantage of far swifter passage thru the Mediterranean to the east, to the middle east, and to the far east. We have struck the enemy a blow which is the equal of Stalingrad and most stimulating to our heroic and heavily engaged Russian allies. And all this, Mr. President, gives the lie to the Nazi and Fascist thought that parliamentary democracies are incapable of waging effective war. Certainly we shall furnish them with further examples.

"True, I am free to admit that in North Africa we built better than we knew. The unexpected came to the aid of the design and multiplied the results, for which we have to thank the military intuition of Corp. Hitler.

"You may notice, as I predicted in the house of commons three months ago, the touch of the master hand. The vain, insensate obstinacy which condemned Field Marshal von Paulus and his army at Stalingrad has brought this new catastrophe upon our enemy in Tunisia. We have destroyed or captured considerably more than a quarter of a million of the enemy's best troops together with vast masses of material, all of which had been ferried across to Africa after paying a heavy toll to the British submarines and the British and United States aircraft.

Other Operations Due.

"No one could count on such follies. They gave us, if I may use the language of finance, a handsome bonus after the full dividend had been earned and paid. At the time when we planned this great joint African operation we hoped to be masters of Tunisia even before the end of last year. But the injury we have now inflicted upon the enemy physically and psychologically and the training our troops have obtained in the hard school of war and the welding together of the Anglo-American staff machine—these are advantages which far exceed anything which was within our power to plan.

ONE CONTINENT FREE

Praises Unity of Nations in Tunisian Campaign

"The German lie factory is volubly explaining how valuable is the time which they bought by the loss of their great army. Let them not delude themselves. Other operations will unfold in due course. Depending as they do upon the special instruction of large numbers of troops and for the provision of a vast mass of technical apparatus these other operations have not been in any way delayed by the obstinate fighting in northern Tunisia.

"Mr. President, the African war is over, Mussolini's African empire and Corp. Hitler's strategy are alike exploded.

"It is interesting to compute what these performances have cost these two wicked men and those who have been their tools or their dupes.

"The emperor of Abysinnia sits again upon the throne from which he was driven by Mussolini's poison gas. All the vast territories from Madagascar to Morocco, from Cairo to Casablanca, from Aden to Dakar, are under British, American, or French control. One continent at least has been cleansed and purged forever from Fascist or Nazi tyranny. The African excursions of the two dictators have cost their countries in killed and captured 950,000 soldiers.

"In addition, nearly 2,400,000 gross tons of shipping have been sunk and nearly 8,000 aircraft destroyed, both of these figures being exclusive of large numbers of ships and aircraft damaged.

"There have also been lost to the enemy 6,200 guns and 2,550 tanks and 70,000 trucks, which is the American name for lorry and which I understand has been adopted by the combined staffs in northwest Africa in exchange for the use of the word petrol in place of gasoline.

NAZIS CRUMBLING

"Hun Always at Your Throat or at Your Feet"

"These are the losses of the enemy in three years of war and at the end of it all what is it that they have to show? The proud German army has by its sudden collapse, sudden crumpling and breaking up, unexpected to all of us, the proud German army has once again proved the truth of the saying: 'The Hun is always either at your throat or your feet.'

"And that is a point which may have its bearing upon the future.

"But for us, we can say at this stage, arrived at this milestone in the war, we can say one continent is released.

"The northwest African campaign and, particularly the Tunisian climax, is the finest example of the cooperation of the troops of three different countries and of the combination under one supreme commander over sea, land, and air forces which has yet been seen. In particular, the British and American staff work, as I have said, has matched the comradeship of the soldiers of both our countries, striving forward, side by side, under the fire of the enemy.

"It was a marvel of efficient organization which enabled the 2d American corps, or rather army, for that was its size, to be moved 300 miles from the southern sector, which had become obsolete thru the retreat of the enemy, to the northern coast from which, beating down all opposition, they advanced and took the fortress and harbor of Bizerte.

Worked Side by Side.

"In order to accomplish this march of 300 miles, which was covered in 12 days, it was necessary for this very considerable army, with its immense modern equipment, to traverse at right angles all the communications of the British 1st army, which was already engaged, or about to be engaged, in heavy battle, and this was achieved without in any way disturbing the hour to hour supply upon which that army depended.

"I am told that these British and American officers worked together without the slightest question of what country they belonged to, each doing his part in the military organization, which must henceforth be regarded as a most powerful and efficient instrument of war. There is honor, Mr. President, for all, and I will, at the proper time and place, pay my tribute to the British and American commanders by land and sea who conducted or who were engaged in the battle.

HEAVY DUTY AHEAD

Burden of Land Fighting Borne by Russians

"This only will I say now. I do not think you could have chosen any man more capable than Gen. Eisenhower of keeping his very large and heterogeneous force together thru bad times as well as good and of creating conditions of harmony and energy which were the indispensable elements of victory. I wrote in some detail, but I guess not at undue length, upon these famous events, and I shall now return to the general war for a few minutes in which they have their setting and proportion.

"It is a poor heart that never rejoices, but our thanksgivings, however fervent, must be brief. Heavier work lies ahead not only in the European but, as I have indicated, in the Pacific and Indian spheres, and the President and I and the combined staffs are gathered here in order that this work shall be, so far as lies within us, well conceived and thrust forward without losing a day. Not for one moment must we forget that the main burden of the war on land is still being borne by the Russian army.

"They are holding at the present time no fewer than 190 German divisions and 28 satellite divisions on their front. It is always wise, while doing justice to one's own achievements, to preserve a proper sense of proportion, and I therefore mention that these figures of the German forces opposite Russia compare with the equivalent of about 15 divisions which we have destroyed in Tunisia after our campaign, which has cost us about 50,000 casualties.

"That gives some measure of the Russian effort and of the debt which we owe to her. It may well be that a further trial of strength between the German and Russian armies is impending.

Sees New Nazi Drive.

"Russia has already inflicted injuries upon the German military organism which will, I believe, prove ultimately mortal. But there is little doubt that Hitler is reserving his supreme gambler's throw for a third attempt to break the heart and spirit and destroy the armed forces of the mighty nation which he has already twice assaulted in vain.

"He will not succeed!

"But we must do everything in our power that is sensible and practicable, to take more of the weight off Russia in 1943.

"I do not intend to be responsible by any suggestion that the war is won or that it will soon be over. That it will be won by us I am sure. How and when cannot be foreseen, still less foretold.

"I was driving the other day not far from the field of Gettysburg which I know well, like most of your battlefields. It was the decisive battle of the Civil war.

CAN'T ABATE NOW

Enemy Termed Still Proud and Powerful

"No one after Gettysburg doubted which way the dread balance of war would incline, yet far more blood was shed after the Union victory at Gettysburg than in all the fighting which went before. It behooves us therefore, to search our hearts and brace our sinews and take the most earnest council, one with another, in order that the favorable position which has already been reached both against Japan and against Hitler and Mussolini in Europe shall not be let slip.

"If we wish to bridge the slaughter and ruin which this war is spreading to so many lands and to which we must ourselves contribute so grievous a measure of suffering and sacrifice, we cannot afford to relax a single fibre of our being or to tolerate the slightest abatement of our effort.

"The enemy is still proud and powerful. He is hard to get at, he still possesses enormous arms, vast resources and invaluable strategic territory.

"War is full of mysteries and surprises. A false step, a wrong direction of strategic effort, discord or lassitude among the allies might soon give the common enemy the power to confront us with new and hideous steps.

Peril in Long War.

"We have surmounted many serious dangers but there is one grave danger which will go along with us to the end. That danger is the undue prolongation of the war.

"No one can tell what new complications and perils might arise in four or five more years and it is in the dragging out of war and that enormous expense, till the democracies are tired or bored or split, that the main hopes of Germany and Japan must now reside.

"We must destroy this hope as we have destroyed so many others and for that purpose we must beware of every topic, however attractive, and every tendency, however natural, which turns our minds or energies from the supreme objective of the general victory of the united nations. By singleness of purpose, by steadfastness of conduct, by tenacity and endurance such as we have so far displayed—by these and only by these can we discharge our duty to the future of the world and to the destiny of man."

100,000 WOMEN HELD NEED OF INDUSTRY HERE

WMC Official Points to Production Problem.

172 Shifts Granted

Statements of availability have been issued to 172 industrial workers allowing them to switch jobs under the 60 day relaxation of the war man power commission job freeze, William H. Spencer, regional head of the WMC, announced yesterday, applications of 202 workers were denied. In most rejections, he said, the only consideration involved was an increase in pay, which the WMC considers an inadequate reason.

Chicago industries must recruit more than 100,000 women, who are not now in the normal labor force, to maintain the city's war production, said William H. Spencer, regional director of the war man power commission, yesterday in an address at the Chicago Women's club, 72 East 11th street.

He predicted that, by the end of 1943, 62,500,000 persons, or two out of every three Americans between the ages of 18 and 65, would be either in the army and navy or gainfully employed. He said essential activities and war industries would require a total of about 6,500,000 more men and women in December of this year than those activities had in December, 1942.

10,000 Jobs Open Here.

Spencer reported there were 10,000 job openings available thru the United States employment service in Chicago. A study of those jobs, he explained, shows that employers still are reluctant to use women, even in jobs that have been held successfully by women in other parts of the country. He said a nationwide voluntary registration of women might help determine the national supply of women workers and their skills.

"There is some pressure in this state to suspend the law that limits women employés in most industries to a 40 hour week; it is my feeling, in view of outside responsibilities, which most women workers cannot escape, that this question should be studied carefully before any such action is taken," he commented.

Local Hiring Preferred.

Spencer said he thought it advisable to make full use of other available man power before urging housewives to leave their homes, but he said that it probably was better to have wives and mothers from a given area go to work in that area than to have outside workers invade the territory, thereby crowding living and transportation facilities.

Speaking of pay for women workers, Spencer recalled the incorporation of equal pay for equal work into the war man power commission's policy on the employment for women.

SCAN 48 HOUR WEEK PROBLEMS IN STEEL WORK

Exemptions for certain steel mill operations from the mandatory 48 hour work week that became effective generally in the Calumet district May 1 are being studied by the Chicago area director of the war man power commission in collaboration with mill officials and labor union leaders, industry spokesmen disclosed yesterday.

Application of the longer work week in continuous operation departments, such as blast furnaces making pig iron, open hearths producing steel, and primary rolling mills, has proceeded rapidly, mill officials said. In these operations, workers can maintain efficiency on a 48 hour week.

In other finishing operations, such as fabricating sheets, plates, bars, and other steel products where war production board schedules limit output to less than 48 hours' production, the WMC, the industry, and the unions are attempting to formulate a satisfactory program for utilizing the partly employed workers in full operating departments.

WOMEN DRIVERS FOR BUS, STREET CARS PREDICTED

Operators of bus system and local transportation companies were warned yesterday that they will have to train women to run buses and street cars as has been done in some other cities. The statement was made at a conference on war time transit problems in the Palmer House under the auspices of the American Transit association.

TWO BANDITS ROB WOMAN.

A purse containing $17.25 was snatched from Mrs. Lena Thomas, 1714 Burling street, by one of two men who stopped her in front of 1641 North Halsted street, she reported to police yesterday.

You May Never Have To Take Another Laxative

Most constipated people might be as regular as clock-work — if they would only quit worrying — stop being nervous — take more exercise — watch their diet — and get up mornings an hour or so earlier to give bowels time to act. But who can or wants to do all this?

So — the next best thing is to keep the bowels working as regularly and comfortably as we can — and that's where good old Espotabs come in. Why?

Because you may take Espotabs at night and expect results in the morning when you get up without waiting around — because they do not move the bowels so violently as to leave you feeling weak and washed-out . . .

AND because they help give the grand, comfortable, satisfying type of movement that makes the spirits soar — and what sour, constipated person could ask for more? Get Espotabs at your druggist today and take as directed. 25¢.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Warren Doonan, 3354 Union avenue.]

THE QUESTION.

What was the most difficult problem in bringing up your twins?

WHERE ASKED.

The Zephyr Twin club, Morrison hotel.

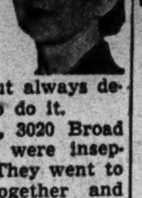
THE ANSWERS.

Mrs. Alex B. Lindsay, 5628 May street—I was thankful my twins were girls because I thought it would be easier to dress them alike and keep them looking like twins. But as they grew older I really had a job to convince the people that they were twins. One was much taller and darker.

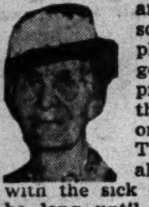
Mrs. Louis Mensinger, 2844 Burling street—To handle and care for one new baby is a job in itself but to have to start all over with another one just doubles the task. The babies were so much alike for the first few months that I was constantly confusing them. More than once one had two baths and the other none.

Mrs. John J. Hesser, 5648 Kimball avenue—It was always my desire to do everything I could to keep my boys together. I encouraged them to become interested in the same things and to go to the same places. Sometimes I wondered if I weren't making them too dependent on each other. Now they are in the army, still together.

Mrs. Harry Cristol, 2837 North Whipple street—Keeping my twins dressed in brother and sister outfits was fun, but the older they grew the more "brother" resented being dressed like a girl. I finally had to give up the idea when they were about 10 years old and then my biggest problem was over.



Mrs. James J. Skarda, 939 Hannah avenue, Forest Park—At first the only way I could tell the babies apart was to tag them. Dressing my identical twins gave me much pleasure but it also was a big problem. I made most of their clothes and each time either could model for me, but always depended on the other to do it.



Mrs. Emma Doonan, 3020 Broad street—My twin sons were inseparable. They went to school together and played and worked together. My biggest problem was to keep them separated when one of them was sick. The other one would always crawl in bed with the sick one and it wouldn't be long until they both had the ailment.

PERMANENT UNIT ON ALLIED FOOD PROGRAM URGED

American Delegates Offer Plan to Parley.

Newstand Curb

Hot Springs, Va., May 19 (AP).—A reporter complained to Chairman Marvin Jones of the allied nations food conference today that newspapers critical of the administration are being kept off the newsstand of the hotel where the conference is being held. Jones expressed surprise and said no action of that nature had been authorized or approved by the conference or any one connected with it. Frank Lee Donoghue, correspondent accredited to the New York Journal American, said papers which had been denied space on the newsstand are the New York Journal American, the New York Daily News, the New York Daily Mirror, and THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

Hot Springs, Va., May 19 (AP).—Creation of a continuing commission to carry out recommendations of the allied nations' food conference was suggested today by American delegates to the meeting of 45 nations seeking a post-war world where no man need go hungry.

The delegates said there is especial need for reporting on expansion and coördination of international organizations already functioning in the agricultural and nutrition fields. And they saw the possibility of developing new kinds of collaboration.

The Americans, it was learned, want the conference's reports to be so clear and authoritative that the peoples of all nations can understand and embrace them.

Move Toward Discussion.

The conference moved tonight toward actual discussion of the problems of post-war production, consumption and distribution listed in its global agenda. Section meetings were in progress all day and into the evening to complete organization of the conference into committees for study and deliberation on specific questions.

Members of the United States delegation meanwhile agreed on the draft of a memorandum designed as a "starting point for discussion."

It was not a formal American plan or proposal but incorporated in general terms the delegation's viewpoint on what the conference might accomplish.

Gist of U. S. Program.

The gist of it, as authoritatively disclosed today, was as follows:

The conference should prepare and issue regular reports shedding light on the importance of nutrition as a factor in human welfare, on the rôle of agriculture in supplying human needs and contributing to world progress and stability, on the importance of modernizing agricultural methods, on the possibilities of greatly expanding production and somehow facilitating—through wider exchange of goods, better transportation and more effective distribution—the stepping up of consumption to keep pace with the world's increased capacity to produce.

Chairman Marvin Jones said today the executive committee of the conference had approved restrictions, imposed by the government on the press, which keeps newsmen out of the hotel where delegates are staying and where the conference does its work, except for specially arranged meetings.

A statement, read to the committee, said the host government is responsible for the arrangements, and denied a disposition to conceal news from the public.

Yep! I'm in the market. Mary says it's going to be this week. And you don't argue with Mary.

Now I'm no wasp-waisted screen star. So you can stow the pretty pictures. And the highfallutin language, too. Way I see it, these are days for plain talk. Fundamentals. Tell me I'm getting pure wool, and I'll listen. Tell me I'm getting plenty of good sewing. Then show me—with a decent fit that'll stay decent. Tell me I won't have to take grey when I want blue. And never mind trotting out any fancy price tags. Sure, I'm making more money. But it's going into tanks and planes for the boys.

So Mary says, "where'll we go?" And I say "Bond's." Why? Maybe 'cause they make and sell more clothes than anyone else. Stands to reason the No. 1 man in any game must be good. Maybe because I've done a little advance snooping—and seen what's what. Or maybe 'cause I'll just feel more at home—with friendly folks who've been doing such an honest job so many years.

Didn't have to sell Mary, either. Say! Looks like she's had her eye on Bond's, right along.

SIPHON CENTRAL AMERICA RUBBER TO U. S. PLANTS

Planes, Pack Trains and River Boats Help.

BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, May 13 [By air mail].—From the far reaches of a 100,000 square mile area in northern Central America, wild rubber is moving by river, railroad, and pack train, to strategic depots from which it is being sped northward by air to the war plants of the United States.

The control center of this vast operation is the office of the Rubber Development corporation, on a narrow, sloping street in Tegucigalpa. Here are coördinated the efforts of thousands of workers deep in the jungles of Guatemala, British Honduras, El Salvador, and Honduras.

The rubber areas of these countries are being worked as a unit separate from those of Nicaragua, Costa Rica, and Panama, to the south. The two most important regions in the northern division are the vast and wild department of Peten, Guatemala, and the northern and eastern departments of Cortes, Santa Barbara, Yoro, Atlantidad, Colon, and Olancho in Honduras.

Pacts Speed Exploration.

Agreements were signed by the RDC and the four countries last August. Explorations were begun immediately to locate the stands of castilloa elastica trees. Rubber hunters plunged into Peten's 13,000 square miles of jungle and morass in the face of extraordinary difficulties.

As searching parties moved southward they found rubber in increasing quantities. The most productive Peten regions, it developed, are along the Usumacinta, Salinas, Pasion, and San Pedro rivers. The next step was to devise a way of collecting the latex and getting the raw rubber out of the jungle.

To this end the RDC engaged as agents the Wrigley Importing company and the Chicklé Development company, which for years have been bringing out the white resin of the chicklé tree to supply the world with chewing gum. Their crews already were on the scene and little training was necessary to convert chickleros into huleros—rubber tappers.

Flown by Army.

Intensive operations now have been under way more than three months. The burrucha, a raw native rubber, is smoked and rolled into balls or reduced to slabs. Most of the rubber begins its journey in shallow draft boats, being transferred to mule trains when the terrain grows sufficiently firm to support them. The first objective is the jungle settlement of La Libertad, centrally situated in Peten. There the rubber cargoes are put aboard planes of the Guatemalan air line, Aerovias, and are flown to Guatemala City.

Larger planes of the army transport command, northbound from the Canal Zone and other bases, pause and load up. In a matter of hours the rubber is within the United States.

Must Fight Jungle.

Rubber operations in Honduras face fewer difficulties, but here, too, the tappers must avoid the pits and traps of the jungle.

The Chicklé Development company crews work the rubber in Honduras, while the United Fruit company and Standard Fruit company serve as buying and shipping agents. The north coast railroads operated by the two companies are links in the rubber trail, which is covered in part by outboard motorboats.

The first rubber shipment from Salvador will move late this month. Production will be small for some time to come, but the quality of the product is infinitely higher.

The bush country of densely populated Salvador has been converted largely into farms and grazing ranges. Rubber production is in the hands of the small farmers—finqueros.

Hopeful for Future.

The rubber region of British Honduras is concentrated in the west central section of the country and lies along the Guatemalan border next to Peten. No great return is expected immediately.

Rubber production figures are, of course, a military secret, but Ernest G. Holt and Merdith Dack of the Rubber Development corporation office here, assert that the present output and future prospects for their four-country region are more than encouraging. Production is increasing steadily, and a long range rubber program is having its beginnings.

E. E. W. writes: "I'd like to know if the merchant marine has a radio training course, and if so what is offered and what rating does one get when the training is completed?"

ANSWER: The United States maritime service offers a radio training course of approximately 28 weeks to young men between 18 and 35 years of age who have an education equivalent to two years of high school. After completing five weeks of basic training the enrolee receives a course of instruction in radio which qualifies him to pass examinations for a commercial radiotelegraph first class operator license. All phases of marine operating are covered, including radio operation, touch typing, operating procedures, radio laws, regulations, international conferences, radio theory, practical laboratory work, actual receiving practice on standard shipboard operating positions, etc. During the basic period the enrolee receives $50 per month, clothing and subsistence. When he enters the radio training period the pay is increased to $54, and upon completion of the course he is in line for pay of $130 per month upward plus clothing, subsistence, quarters, insurance, etc. For further information you should visit the offices of the United States Maritime service, 844 North Rush street, Chicago.

P. D. M. writes: "My son overseas writes and asks me to send him a sweet potato. Don't the men overseas get the kind of food they want? If I send him what he asks for wouldn't it spoil?"

ANSWER: Your son doesn't want the kind of a "sweet potato" that is to be eaten. He wants the pocket size musical instrument popular among Yanks and known as the "Ocarina," which is available at the music stores. It is no longer necessary to have these requests countersigned by a commanding officer when the soldier is overseas, so send it to him.

V. S. writes: "When I registered on Feb. 16, 1942, I registered as being 44 years of age. Recently I discovered that I am 42 instead. How can I have my registration corrected?"

ANSWER: Take your birth certificate to your local board.

G. T. asks: "Can you tell me what 'rotating ankles' are and what effect, if any, they might have with regard to acceptance into the army?"

ANSWER: Medical officers are not familiar with the term, but hazard the guess you may be referring to a congenital deformity. You may also be referring to a condition caused by the imperfect knitting of parts of the ankle joint following a fracture. In any case, unless the condition would make army service impossible you would not be rejected.

E. R. writes: "Several people have told me that not more than three people may write to a man overseas. Is this right?"

ANSWER: No. The more the merrier and the better for the Yank's morale.

EDGE ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR N. J. GOVERNOR

Trenton, N. J., May 19 (AP).—Walter E. Edge, upholding "organization politics," has opened his formal campaign for the Republican nomination for governor with an offer to mediate a patronage battle between Gov. Charles Edison and the Republican controled New Jersey senate.

The former governor, United States senator, and ambassador to France said "there must be a frank give and take policy on both sides, or confusion in government results."

Edison has consistently refused to barter with state senators on patronage and 32 of his nominations are tied up in the senate's judiciary committee.

Edge expressed conviction he would be nominated and elected.

PRESS MUST USE WOMEN IN WAR, EDITORS TOLD

Women who desire to help the nation's war program but do not want to become industrial workers can serve a vital need in the newspaper plants of America, members of the Inland Daily Press association were told yesterday at the concluding session of their 59th annual spring meeting. The publishers were told they must look largely to women for future labor replacements.

Approximately 1,400 prospective newspaper workers are graduated each year by the 33 class A journalism schools of the country, Kenneth E. Olson, dean of Medill school of journalism, Northwestern university, pointed out. Approximately 80 per cent of these graduates are men. This year these schools will graduate 1,014 women and 88 men of 4F classification. This will be far inadequate to meet the demand of publishers for 4,700 replacements.

Col. T. C. Gerber, field director of the nation's ammunition plants, assured the publishers that American troops will never face a shortage of ammunition.

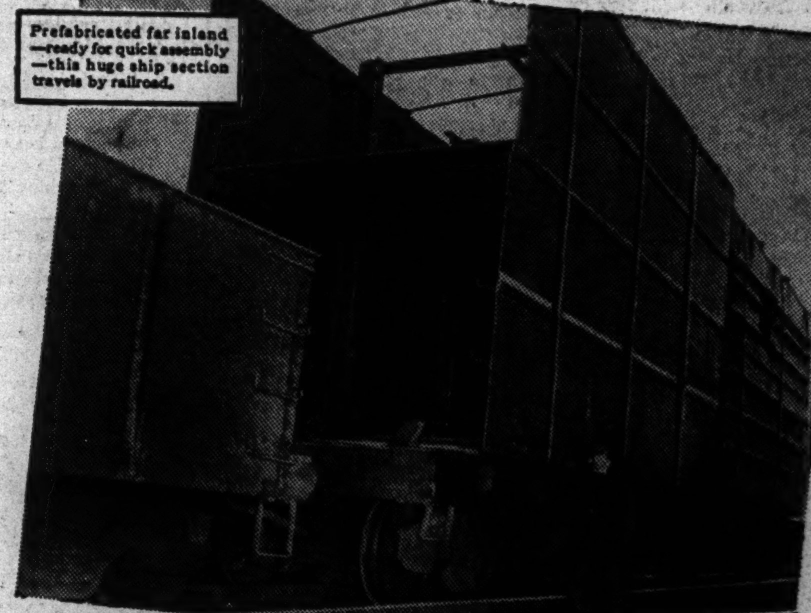
VICTORY SHIPS FIRST LEARN TO TRAVEL ON LAND

YOU may not recognize them even when you see them, but those Victory ships, launched with such amazing speed, actually travel first on land.

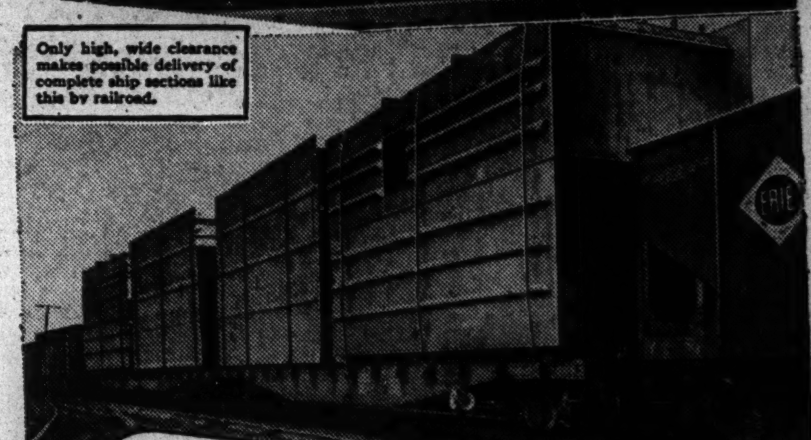
American railroads are carrying these ships in prefabricated sections across cornfields, over mountains, and through valleys to shipyards for quick assembly.

The high, wide clearances of railroads such as the Erie make practical the assembly of these huge ship sections far inland. And this prefabrication is speeding the construction of Victory ships at a record-breaking pace.

America is now producing more ships than all the rest of the world combined! And America's railroads are helping in every way they can to work this production miracle.



Prefabricated far inland—ready for quick assembly—this huge ship section travels by railroad.



Only high, wide clearance makes possible delivery of complete ship sections like this by railroad.

service from Galesburg to St. Louis because of high water.

Crab Orchard lake in Williamson county was reported pouring millions of gallons of water per minute into the Big Muddy river, chief tributary of the Mississippi there.

In Indiana at least 10,000 persons were said to be homeless and uncounted crop and property damage was blamed on the high waters. Military police from Fort Benjamin Harrison, near Indianapolis, were sent to assist local authorities at Peru, Terre Haute, and Washington.

Sandbag Wabash Dikes.

The Wabash river levees at Vincennes, Sullivan, and other cities on the Illinois-Indiana line were sandbagged by weary crews of soldiers and volunteers. Dikes along the Wabash at Clinton, Taylorville, and Prairieton were broken. Several hundred persons were forced from their homes at Peru. Terre Haute had more than 1,000 homeless. Thousands of acres of bottom lands were under water there.

High waters poured into Fort Wayne, forcing 1,500 persons out of their homes and closing down two schools and three factories.

Amphibian jeeps from Fort Harrison were used in rescue work in Indianapolis and vicinity where the White river and tributaries left Ravenswood, a suburb, under seven feet of water.

Highways Are Closed.

The Chicago Motor club said that several roads in Illinois and central Indiana are blocked by high water, altho traffic is still able to get thru to Indianapolis, Louisville, Fort Wayne, and southern Illinois.

The coast guard and army evacuated hundreds of families in St. Charles, Mo., where the Missouri river was expected to reach 36.3 feet, highest since 1903, and sufficient to inundate 90,000 acres. Col. Malcolm Elliott of army engineers predicted a major flood in the lower Missouri basin.

At Bagnell, Mo., the Osage river backed up, threatening a hydroelectric plant which was sandbagged for protection.

In the tri-state mining area of Missouri, Kansas, and Oklahoma, 50 lead and zinc mines were closed by high water.

CROP LOSSES MOUNTING

Crop losses, already heavy as a result of the wet weather, increased hourly yesterday.

The almost continuous rains have brought a crisis to the farmers, and if the weather does not clear agricultural output will suffer severely. Unless the rains stop in a week, it will be questionable whether farmers will be able to plant the normal number of acres, much less increase production.

Another week of rain will put midwestern farmers a month behind schedule. This will mean planting corn in the middle and latter part of June. Corn planted at this late date stands a chance of being caught by the first killing frost of the fall. If this happens the corn either will be lost or so soft as to make poor feed.

Crops May Have Chance.

Most farmers and agricultural experts agreed, however, that if the weather clears now the crops will be put in, lost time will be made up to a great extent, and the harvest will be brought in under the wire.

Fred Blackburn, Marion county farm agent in Salem, said that the greatest trouble caused by the floods was the loss of planting time.

"The farmers would have a hard time under normal conditions getting their crops in because of the labor shortage. Now, however, they will have to telescope that work into an abnormally short period, and this presents a tremendous obstacle," he said.

Farm Work at Standstill.

A survey of the midwest revealed that farm work has been at a standstill since May 6.

In Illinois only 8 per cent of the corn crop has been sown, said A. J. Surratt, senior state agricultural statistician.

What corn has been planted is in poor condition and either has been flooded out or is rotting. Replanting will be necessary, he indicated. The state oats crop was almost completely planted by May 1, and as yet has not suffered severe damage except where it is under water. He estimated that 40,000 acres of wheat have been lost.

In Indiana only about 5 per cent of the corn crop is in the ground. Crop reporters at the college of agriculture of the University of Illinois could give no estimate of the damage suffered so far, but said that three or four more days of rain would bring heavy loss to small grains as well as corn.

In Michigan many fields in the southern part of the state stood under water. Fruit growers were fearful that they would not get good pollination of fruit trees if the rains continued much longer.

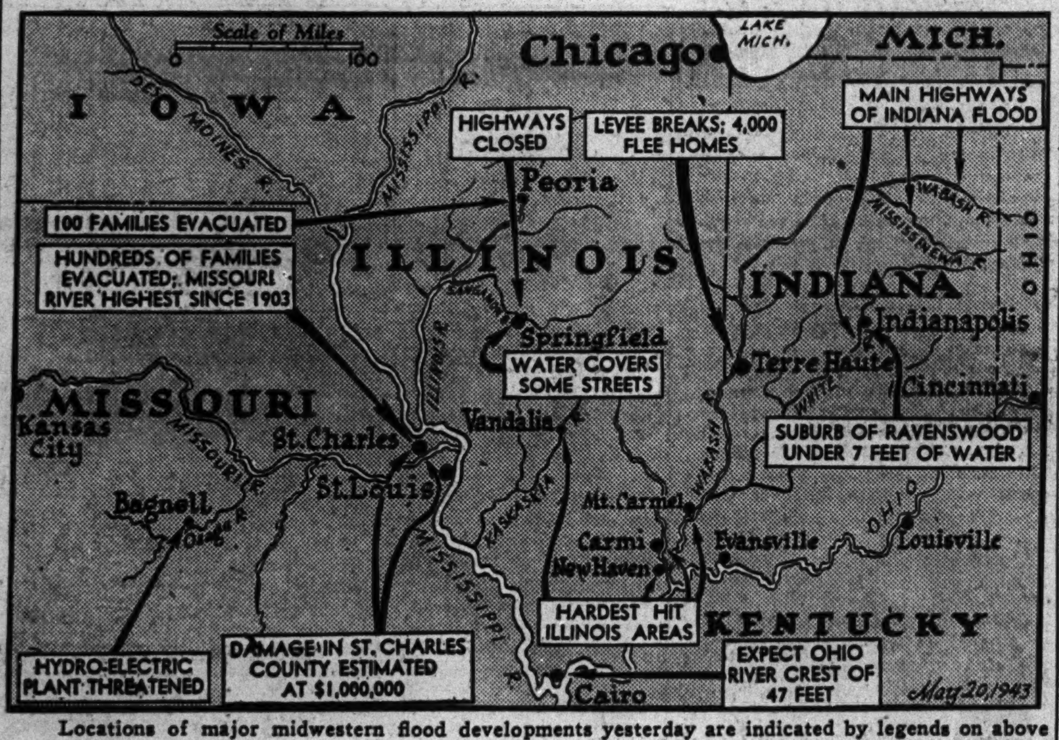
In Iowa only 10 per cent of the corn crop is in and the southeastern and southwestern counties reported water standing in the fields, flooding out small grains and corn.

Washing Away Top Soil.

Farmers have run out of odd jobs and indoor work and are forced to spend their time watching the rain turn their fields into lakes. A tremendous amount of good top soil is being washed away by the rain and gullies are forming in every field where there is a slight slope.

Many farmers are planning to throw manure containing a large amount of straw into the washes to keep them from growing. They will be able to get into the fields with manure spreaders before they can resume work again.

Flood Waters Swirl Over Middle Western States



Locations of major midwestern flood developments yesterday are indicated by legends on above map of high water area.

DENMARK PLANT BLASTED.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, May 19 (AP).—Reports reaching here today from Denmark said that sabotage continues despite King Christian's plea last week against acts of violence. Five saboteurs broke into the Holbaek optical works between Copenhagen and Roskilde, causing two explosions dispatches from Copenhagen said. The report added that police arrested four men and found a fifth dead in a rowboat. Nazi censorship prevented any disclosure as to how the man was killed.

Automatic 14 Day Leaves for Selectees Start Monday

The recently announced policy of granting army selectees a 14 day furlough from the time they are inducted into service until they report to an army camp will become effective in the 6th service command next Monday, Maj. Gen. H. S. Aurand, announced yesterday. All newly drafted men automatically will be given the two week leave unless a specific request is made for immediate transfer to an army camp, Gen. Aurand said.

2 LITTLE GIRLS ENJOY NIGHT OF HIGH ADVENTURE

Borrowed Bikes Give Them Their Start.

Two little Negro girls, out on a rainy evening of adventure, took two bicycles from the Noyes school in Evanston late yesterday and pedaled leisurely a few blocks to an apartment building at 2131 Sherman avenue.

They went to the third floor, where the eldest, 8 years old, broke a glass panel in the kitchen door, unlocked it and entered the apartment of Mrs. Gertrude Mace. Her younger sister, 4, cut her foot on the broken glass, and it was properly washed and bandaged in Mrs. Mace's bathroom.

Food—Then Money.

The injured foot attended to, the pair fried themselves an egg sandwich apiece from Mrs. Mace's larder and proceeded to look around. They found a purse and $7 in cash.

Hunting was good, so they decided to visit the 2d floor apartment of Mrs. Clarence Kenworthy. There they found a coin collection that counted up to $18, but is worth more than $100. About then, Mrs. Kenworthy and her 12 year old daughter, Doris, entered thru the front door.

Mrs. Kenworthy went to the bathroom. She gave the door a push and it was pushed back in her face. Frightened, but determined, Mrs. Kenworthy pushed again, and two little Negro girls went tumbling head over heels into a corner of the bathroom.

Just Like Professionals.

Detectives Harvey E. Ruland and Frank Mountain, who came from Evanston police headquarters on Mrs. Kenworthy's urgent call, dumped the coin collection out of the purse, returned the purloined property to the owners, and turned the two little Negro girls over to their parents.

In his 25 years on the police department, Detective Ruland said, "I never saw a more professional job."

STEAL FILMS FROM SCHOOL.

R. R. Williams, principal of Raymond grade school, 3633 Wabash avenue, told police yesterday that burglars stole four rolls of educational moving films from the school.

6 TIMELY SUGGESTIONS that will make your trip more convenient—and will help bus travel do its big wartime job

1
If week-end jams you'd help unravel—Then pick a mid-week day to travel
Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays are the best wartime travel-times—and you'll leave more seats for the armed forces on week-ends.

Don't wait until mid-summer's here—Go now before the crowds appear
You'll help "balance-up" wartime transportation by going before or after July and August when travel is always heaviest.

3
Now when you take a trip some place Please travel light and save some space
"Budget" your baggage when you travel nowadays—take along less luggage than usual, to save extra handling and extra space.

4
You can't afford to take a chance—Get information in advance
Make a call to Greyhound before you make your plans—get advance information on schedules, fares and bus connections.

5
Please take your Greyhound agent's tips—On which are the least crowded trips
Your Greyhound agent can suggest the right departure times—when more seats are usually available and travel is more convenient.

6
Advice that's good these hectic days—Avoid like sin all Holidays!
There's no place like home on holidays—by avoiding travel at such rush periods you'll avoid overcrowding wartime transportation.

DAY BY DAY ON THE FARM

The FARM by Gail Compton

MAY 20, 1943.

THE farm manager would be in a tough spot if some one were to ask him, "What breed of cattle do you think makes the best beef."

If a visitor wandered down to the feedlot he would say, "O, yes, it's Hereford cattle you prefer." There on the concrete lot are 69 whiteface steers that have been on the farm since last spring. Many of them now are market weight and may be shipped at any moment. Bought at 400 pounds, they now will run 1,100 pounds. The manager is watching the market closely and may send in 10 or 15 soon as sort of a trial balloon to see how a load will fare.

Herefords Are Favorites.

Herefords certainly are a favorite at the farm. For many years they have been the breed chosen for feeding purposes. It has been a ritual every spring to stock the farm with Hereford steers to utilize the corn harvested the previous fall.

Another visitor who chanced to go where the young dairy stock are pastured might exclaim, "I see you prefer Shorthorns as a beef type." He, too, would be correct, for along with the yearling Guernseys are a fine herd of Shorthorn cows and calves. In the bull pens rants a magnificent Shorthorn bull with a pedigree that would put the Pilgrims to shame.

The farm is in the process of establishing a large breeding herd of Shorthorns which not only will put excellent beef on the market, but also will produce fine breeding stock to help improve Shorthorn cattle in the middlewest.

Try Aberdeen-Angus.

If, however, that same visitor had missed the west pastures and ventured near the southern fields on the farm he would be willing to swear that The Tribune farm is preoccupied with raising Aberdeen-Angus cattle. And again he would be right.

Forming a perfect pastoral scene, the black, glistening cattle roam over the newly green pastures. There are 42 heifers in the lot. Newly arrived, they mark another progressive step by the farm in its efforts not only to produce the finest beef, but also to experiment in the comparison of the various beef type animals.

These heifers will be bred this fall to calve next spring. Each animal carries a fine pedigree, and was brought up from the Fox river farm, where a magnificent Angus herd has been established.

Thus the farm manager would have a hard time trying to tell which type of steer was the best for middle western farms. As these cattle fatten and reproduce, faithful reports on their progress will be made in an effort to evaluate their different qualities.

In stories to follow, something of the history and abilities of each type will be discussed. It will be interesting and instructive to follow the accounts of the three different types of animals thruout the coming summer and fall.

The GARDEN by Ben Markland

THE gardener of the sample plots on the Wheaton farm was able to plant a variety of vegetables and garnishes last Friday. Few gardeners have planted anything this month because the May rains have kept their plots so wet that it has been impossible to enter them. The farm gardens, however, are well drained, and dried sufficiently for planting last Friday afternoon.

Weather bureau records show there was only an immeasurable trace of rain on Wednesday, only .01 of an inch on Thursday, and none on Friday. By Friday afternoon, therefore, the gardener was able to put in his vegetables.

He planted a row of Giant Stringless green beans in the small garden, as well as a spice row composed of chives, thyme, parsley, and summer savory.

The following vegetables were planted in the large garden: 300 feet of Burpee's Giant lima beans, 75 feet of Giant Stringless green beans, one row of celery [Giant Pascal and Utah varieties], 50 feet of okra, 50 feet of leek, and 12 chive plants.

Were it left for me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers or newspapers without a government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter. —Thomas Jefferson.

HOW GOOD AN ARMY?

Hanson Baldwin of the New York Times left North Africa when the decision was no longer in doubt and has now published an extensive critique of the campaign. He attributes the victory in large part to the fact that the allies enjoyed overwhelming superiority in man power, guns, planes, and tanks. Thanks to these advantages we were able to overcome mistakes and deficiencies.

Americans will be interested particularly in his comment on the competence of our army. "In the words of many officers," he says, "American ground forces 'are not yet in the same league with the Germans.'" At another point he observes, "the greatest American problem is leadership; the army so far has failed to produce a fraction of the adequate officer leadership needed and far too often it has put round pegs in square holes. A subsidiary problem—which will eventually solve itself under the right leadership—is the American soldier's attitude toward the war; he is not mentally tough or sufficiently determined; part of his heart is in it but only part."

Those are the considered judgments of an experienced observer and they are disturbing. Mr. Baldwin is writing not of raw recruits or of newly activated divisions but of the best that our army has, including its 1st division. If there is poor leadership in such outfits the plight of the army as a whole must be deplorable. If the men in the ranks of the élite divisions are deficient in fighting spirit, what are we to expect of the men in divisions without a fighting tradition?

There was a great deal that was wrong with the army in the last war, but nobody ever criticized it in such terms as Mr. Baldwin has applied. Our élite combat divisions in the last war suffered needless casualties because of inadequate training, but officers and men had what it takes to lick the Germans and the Germans quickly came to know it. Mr. Baldwin suggests that this time determination and fortitude are lacking. If so, why?

The softening effect of years of New Deal pampering, with all the encouragement it has given to self-pity, may provide part of the explanation. Certainly much of the trouble arises from the huge size of the army. For reasons of politics and prestige the army has been expanded far more rapidly than was warranted by the number of competent officers available to train it and the facilities for maintaining an army overseas. The result is that the good officers have been spread thinly over an immense army instead of being concentrated upon the creation of a highly competent force of adequate size. We have paid a high price for megalomania and political conniving in Washington and, unfortunately, there is little reason to think that the final payment on this account has been entered in the books.

CITIZENS BY RIGHT.

The Supreme court the other day found that persons of Japanese blood, born in this country, cannot be deprived of their American citizenship. The question had been raised by a John T. Regan who had brought suit in the federal District court to compel the registrar of voters in San Francisco to strike from the polling lists the names of all citizens of Japanese descent. He argued that "dishonesty, deceit, and hypocrisy are racial characteristics of the Japanese" which make them unfit for American citizenship. The request was refused in the lower court and in the Circuit Court of Appeals and their judgment has now been affirmed, in effect, because the Supreme court declined to review the case.

The decision was a sound one and, indeed, no other finding was possible if the Constitution is to be recognized as the supreme law of the land. A person born in this country is a citizen by virtue of that fact and as long as he behaves himself and stays out of the penitentiaries and insane asylums, his right to vote cannot be taken from him.

The Fourteenth Amendment says "All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the state wherein they reside." The Fifteenth Amendment says, "The right of the citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude." Mr. Regan was asking the courts to declare the Constitution unconstitutional.

The incident serves as another illustration of the value of a written constitution and an independent judiciary as protections of the individual against prejudice and hysteria. Americans may take much satisfaction in the knowledge that their Constitution and their courts have stood the test of war without yielding to the mob.

QUANTITY AND QUALITY.

Last week it was proved that success can be attained by being superior either quantitatively or qualitatively. The lesson was supplied by two of the midwest's most famous athletic contests, the annual Big Ten track meet at Dyche stadium in Evanston and the state interscholastic track and field championships at Illinois memorial stadium at Champaign.

Michigan prevailed over the other nine schools by sheer force of numbers. Not a single contestant from Ann Arbor was able to win a first place medal, but there were so many Michigan men in second, third, fourth, and fifth positions that the team total of points was larger than that of any other school. Fourteen Michigan athletes scored points.

In the other contest at the state university, quality—not quantity—prevailed. Wendell Phillips High school of Chicago, represented by a team composed of only two boys, alone ran up a greater number of points than any other high school. The championship team was composed of Paul Young, who won both the 100 yard dash and the low hurdles, and Ranis Thomas, who placed second to his teammate in the dash and was a close second in the 220 yard dash. Once before, in 1899, two boys from the little town of Biggsville on the Mississippi river, Bell and Daugherty, won the great meet. Two boys from Chicago have now duplicated the feat and we are proud of them.

MR. ROOSEVELT'S CLASS CONFLICT.

Mr. Roosevelt's disregard for equal enforcement of the laws is not new. Many occurrences of it could be recalled. His political theory is one of antagonistic classes which have only animosities in common. He has observed that income distinctions can be made more invidious than any other. Therefore, if a man would be a perennial place holder he would create such feelings if they did not exist, cultivate them if they did, envenom them when opportune, and take his profit. If the place holder is President of the United States he can give his ideas life in law enforcement. Karl Marx in his day couldn't do that.

Mr. Roosevelt's letter to Sen. George and Mr. Doughton, virtually threatening a veto of the senate tax bill, put his objections on the ground that the man of large income would get more benefit from it than the man of small income. Therefore, at a certain point in the income scale the law should not apply. There are congressmen of the same mind. Mr. Roosevelt, to make his point, misrepresented the senate bill. He said that at a time when all taxes must be increased his $100,000 man would receive a cancellation equaling 20 months' income after taxes.

Mr. Roosevelt conceded that the $100,000 man would pay just as much, if not more, money into the treasury this year. What he didn't admit was that he'd pay it next year, and the next, and next, just as every other taxpayer, until the year when his income diminished. Then he'd pay on what he received, the same as everybody else. Mr. Roosevelt wished to convey the idea that the senate bill, by causing the treasury a loss of revenue during the war from persons of high income, would throw new tax burdens on persons of average income. Again there he raised the point of invidious income distinctions in the enforcement of law, dividing the people according to their earnings and withholding law from individuals regarded as unduly if not immorally fortunate in their enterprises and efforts.

It will be recalled that in one of Mr. Roosevelt's early class wars he and his cabinet officers supported the seizure of industrial plants in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana, and Michigan by persons illegally in possession of other people's property. The owners were required to furnish heat, light, and water to make the illegal acts possible, food supplies were passed in under protection and troops were used to prevent the execution of court writs.

Employés who remained in other struck plants to maintain them at the desire of the owners were denied the service of the United States mails. Parcel post packages of food and medicine were not delivered on the excuse that strikers surrounding and besieging the shops had created unusual conditions, making mail delivery hazardous. We probably never had a more complete illustration of unequal administration of law and justice than these instances afforded, but there have been many others in Mr. Roosevelt's promotion of class antagonism and conflict.

In beginning his second term Mr. Roosevelt remarked that in his first term the people he disliked had met their equal. In his second term they would meet their master. As their master, in his third term, he decreed that no one should earn and keep more than $25,000 a year. To keep such a sum the person would be required to earn $67,200 a year and give $42,200 to the treasury. Mr. Roosevelt is well along in his eleventh year in the White House. In that already extraordinary period his mastery of the revenue of successful Americans has been such as to satisfy almost any tax collector who wanted to exploit a class theory and build his rule on the fruits of it.

In discussing new revenues Mr. Roosevelt was compelled to concede that no substantial increases could be expected from the sources which have carried the burden thus far. To increase the rates in this direction would gain little. Even by expropriation of entire incomes the government could not begin to meet its appropriations. Eight years of the New Deal plus two and a half years of New Deal war preparations and war have about liquidated the class Mr. Roosevelt first separated from the mass of citizenship and then dominated. He must turn to the new taxpayers and find many more of them.

The chief executive might offer his third term as proof that the discovery and conduct of the class conflict paid political dividends and he may expect to offer the fourth as a clincher. He may have the argument, if he wants it, but it is to be suspected that his theories of punishable success go deeper than political reasoning, down into his Freudian "id," the receptacle of his very early unpleasant experiences when his father decided that he never would make any money for himself and was not to be trusted with the management of money he was to inherit.

IDEAL CENSORS.

[Providence (R. I.) Evening Bulletin.]

Women make ideal censors. The government has hired over 5,000 of them and is evidently well pleased with their work. It seems they've just the right combination of intuition and curiosity to enable them to detect salient weaknesses and cut them out.

Not that this is anything new. They've been detecting salient weaknesses for centuries. Long before letter writing offered a peculiarly interesting field for their gifts they were censoring one another and the dull, unwitting male, sometimes for the dull, unwitting male's good but mostly for their own amusement. Doing a fine job, too. Conduct, clothes, character, all came under the censor's bright eye.

But it was the written word, the facts right down in black and white, which offered the censor her golden opportunity. Even in the days when the silly notion prevailed that it was dishonorable to read other people's letters, the born censor got round that by saying she had no intention of reading what she saw, only her eye just dropped on it and she—well, she couldn't help going on a bit, could she?

Sometimes when opportunity failed, intuition stepped in and steamed open the flap or held the suspicious document up before a strong light and in this way discovered the salient weaknesses. But it has all been excellent training; for see how nicely it has worked out under the government, which now makes duty a pleasure and the other way round!

PIED PIPER COMES TO LIFE?

This column's daily map reading has aroused a suspicion that the war has caught up with the German city in which the Pied Piper of legend, poetry, and comic opera did his stuff. As every one knows, this place was Hamelin, but if you want to find it on a map of Germany, try Hameln, about midway between Kassel and Hanover. The bombing of the Eder dam has flooded the valley of the Weser, which runs past Hamelin, and it is possible that some of the inhabitants have suffered the fate of the Pied Piper's beguiled and suicidal rats.

• • •

Rats!
They fought the dogs and killed the cats,
And bit the babies in the cradles,
And ate the cheese out of the vats,
And licked the soup from the cook's own ladles.

• • •

A strange-looking fellow wearing a red and yellow coat told the city fathers:

I'm able,
By means of a secret charm, to draw
All creatures living beneath the sun
That creep or swim or fly or run,
After me so as you never saw!

• • •

So he was hired as city exterminator, and he charmed all the rats into the river, but when he presented a bill for 1,000 guilders the city fathers had an acute attack of tightness in the purse strings. Whereupon the Piper played another tune, and the children of Hamelin, 130 by careful German count, followed him up the Bungenstrasse and to a hill called the Koppenberg, where they vanished from mortal ken.

• • •

There is an inscription on the Hamelin city hall to prove this tale, and the sad occurrence is dated July 22, 1376. For many years it was regarded as an historical event.

• • •

The subject has been popular on the lyric stage. In 1908 De Wolf Hopper appeared in the title rôle of a musical show called "The Pied Piper." Another and more melodic treatment of the legend may be found in the old school light opera repertory: "The Piper of Hamelin," by Victor Nessler, also remembered by his "Trumpeter of Saekkingen."

• • •

About 35 years ago a Chicago drama critic had a side line as press agent of the Grand Opera house, then owned by the Hamlin family. Therefore Wilton Lackaye, an actor famed for wit and sarcasm, nicknamed him, "The Paid Piper of Hamlin."

ON GOING TO THE WARS.

It is a wildly whirling world, my son,
Blown from its orbit by the breath of war;
A strange, new nebular phenomenon,
Where destinies unknown enshrouded are.
A score move on tho thousands prostrate fall,
And little clouds compacted all of fire
Assert a new dominion and a call
To waken new and quiet old desire.

You who at such a time with youth are graced,
Wear on your epaulettes the dignity
Of strong hopes felt and never quite embraced
By weak and struggling brave humanity.
To you and to your generation, hail!
Your glory's up. I pray you do not quail!

When Boys Come Down with Measles.

"Well, my girl," said Ferdinand, my silver tabby, as he watched the policeman remove the measles sign from the front door, "you can cross that one off your list."

"You'd be surprised," I said cynically. "There are several varieties of measles and what we've had, chum, was the simple species. One of these days we'll have the humdinger variety and heaven help us."

"Count me out," he groaned. "I couldn't take it. I have chased more marbles these last few days, played circus in more bedclothes, eaten more scraps of food so as to send the trays back clean to the kitchen and help the boys win their awards, listened to more vile radio programs which kept me wide awake, had my tummy tickled more often to start me fighting, been frightened out of my wits more times by imitation dog barking . . . in fact, I feel like a complete moron. I say, won't it be lovely tomorrow when the boys are back in school and we can just live normally?"

I agreed heartily.

"I made one mistake, tho," said Ferdinand. "I should have kept track of the number of hours that I was on duty. What a story! Can't you just see my picture spread all over the front pages and the caption: 'Ferdinand, the Silver Tabby, Graduates as Nurses' Aid'?"

LOVE SONG FOR MUSIC.

You are the morning skies and I
A wave upon the sea beneath;
Touch me to radiance, beloved;
Give me your sunbeams for a wreath.

You are the noonday heavens and I
A bird that climbs the burnished height;
Lacquer my breast with gold and stain
My wings from tip to tip with light.

You are the darkening twilight sky
When winds die on the peaceful air,
And I the shadowed cypress tree;
Give me your stars to wear!

ALLERGY AND SPRING HOUSECLEANING.

In many parts of the country, pollen from spring flowers [including trees and grasses] will usher in the hay fever season. Episodes of sneezing plus bleary eyes will be more frequent with susceptible individuals.

But "rose" colds are not the only scenes that this disorder can portray. We must include asthma, migraine, various skin irritations, eczema, acne, and digestive disturbances. It has been stated that 10 per cent of our population will be afflicted in one fashion or other. Fortunately, most attacks will be mild. With a few, however, discomfort or unsightly blemishes will prove bothersome.

Where does the tendency come from? Well, we can blame mother, father, or several generations of forefathers. If both parents are affected, three out of five of the children will exhibit the ailment in some form.

Many will respond only to material that is inhaled. Absorption along the airways will be sufficiently extensive to cause trouble. In most localities, ragweed does not blossom until late summer but we will encounter emanations from trees and shrubs, chiefly oaks, elms, box elder, etc. Those who live in the country or adjacent to fields or vacant lots may observe a day or two of distress with the advent of the early grasses.

Spring house cleaning may become a baneful factor. So much dirt is stirred up that a two or three day session will plunge the homemaker into a real illness. The bout may be severe enough to oblige her to go to bed. The first symptom, dryness and redness around the nostrils, is a sure sign that house dust is the culprit.

Every time the drapes are changed, a few will suffer a nasal infection of several days' duration. The origin is more than the accompanying lowered resistance due to fatigue. The fact is that so many particles are inhaled that the mucous lining of the airways reacts violently. A week or 10 days may be needed for recovery and, for a time thereafter, even the use of a dust cloth may bring a return of congestion.

Most patients become immunized to minor irritants. In other words, we can wear down the difficulty by the simple process of reducing the number of contacts. If the air of the room is filled with moisture, dust will be less noticeable. Those who are annoyed persistently may employ nasal filters. I have a friend who each spring is obliged to take up his residence for a week or more on the 20th floor of a city hotel to escape the blooms of his Michigan environment.

Cosmetics must not be forgotten. Those who are sensitive should be cautious about changing the brand of face powder, talcum, etc. Before taking on a new beautifier the skin may be tested to make certain that all is well. Toilet articles are available which do not contain orris root, a well known offender.

It is never wise to allow hay fever or any other type of allergy to get a head start. A mild seizure this year may be far more serious next season. Of course, food is a possibility but that is another chapter.

REGENERATING CELLS.

D. P. writes: Can anything be done for a damaged liver?

REPLY.

Yes—remove the source of the responsible poison and follow a diet rich in glucose. Sugar has considerable power in rehabilitating injured cells.

BALD SPOTS.

A. D. writes: What is alopecia areata?

REPLY.

Loss of hair over a definite area. More than one bald spot may develop. As a rule, the locks return in time. A high vitamin diet is advised.

NOT SO.

W. O. writes: I have heard that the skin of a person born prematurely is sensitive thruout life. Is this true?

REPLY.

No. These individuals are normal in every respect once growth starts.

HOW THE PROPAGANDA WORKED.

Belleville, Ill., May 14.—When Clarence Streit's "Union Now" came out, it was considered a fantastic dream, and little attention was paid to it. It now appears that its publication was one phase of the campaign of the internationalists to soften us so that we would be receptive to their plans.

Their first move was made several years ago in the publication of so-called debunking biographies. A studied attempt was made to belittle the men who were active in the making of our nation. The human frailties of men like Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, Franklin and others who were held up as outstanding examples of Americanism were magnified and gleefully advertised and their great virtues glossed over.

Then came the history pedagogs. The textbooks used in teaching this subject were revised and the stirring incidents in our history, which tend to instill patriotism and love of country in our hearts and make us proud to be called Americans, were often suppressed. In the course of time American history was not even taught in some of our schools but was replaced by social science with the use of textbooks reeking with New Dealism and foreign philosophy.

Then came novels like "Oliver Wiswell" and "Sergeant Lamb's America" with the Revolutionary war as a background. Both books and others like them are propaganda against our country and what it stands for. Our forefathers are pictured as pockmarked traitors and rascals, who were a craven, cowardly, swindling, hypocritical mob, led by ignorant, rabble rousing demagogs.

Many believe that all these efforts to belittle our country are a well planned scheme for the purpose of undermining our pride as Americans and our faith in our country and its institutions. The internationalists now feel that the time is ripe to shove us into the British empire.

PASSING UP THE YOUNGSTERS.

Chicago, May 10.—In our factory there are many young men, aged 18, 19, and 20, who run errands, carry loads, and clean up—all inconsequential work—all signed up for the draft some time ago. Some have received their questionnaires but as yet none has been called for his first physical test. All claim they are anxious to go.

But here is the joker: At least 25 men in their 30s and married, formerly 3-A recently have been called for their physicals and placed in 1-A. Their leaving will cause turmoil in our factory, as all have done their job for years and are needed here. They are at an age where the army admits they make poor soldiers and their going will break up established United States homes.

Could not an explanation be required of Washington as to why married men [admittedly needed at home] over 30 years old [admittedly not wanted by the army], old reliable employés [certainly like gold to industry], are hurried off while teen age boys with no ties, who want to go, are not called?

BOLD THIEF.

Chicago, May 10.—My sister was doing her homework on her lap on the Douglas Park "L" last Wednesday, and her pen slipped to the floor and caught in the grooves of the floor. My sister was attempting to lift it out with the aid of a pencil when an elderly woman, about 55, flashily and expensively dressed, wearing a huge diamond ring, stooped for the pen. My sister thought she was going to help her, but instead the woman snatched up the pen and quickly put it into her purse. In the argument that ensued, the woman stoutly maintained she "dropped my pen, which was given to me by my son in the marines" yet she couldn't name the brand of the pen or furnish any means of identification. They got off the "L" at Marshfield and talked to the Rapid Transit man there, but he told them it was a case for court. My sister, being young and inexperienced in anything about thievery, thought she wouldn't be able to prove anything, and also thought it would involve court costs greater than the $3.25 she paid for it. And so this woman, dressed like a society dowager, is now the possessor. To add to it all, this brand of shorthand pen will not be made for the duration.

A LANDLORD'S TROUBLES.

Chicago, May 15.—In reply to Mrs. M. C. Hemmerling, Mrs. C. Otte, and others, how would you like to rent to parents with "good children" and then have them move in, only to find out that they jump rope, roller skate, play ball, tap dance to the radio, and run like mad from one end of the apartment to the other? When I objected to roller skating and jumping rope on the hardwood floors I was told the children need freedom.

Another tenant has a boy of 11 who used a "dart" to amuse himself by making holes in the walls as large as quarters, sliding on the uncovered bedroom floors as if they were a dance hall, running up and down stairs hundreds of times and yelling at the top of his voice like a maniac.

These are only a few of the reasons why I am going to put out a "For Rent" sign this next renting season with "Adults Only" on it.

The children are the product of selfish, thoughtless, and indifferent parents. No more children in my building, not because I dislike them, but because of their parents.

A Disgusted Property Owner.

FARM CLUB.

Sheboygan, Wis., May 12.—It certainly looks as if the Cubs' management will never learn. They are the farm club of the National league. Bringing up good players is their habit and giving them to other teams doesn't seem to bother them.

However, it bothers the fans. This Novikoff deal certainly is another disgusting act. Lou played good ball for the Cubs last year after getting off to a bad start and we think he has good grounds for holding out. They certainly could use him and we are sure all Cub fans would be happy to see him in the fold.

THE MORGAN PARK SHOOTING.

Chicago, May 16.—The officer who shot and killed a 16 year old schoolboy in Morgan Park should be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. Just to suspend him and his partner for further investigation is not enough; not because the boy killed was a Negro, but because it shows ignorance upon the part of officers of the law, in a country where we have a democracy, and are fighting to make democracy safe thruout the world, to shoot down a schoolboy in the name of the law.

Have we come to the point that officers of the law, because they are permitted to carry arms, have a right to shoot children down in the streets? We are fighting today to put down such brutality.

A SCOT LIKES IT.

GLASGOW, Scotland, April 20.—May I say that I think your post-war plan to merge this country with the United States is a very fine one.

You have picked the countries which, in my opinion, would constitute a strong, healthy, and prosperous band of people. I can't understand why Ireland hasn't been included, for there are some fine people in it. I think you would find the plan would be welcomed here. Many people like myself intended to come to the United States after the war, if employment is available. I wish you luck and may your plan succeed. It won't be for the want of my coöperation anyway.

IMPLIED LEASE RENEWAL.

Chicago, May 8.—[Legal Friend of the People].—I seek information in regard to leases renewed automatically upon payment of the first month's rent of the following year. I signed a lease for rental of an apartment from October, 1937, to October, 1938. The lease has no special clauses. I have considered this lease effective for the years 1939 thru 1943, inclusive, because the owner has not notified me otherwise and I hold rental checks indorsed by him.

1. Am I correct in considering the lease to be in force?

2. Recently I received notice that the premises have been offered for sale and that after July 1, 1943, my rental will be on a month to month basis.

3. If the answer to question 1 is yes how much time must be granted after Oct. 1, 1943, before I must vacate the premises if the building is sold?

T. W.

1. Yes. Where a tenant under a lease for a definite term holds over beyond the term and the landlord accepts additional rent, these circumstances, in the absence of other circumstances showing a contrary intent on the part of the landlord, result in a renewal by implication so that neither party can terminate the tenancy nor increase the rent during such renewal.

2. The owner would have no right to make such a change during the renewal year.

3. We would advise giving 60 days' notice, since there have been some authorities treating such tenancy as a tenancy from year to year.

REFUSE CURBS IN STATE BILL TO RECLASSIFY JOBS

Table Daley Amendments to Deny Green Control.

BY JOHNSON KANADY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 19.—Democratic members of the Illinois senate, led by Sen. Richard J. Daley [D., Chicago], failed today in what observers termed an attempt to destroy Gov. Dwight H. Green's job reclassification bill.

However, the Republican majority acceded to one Democratic objection and amended the bill to make mandatory a $10 increase for all employés receiving less than $200 a month and less than the maximum wage for their classification allowed under the measure.

Sen. Arnold P. Benson [R., Batavia], senate majority leader, introduced the amendment which would raise the salaries of more than 12,000 state employés. As originally planned, the salary raise would have been effected by executive order.

Six Amendments Tabled.

Daley failed in an attempt to push thru six other amendments which would have taken administration of the measure from the governor and put it in the hands of the civil service commission.

The Daley amendments were tabled on Benson's motion.

At the same time, Sen. Thomas P. Gunning [R., Princeton], chairman of the senate appropriations committee, announced that a special subcommittee would meet at noon Monday to study charges that elective officers' employés are receiving a higher percentage of raises under the new appropriation bills than are the employés of code departments.

Show Unequal Increases.

Budget figures have shown that some elective officers' planned expenditures for personal services show greater increases than those of code departments. However, observers said that such higher increases may be shown to be necessary in the light of present lower rates in those offices.

The senate today passed by a 30 to 8 vote the amended bill to expand the services of Southern Illinois Normal university at Carbondale.

Favor Relief Merger.

The senate committee on public health today reported favorably on the series of bills which would place administration of aid to dependent children, old age assistance, and other assistance matters under the Illinois public aid commission.

Miss Martha Phillips of the bureau of public assistance of the social security board asked that the bills be amended later on second reading to remove a clause giving preference to present IPAC employes.

Slain Mail Order Bride's Property Sold for $900

Approximately 300 persons, many of them curiosity seekers, visited the bungalow at 7840 Kenwood avenue yesterday where representatives of the public administrator's office sold at auction the furnishings belonging to Mrs. Ella Mae Landquist Puckett, slain "mail order" bride. About $900 was realized from the sale, said Jack Rubens, chief investigator for the office.

STATE AIRPORT BILL IS PASSED BY LEGISLATURE

Both Houses Concur in Revised Measure.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 19.—Passage of the airport authority bill was completed in both houses of the legislature today. Backers of the measure say that its importance to the aviation industry in Illinois will be as great as the hard roads program was to the automobile industry after World War I.

Voters in local referendums may create airport authorities under the bill. These new taxing bodies would be empowered to levy a tax of 15 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, and to issue bonds up to 1 per cent of the assessed valuation. They could buy land and make all necessary improvements for airports.

Farm Bloc Weakens.

After passage by the house with its emergency clause by a vote of 126 to 0, the measure was rushed back to the senate, where it was given immediate concurrence. Farm bloc opposition had vanished. Gov. Dwight H. Green is expected to sign the bill tomorrow.

Aviation minded today, the house also passed a series of bills to permit the state to coöperate with the federal government to construct flight strips adjoining highways. The only state spending involved would be for planning.

A measure to qualify youths of 16 for chauffeurs' licenses during the war was stalled today when it received 99 votes—three short of passage with the emergency clause. An attempt to pass the bill without the emergency clause is expected soon. This bill would limit the duties of the boy chauffeurs to trucks under two ton capacity within 100 miles of their places of employment. The minimum age now is 18.

Favors Political Rule.

Democrats failed to help the Republican majority get 102 votes needed for house concurrence in a senate bill for a $206,000 deficiency appropriation for the Illinois state training school for boys. Some G. O. P. members joined with the Democrats in criticism that theorists are running the institutions at St. Charles and Sheridan. Further consideration of the bill was postponed.

"If these places are run politically they can be run more economically and efficiently than they are now by social service workers," said Rep. John W. Lewis Jr. [R., Marshall].

Introduced today was a bill which would take from Mayor Edward J. Kelly the power to appoint Chicago park district commissioners. Two commissioners would be elected in each of the five voting areas and an 11th would be elected at large, beginning in November, 1944. Representatives Stanley C. Armstrong and Alan E. Ashcraft Jr., Cook county Republicans, are the sponsors.

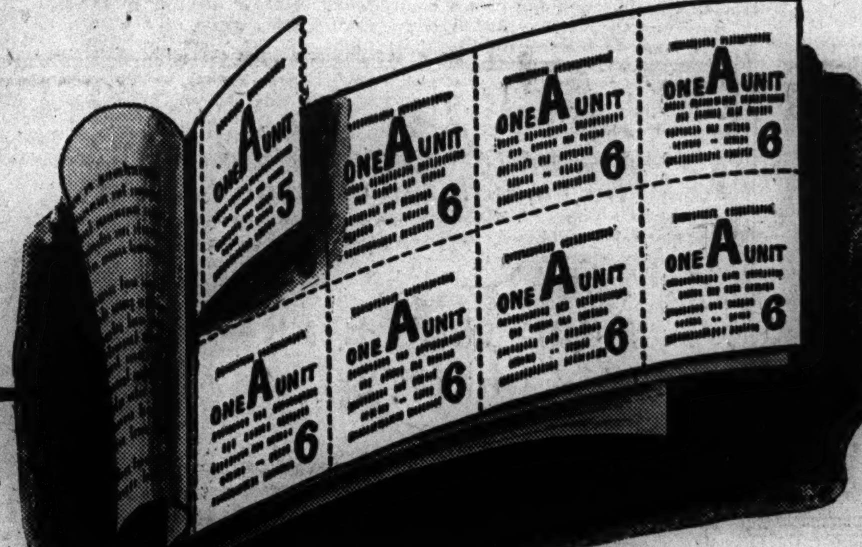
LAST DAY for No. 5 gasoline coupons MAY 21st!



...time to change your motor oil, too!

WHEN your driving is cut to an absolute minimum, you're apt to forget to change your oil regularly. That's only natural.

But the fact is, less driving means you should be even more careful—for two reasons!

1. Even the finest motor oil you can buy is exposed to dust, impurities and other contaminants carried through the air. Though your oil lies idle in your crankcase, partially burned fuel particles are constantly promoting oil deterioration.

2. In addition, with today's short-trip driving at lower driving speeds, your engine does not get hot enough to "cook off" water formed by combustion and condensation. This water accumulates in your crankcase and further contaminates your oil.

Stay on the safe side—let your Shell dealer change your oil today and every time you go to a new coupon number—every 60 days!

SHELL
GROUND CREW SERVICE

SHELL DEALERS who display Shell's Ground Crew Service Wings treat your car like a plane. Ground Crew service is an essential wartime service patterned after the rigid maintenance of the U. S. Army Air Forces. It's designed to help your car outlast the duration.

Also time for Shellubrication

When you are having your oil changed, it's a good time to get a Shellubrication job—it's the right amount of the right Shell Lubricants in the right places. And you get a written guarantee with every job!

1 COMPLETE LUBRICATION of all moving parts with fresh Shell Lubricants. Inspection of transmission and differential lubricant levels.
2 BATTERY CHECK—Especially important now, as reduced driving may have allowed strength to fall below normal.
3 RADIATOR CHECK—Inspection of all cooling-system hose connections.
4 SPARKPLUG CHECK—Cleaning and adjusting if necessary. Dirty plugs can waste up to 10% of your gasoline.
5 CLEANING of all windows and interior of car. Inspection of fan belts, lights and other motor accessories.
6 TIRE CHECK—Inspection, correct inflation, switching if needed. Don't let your tires wear down beyond the re-capping point.

Elaine Gregory Is Married; Other Wedding News Told

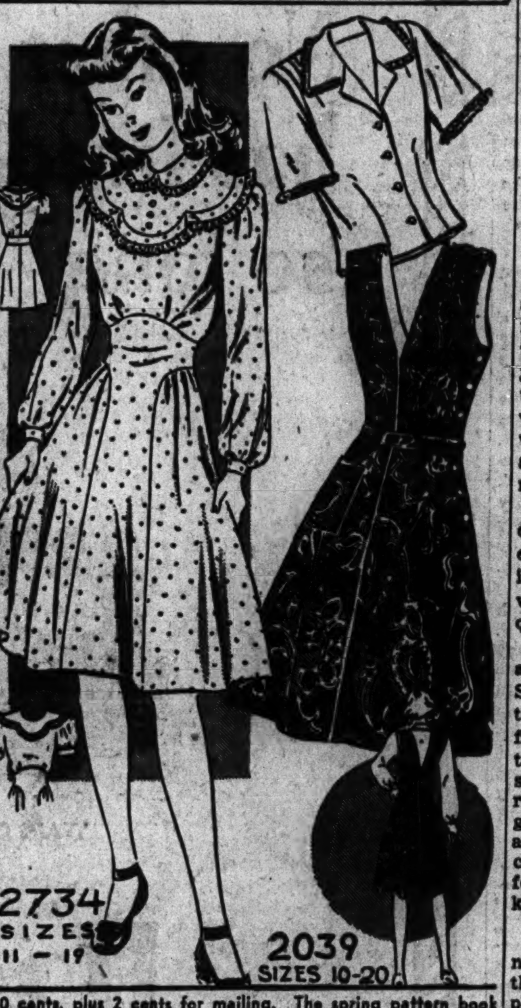
The marriage of Miss Elaine Gregory to Lt. Charles Ortman of the marine air corps, which was postponed from Tuesday night because the bridegroom was not able to arrive in time, took place last night at St. Luke's Episcopal church, Evanston, with a reception following at the Georgian hotel, given by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Eugene Gregory of Evanston. Lt. Ortman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Ortman, also of Evanston, and his bride will live in Florida. The bride attended Bradford Junior college and the Career institute. Lt. Ortman attended Denison university and has just received his wings. His sister, Miss Elaine Ortman, was maid of honor, and the other attendants included the bride's brother, John Raymond Gregory, and his wife, of Manitowoc, Wis.

The marriage of Miss Jean Lois Kollar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Kollar of Fargo avenue, to Douglas Graham Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Graham of Steamboat Springs, Colo., will take place at 2:30 p. m. on Saturday in the chapel of the First Methodist church, Evanston. Miss Kollar was graduated from Northwestern university and her fiancé from the University of Michigan. Mr. Graham and his bride will live in Chicago after a short wedding trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Boehme of West 54th street announce the marriage on April 10 of their daughter, Louise, to Lt. Ernest L. Krieger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Krieger of Coloma, Mich. The wedding took place in St. Stephen's Evangelical Lutheran church. Lt. Krieger and his bride are at home in Columbia, S. C. He was graduated from Olivet college, Olivet, Mich.

Miss Helen Gertrude Friesen, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Friesen of Glendale, Cal., and Frank William Furry II., son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Furry of Chicago, were married on May 8 in the home of the bride's parents in Glendale. The bride attended Scripps college. Mr. Furry attended Northwestern university and was graduated from the University of Michigan and also studied at the Harvard business school. He and his bride will live in Manhattan Beach, Cal.

For the Subdeb Wardrobe



The clothes-conscious subdeb likes high fashion frocks, but they must be suitable for her age, not too sophisticated. Both these designs, one for a dressy frock and the other for a jumper, should please both the young girl and her fashion mentor.

Style No. 2734 is designed for sizes 11 to 19. Size 15 requires 3⅝ yards of 39 inch material with 2¼ yards of edging.

Style No. 2039 is designed for sizes 10 to 20. Size 16 requires, for blouse, 1⅝ yards of 35 inch fabric with 2 yards of ruffling; for jumper, 3 yards of 35 inch fabric.

Each pattern is 10 cents, plus 2 cents for mailing.

Order Clotilde patterns from Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Annex, NEW YORK CITY. Print name and address; state size. Each pattern is 10 cents, plus 2 cents for mailing. The spring pattern book is 15 cents, 10 cents if ordered with pattern.

Thru the Looking Glass

Youthful nail biters are a problem to parents, who are driven to distraction at the sight of their offspring contentedly munching away at down-to-the-nub nails.

Nagging and scolding may have some effect, but more often it results in the youngster surreptitiously continuing the habit or heatedly denying the accusation on the grounds that they weren't actually biting the nails, only moistening them a bit.

A far better approach is to appeal to the child's pride and point out the disfiguring effect on the hands.

Little girls may be taken to a beauty parlor for a professional manicure and when the bedraggled nails bear some resemblance to normalcy the young miss will think twice before spoiling their new beauty. Boys are not so easily corrected, since they'd probably balk at submitting to a professional manicure.

However, if mother is willing to take the time, she can give a home manicure that will help to eliminate much of the trouble. The nails should be kept quite short and all hangnails and ragged cuticle trimmed off. Keep the cuticle softened with a soothing oil and teach the child to push it back with a towel after washing the hands.

Fortunately, most youngsters overcome the habit eventually, but we have seen some sorry cases of nail biting carried into adult life. Young women who are otherwise perfectly groomed will keep the fingers curled up to hide nails that are sadly disfigured by constant biting.

And we've found that the greater majority of them are ashamed to visit a manicurist and take the step toward correction. It's a silly attitude to assume, since a manicurist is only too happy to help her customer and start her on the road to well groomed hands.

New Addition to Gift Shop at St. Luke's Open

BY ELEANOR PAGE.

"The Shop," as the gift shop in the lobby of St. Luke's hospital is identified simply by a small sign, was always crowded when it consisted of two small rooms. The addition of a magnificently striped new room and a convenient kitchen will not alleviate that condition, judging from the crowds that came to the opening yesterday, but the woman's board of the hospital, which conducts the shop, will be able to take care of an increasing number of customers more easily.

The shop's soda fountain has been doing a rushing business at luncheon and dinner time with doctors, internes, nurses, student nurses, as well as visitors popping in for a quick sandwich and coffee.

"Sometimes they stand five deep around the counter," said Mrs. Selim W. McArthur, chairman of the shop committee. Now the overflow will be able to sit at additional tables in the new room that is striped horizontally in silver and red. A huge bouquet of white stock, gladiolas, and peonies stood before a sliding silver panel that was closed yesterday, but thru which food will be passed from the kitchen starting today.

"We will serve one hot dish at night from now on, but only one, there won't be any choice," explained Mrs. Grant Laing in outlining the shop's new service.

The work at the shop is done by volunteers during the day, and the most popular of these in the hospital as a whole are the young girls in their smart peach colored frocks who wheel the shop's cart thru the wards.

From it patients may purchase cigarets, candies, magazines, games, stationery, and dozens of odds and ends. "Believe me, they're disappointed if the cart doesn't come thru," added Mrs. Edwin W. Ryerson, vice chairman of the shop.

"They have the most marvelous back rub lotion in the world" guarteed the woman's board president, Mrs. John W. Gary. Attractive baby things, bedjackets, and books also are available in the shop. All of the proceeds go toward free care for patients unable to pay for hospital beds.

Lt. [j. g.] William E. Dunshee, who came to the opening with his wife, who is Dr. and Mrs. McArthur's daughter, had a busy time officiating at the punch bowl. The McArthurs' other daughter, Mrs. John Whiting, had her camera in her hand. Dr. and Mrs. Frank E. Brawley, Mrs. John C. Pitcher, Mrs. Louis C. Sudler, in a nurse's aid uniform; Mrs. Richard K. Juergens, Mrs. Chauncey Borland, Mrs. Huntington B. Henry, and Miss Cornelia Conger were others there.

Front VIEWS and PROFILES

BY MARCIA WINN

The Star Spangled Lullaby.

Cradle to grave patriotism is the order of the day, but until yesterday we never had really believed it. Then came word from Paul F. Stoeck that his 9 month old daughter can be lulled to sleep by nothing but "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

"Other tunes leave her cold," this fond father wrote, "but that one produces that contended look, and she's asleep about the fourth time thru."

And who, we might ask, would not be?

Paging Emily.

The civilian's plight in this war is not fully appreciated. Soldiers, sailors, and marines have handbooks to instruct them in war time courtesies, but no one has done anything for the civilian [male] who escorts a WAAC. What, in this changing world, is he to do about the long established courtesies?

Suppose, suggests Frank Rand, he is accompanying a resplendent WAAC up or down the street. She repeatedly exchanges smart salutes with other uniformed men and women, or she nods salutations to acquaintances in mufti. Should he touch his hat only when his companion greets civilians? Should he doff his threadbare felt when she salutes, or is saluted by, other uniforms?

To add to the confusion, what about the traditional military courtesy which places the highest ranking officer on the right of other officers with whom he is walking? If the ranking officer is a WAAC, should she take the right? And should an army captain always walk on the right of a WAAC lieutenant? And if a civilian, an army lieutenant, and a WAAC lieutenant are strolling together, what should the civilian do? Hide?

Somewhere there must be a Mr. Post who can settle this.

Rusty.

Rusty, the little brown cocker spaniel who became famous as the pet of Gerard Darrow, the Quiz Kid, is dead. Pictured in hundreds of magazines and newspapers thruout the country, Rusty basked in reflected glory. He seemed to know that he belonged to a little 10 year old boy whose love and knowledge of animals and birds has adult ornithologists sitting back on their heels. He was self-appointed custodian of the smaller animals in the Darrow household, assisted Gerard on bird walks, turtle and snake hunts, and whenever Gerard went swimming, Rusty did, too.

Sometime ago Rusty became a private first class in Dogs for Defense. This was merely a nominal honor, making him a soldier in name only, and was gained when a Darrow admirer gave $5 to Dogs for Defense in Rusty's name. It entitled him to wear a brass identification tag labeled "Private First Class," and Gerard's schoolmates at the Bradwell school were so overjoyed they saluted him whenever he came to the playground.

He died a week ago of a combined pneumonia and jaundice and was buried with military honors.

Public Health Nurses' Section to Hold 2 Day Meeting at Springfield

A two day spring conference of the public health nursing section of the Illinois State Nurses association will open Saturday in the Leland hotel at Springfield, Ill., with a luncheon at which the 9th district nurses association will be hostesses.

At 3 p. m. Hedwick Trauba, supervising nurse of the division for physically handicapped children at the University of Illinois, will give a demonstration of the Nurse Kenny treatment for infantile paralysis. At an informal dinner that night, Ruth A. Heintzelman, R. N., public health nursing consultant of the United States public health service, will discuss "How Are We Meeting the War Time Nursing Needs?"

June A. Ramsey, R. N., executive secretary of the association, will speak on "The Activities of the State Nursing Council for War Service" at a 12:30 p. m. luncheon Sunday. A business session will be held at 11 a. m. Sunday.

Less Familiar Opera Affords Fine Evening

"THE GONDOLIERS."

Opera in two acts by W. S. Gilbert and Arthur Sullivan. Presented by the Boston Comic Opera company, R. H. Burnside, director, in the Studebaker theater, Wednesday evening, May 19, 1943.

THE CAST.

The Duke of Plaza-Toro	Florenz Ames
Luiz	Roland Partridge
Don Alhambra Bolero	Robert Pitkin
Marco Palmieri	Morton Bowe
Giuseppe Palmieri	Lewis Pierce
Antonio	Gordon Stner
Francesco	Frank Murray
Giorgio	Robert Eckles
The Duchess of Plaza-Toro	Catherine Judah

Giulia	Mary Lundon
Vittoria	Phyllis Blake
Inez	Florence Kossel
Conductor	Louis Kroll

BY CECIL SMITH.

"The Gondoliers" was added to the Gilbert and Sullivan repertory of the Boston Comic Opera company, and a rollicking addition it is. Its characteristically contrived story, less familiar to Chicago audiences than such staples as "The Mikado" and "H. M. S. Pinafore," discloses the tale of two Venetian gondoliers who, to their surprise, find themselves sharing the throne of the mythical kingdom of Barataria.

One of the gondoliers, you see, was thought to be the heir to the throne, lost since childhood; but since nobody knew which was the rightful heir and which was just a low born gondolier, they had to rule together. In the end Gilbert solved the problem neatly by revealing that a third young man was the rightful king all the time.

To this slender story Sullivan brought some of his most ebullient, high spirited music. Dashing Italian folk rhythms abound and the vocalists are called upon for full throated singing in the approved operatic manner. Thruout the opera there are many sly parodies of the routine clichés of Italian arias and recitatives, which Sullivan managed to work in without destroying the basic charm and vitality of his musical ideas.

Margaret Roy, who has usually played secondary rôles, had an opportunity to display the unexpected range and brilliance of her voice in the more grateful part of Casilda, daughter of the Duke of Plaza-Toro. June Winters and Margaret Hayward were gracious and winsome as the wives of the two gondoliers.

Morton Bowe and Lewis Pierce sang and acted amusingly and easily as the gondolier kings, who went hungry in the royal palace because they were allowed only one ration between them. Florenz Ames and Catherine Judah, in shorter rôles than usual, contributed their share of dry wit, and Robert Pitkin exploded effectively the patter lyrics awarded to the Grand Inquisitor. The chorus sang lustily and well.

"The Gondoliers" is swift and merry entertainment, and warrants a full house at its single repetition on May 27.

Garden Club of Barrington Plans Market Day May 29

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE entire village of Barrington will be taking a hand in the Barrington Garden club's garden market day, which is planned for May 29 to replace its usual open garden tour. From 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. the grassy plot beside the village station will be crowded with gardeners selecting choice annuals and perennials, vegetables, wild flowers, herbs, and strawberry plants.

Mrs. H. Stillson Hart and the committee working under her to plan the outdoor event are inviting Barrington merchants to exhibit suitable wares, so amateur gardeners won't have to go far afield to see the latest in garden tools, chicken houses, and books on cultivation. Boy Scouts will sell war stamps, while Girl Scouts will hold a cooking sale. Flower holders and baskets and garden aprons and overalls also will be offered for sale, and the Village Garden club will supervise a booth where home canning methods will be explained.

Mrs. Hart's assistants include Mrs. Thomas Hayward as co-chairman, and Mrs. Richmond Kenyon, Mrs. Samuel D. Rowe, Mrs. Leslie Hansen, Mrs. William Horne, Mrs. Gordon Cameron, Mrs. Luther Barber, Mrs. Frank Bunker, and Mrs. Harold Cheney.

Jeanne George Will Be Bride of Ensign Soon.

Hastily arranged weddings continue to hold the spotlight as young men receive leaves from various posts of duty to claim north shore brides. Today Miss Jeanne George's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. George of Lake Forest, are announcing her engagement to Ensign Richard John Huntoon, son of Capt. and Mrs. Frank Huntoon of New Orleans, La. On Friday Miss George will leave for New Orleans, where her future sister-in-law, Miss Frances Huntoon, is to be married on Sunday to Lt. Edward Murphy of Boston, Mass. Immediately after the ceremony Mrs. Huntoon and Miss George will return to Lake Forest, for the latter's marriage.

If Ensign Huntoon's leave goes thru as expected after he receives his wings at Pensacola, Fla., the wedding will take place on Tuesday in the little chapel on the campus of Ferry Hall, where Miss George was graduated. Miss Mary Louise Pierson of Lake Forest and Miss Elaine Farber of Omaha, Neb., will be the bride's attendants. Mrs. George's brother, Maj. Frank R. Clark, will come from Camp Wolters, Tex., for the wedding, but Capt. Huntoon will miss the festivities as he is on duty in the Pacific with the navy.

Miss George attended Lake Forest college and Northwestern university. Her fiancé attended Severns Naval academy and the United States Naval academy at Annapolis.

Richard Felt Babcock Will Wed Elizabeth Burlingham.

Richard Felt Babcock, who returned to the United States the first of this month after 15 months of service in the middle east as a volunteer ambulance driver, will become a benedict next month. Today Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Burlingham of Winnetka are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth, to the son of Mrs. William F. Babcock of Woodstock, formerly of Winnetka. The wedding will take place on June 12 in the Winnetka Congregational church.

Following her graduation from Vassar college Miss Burlingham entered upon a radio career, first in New York and later in Chicago. Her fiancé, a graduate of Dartmouth college, left his law courses at the University of Chicago to enlist as a volunteer ambulance driver with the American field service. He has been attached to the British 8th army in the middle east.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Goodman of University avenue have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jean, to the Rev. Samuel E. Stump, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Louis Stump of New York. Miss Goodman is a senior at Wellesley college. Her fiancé, a 1940 graduate of the University of California, is attending the Andover-Newton Theological school in Newton Center, Mass.

Smith Alumnae to Hear College Head on Radio.

A good percentage of Smith college's 23,000 alumnae will have their radios tuned in today for President Herbert Davis' address from his house on the campus at Northampton, Mass. President Davis will speak during the reception for seniors and their guests on commencement day. The program will replace the traditional class reunions, which are being canceled this year at Smith because of the difficulties of war time transportation.

The Chicago Smith College club has set its annual spring luncheon for noon today to coincide with the broadcast. From 12:30 to 12:45 p. m. the group gathered at the Palmer House will hear President Davis' address over the Mutual Broadcasting system and W-G-N, as well as talks by Mrs. Dwight Morrow, a trustee of the college; Miss Pamela Getz, president of the senior class, and Capt. Herbert Underwood of the WAVES and SPARS. Lt. Margaret Cecil, who recently returned from Smith to take charge of WAVE procurement in Chicago, will speak at the Chicago luncheon. New officers to be elected by the local alumnae club include Mrs. Joseph O. Hanson as president and Mrs. James Barker, Mrs. Ralph E. Dolkart, Mrs. John S. Clifford, Miss Mary Goelitz, Miss Eleanor McClurg, and Mrs. Joseph L. Valentine.

Lt. and Mrs. Roy Fogle Dent Jr. [Virginia Holmes] announce the birth of a son, Roy III., on May 13 at St. Luke's hospital. The baby's grandmother is Mrs. William H. Holmes. His father is overseas with the 12th General hospital.

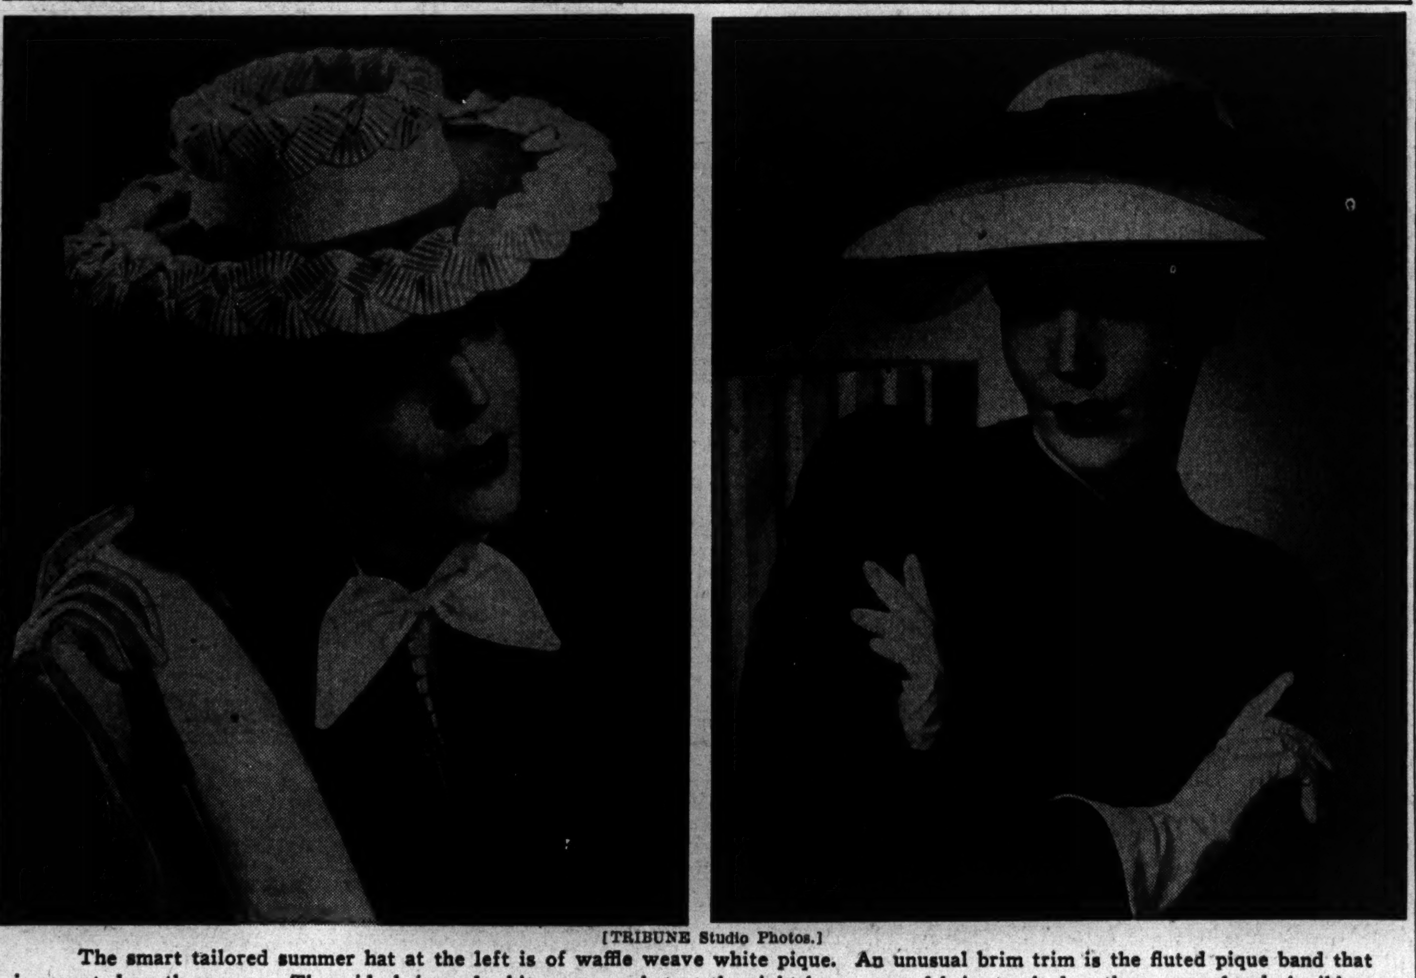
A Pair of Smart New Bonnets in White for Summer Wear



[TRIBUNE Studio Photos.]

The smart tailored summer hat at the left is of waffle weave white pique. An unusual brim trim is the fluted pique band that is repeated on the crown. The wide brimmed white summer hat at the right has a curved brim to shadow the eyes and a dark ribbon band around the crown. White pique gloves and gilet complete the ensembles. All are available in a Chicago store.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY

What Every Woman Knows.

The tales are told of girls who wed
The boss, and I'll admit
I read the formula full well
And made the most of it.

But bosses came and bosses went
No gaze they spent on me;
Now I am wed and safely bent
On raising family.

I'll tell you what I profited;
'Twill save you quite a loss—
No matter whom you marry, girls—
He thinks he is the boss!

Affect and Effect.

"For Lucille S.: Your problem has AFFECTED me somewhat with the following EFFECT. To begin with, AFFECT is always a verb; it is never a noun. Therefore, if the word in a given instance is to be used as a noun, always use EFFECT.

"EFFECT is also used as a verb at times, but whether it is used as a verb or as a noun, EFFECT partakes somewhat of the nature of 'result.' One can EFFECT [produce] a result, EFFECT [achieve] a purpose, or produce an EFFECT [result]. You may be able to remember this if you note that there is an E in 'result' and an E at the beginning of EFFECT.

"AFFECT, on the other hand [always a verb], has a general flavor of 'pretense' in some cases and of 'influence' in other cases. For instance, the real word expert may AFFECT [pretend] omniscience about words when he hasn't it; or he may AFFECT [simulate] indifference to criticism, claiming that it does not AFFECT [influence] him, since it has no EFFECT [result] on his thought or actions.

"AFFECT is used of conduct which precedes, or is intended to precede, the production of EFFECTS [A comes before E in the alphabet—possibly this will help your memory, too.]

"Probably the most EFFECTIVE [result-producing] remedy for your ailment is evasion: Just don't use AFFECT at all. I'll bet my [oldest] hat you'll never miss it.

"The subject of the next lesson will be the use of AFFECTING and EFFECTING, if a second lesson seems necessary."—The Real Word Expert.

White Toppers of Pique Give a Cool Accent

BY REA SEEGER.

White piqué headlines that gleam like whitewash! The small, medium, and large brimmed hats to wear with summer fashions provide the proper cooling down accents for smart black and high colored cottons, linens, and prints. Team work with gloves and white bags is another white accent idea with a never tiring snap.

White pique hats of this summer's vintage are snappy versions of distinctive simplicity. The piqué is used for hat as well as trim. When color is introduced it's usually a subtle bit of gray, a soft leaf green, or the bows of soot black or copper, all color fillups to repeat the same color in suit or dress.

Small perky little pill boxes and turbans, together with flat tailored berets, are classic examples of white toppers for slim tailored summer suits and one piece daytime dresses. More elaborate models, wider of brim with fluted bands of piqué for brim trim and crown decoration, can be worn veiled or swankily as is, with sophisticated dull black afternoon sheers, especially so when they are ensembled with spic and span white piqué gloves [these are washable] and a white bag.

Because this summer cool piqué is without the hampering control of any priority rating, more hats and accessories of this stuff will be available than in former years of plenty. Gilets or vestees of piqué blouses, belts, lapel flowers, extra bows, and the countless collar and cuff sets assure plenty of matching bits and whiffs of white to wear with the headlines.

The gilets and vestees are washable, therefore wearable for the entire summer and next. The gloves are the simple pull-on variety that fit supersmoothly. And all the piqué fashions feature the usual waffle design and the varied widths in the ribbed textures.

Frankly, she was Fascinating...
She had a certain elusive charm that defied description—invariably others appreciate the sensitive understatement of Elizabeth Arden lipstick shades which make them aware of the woman ... not the make-up. And you will love the subtle, carefully thought out harmony between costume colors and lipstick shades.
The young woman wears a Redwood Lipstick—most effective with uniforms of blue. Every woman should have at least four essential shades to harmonize with a wide range of costume colors and Service uniforms.
You will choose an Elizabeth Arden Lipstick because it is firm enough to define the shape of the mouth, soft enough to smooth on evenly . . . because its long-lasting freshness is a delight and its color holds clear and true.

"... a Wife to Raise"

By Margaret Weymouth Jackson

Copyright: 1943: By Margaret Weymouth Jackson

SYNOPSIS: Paul James, medical student, who lives with Dr. John Lockerbie and his wife, Mary Ellen, has been embittered and has hated Will Presser, prosecuting attorney, ever since his father was sent to prison after a bank scandal. His mother died of a broken heart and his father died in prison. Altho Paul likes Sue Craft, who has a crush on him, he has no time nor money for girls. Paul and Dr. Lockerbie are called to the home of Polly and Lem Richards and find Polly dying after being struck with a poker, and Lem too drunk to know whether he did it. Lem is arrested. Paul is greatly sympathetic toward Polly's daughter, Isabel.

INSTALMENT IV.

FRIENDS IN SORROW.

"I don't want you to like Will Presser," Sue said with dignity and she got out of the car and stood with her hand on the door, "I just want you to be happy—to get along with people." Her chin quivered and she turned proudly away.

"Sue!" Paul said at once, jumping out of the car. "I didn't mean to be so cross. Forgive me——"

But Sue opened the restaurant door and closed it behind her and Paul got back into the doctor's car. He had his orders.

He went to the jail and then to Presser's. With great reluctance he walked up the flagged walk of the fine big white house. Will Presser was the best lawyer in seven counties. He was not an impressive looking man, but no one could question his cold and ruthless intellect or his abilities. He had a remarkable voice, deep and vibrant and strangely disturbing. He had made a great deal of money by local standards, but he was not the one who played poker with the doctor and his cronies nor was he included in the hunting and fishing trips. Paul considered Will Presser his father's enemy and his own, and he hated him.

Mrs. Presser opened the door and told Paul to come in. He stood waiting in the beautiful hall and in a moment the lawyer came out to him. Will Presser looked sick. Paul delivered the message from Dr. Lockerbie and he nodded but said nothing. Paul went out quickly. He felt that he wanted to shake the dust of Presser's house from his feet. This whole business of Polly's death had put him in a savage mood. He wished it were himself and not Sue who was giving Isabel the sad news. Then as he turned the car into Main street a slender figure in a coat too large and too long stepped from the curb. It was Isabel.

"O," she said, stepping back when he opened the car door, "it's you, Paul. I thought it was the doctor. I wanted to see him."

"Get in," Paul said. "I just took Sue to Engleman's, looking for you. They want you down at your grandmother's."

She got into the car and huddled in the corner. Paul spoke to her with rough kindness. "Don't let things get you down, Isabel. You're not the first one that's had something like this to go thru."

"Paul," she said, "do you know how my mother is tonight?"

He was silent. He couldn't speak. Isabel gave a little cry.

"She's dead!" she cried. "O, Paul—she's dead. Isn't she? O, what will we do? What will we do without her?"

It was a wail of deepest sorrow. She began to cry. Paul drew the car to a stop before her grandmother's house and he reached out an arm and awkwardly pulled her to him and she wept against his shoulder.

Paul didn't know at all what she could do, but he tried to comfort her awkwardly, his own heart hurting.

"Look, Isabel," he pleaded, "it happened to me, didn't it? My father went to prison, my mother died. And I was just about the age you are now. You can remember it. I felt as you do—my whole world had gone to pieces. But doctor took me in and I got myself together again. Altho I'll never forget it, I don't suffer any more as I did then. Things work out. They really do, Isabel. Please believe me, that things gradually do get better!"

"O, but it wasn't the same," she sobbed, "it wasn't the same. And you had something behind you—you hadn't always been shoved around, like I have! Your trouble was just money—just because the old bank failed when every one was mad and wanted to see some one punished. People can forget that. They have forgotten it. But—my mother——"

"Maybe Lem didn't do it," Paul told her, "any more than my father did what he was accused of doing."

"But there wasn't anybody else who loved her enough to kill her except Pa."

This extraordinary statement seemed perfectly reasonable to Paul at that moment. He didn't know what to say.

"Well, you can't help any of it," he told her insistently. "You just have to start from here and go ahead. Try to feel that your father didn't do it. You'll have to stand by him now."

"O, I don't want to see him," she said, drawing away from Paul. "Not yet—not now, Paul. My mother always tried. She could have amounted to something—but he—you don't know everything—like I do. I couldn't even go to business college and my mother cooking for that old mean Engleman—and people like Mrs. Presser and the Presser girls snub us and look down on us. I could have made something of myself—but now—my mother is gone——"

"You can still amount to something!" Paul said fiercely. "No matter what has happened, you are yourself, Isabel."

"Now your granny is going to be wild with worry—and she and little Betty are going to have no one to turn to but you, Isabel. You've got to take Polly's place and be the strong one, now." She swayed toward him and he kissed her.

"O, Paul," she said, "I have no one—now."

"You have me!" he told her stanchly, and she turned and looked at him beseechingly as tho she longed to believe him.

Paul went up the walk with her and left her at the door of her grandmother's house. He had never in his life felt so sorry for any one.

Standing beside the car in the filling station, checking carefully the amount of gas and oil, the amount of air in the tires, Paul's mind considered Isabel's problems. Isabel's position, Paul saw, was worse than his had ever been. He had never thought his own father culpable. Perhaps the elder James' judgment had been bad and he had made mistakes, but he had never been wrong in moral intention. Paul saw now that his terrible young resentment at the things frightened and senseless people said was easier to bear than a feeling of guilt, however vicarious. His own feelings about his father had stiffened his pride, fired his ambition, forced his growth. But the feeling Isabel had would cut her roots from under her. He might, himself, have gone clear to pieces if he had thought for one moment that what men said was true. And with this realization came a deep anxiety for Isabel that she should not feel outcast.

Later, sitting at the dining room table, poring over his books while he waited for the doctor, Paul found that he could not study. He pressed his hand over his eyes. What could a doctor do for heartbreak and shame and poverty? The lack of money and of resources whetted the sharp edge of sorrow. Isabel, he saw, was driven like himself with the desperate need to "amount to something." He could respond to that cry from her. It had kept him on the mark for seven years. He wondered if she had the vitality to endure for a long period to gain her ends. Engleman's was a truck stop, no fit place for Isabel to work. And strangely he recalled that Lem had brought to his mother's funeral a great massed old-fashioned bouquet of early summer flowers—roses and peonies and the last of the iris—nothing but the umbrella stand would hold it all!

Paul left his books and went up to his room and got the 10 dollar bill he had been carefully hoarding to buy the few Christmas presents he felt that he must give. He looked at his savings account book. He had almost a hundred dollars there—and every nickel of it represented real Spartan self-denial. That was for his commencement. That money couldn't be touched. There would be unavoidable expenses then. He hunted thru all his pockets and found enough small coins and treasured bills to make an even 25 dollars. Counting it carefully it struck Paul that it was a long time since he had done anything for any one else. Except to give Mary Ellen and the doctor and old Alice Nightingale who scrubbed out the office a gift each Christmas he had not done anything for any one for years! He felt that he had been remiss about the Richards family. Now Isabel and her needs had shaken Paul out of his rut.

Back in the dining room Paul shouted for Sue, who was in the doctor's office attending the telephones. She came and leaned in the door opening from the dining room into the office. Her face was faintly discolored as tho she had been crying.

"I missed Isabel," she said, "so I went down to Richard's. Isabel came in while I was there and she already knew about her mother. Mrs. Richards just seemed stunned. It's so hard for people like that, Paul. I felt so sorry for them."

Paul had felt the same way, but he said quickly, "They aren't any different from any other people, Sue. We're all just human beings struggling along together——"

Wise Parents Learn to Cope with Children

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"I have a two and a half year old child who 'doesn't hear' any requests unless they are agreeable to her. The irony of it!" Actual quotation from a mother's letter!

Clever baby, say I. There's an example of wise mother-training! There's a child who has the right idea [meaning Nature's idea, of course]. Fine for mother's self contral [maybe!] Good to fix a home atmosphere congenial to the baby. A master two and a half year old, in my opinion.

No, but really, aren't they just too clever, these little soft, delectable-looking treasures who, according to all the laws of matter, should be completely in our power?

"The irony of it" is right. The entirely unconscious way in which they can become master of the home situation wouldn't sound plausible to you, if you hadn't seen it happen. If you had never had a child or dealings with one, you'd hardly believe it possible that they could have so much power over adults.

The truth is that, unless you get a line on this whole business, unless you're rather clever yourself, those small ones are going to get the better of you. I don't mean that they're out to "do" you, consciously. They're simply in the grip of forces stronger than they, stronger than we. Life is pulsing in them—urging them on to get what they want; inspiring them to be themselves unfettered and untrammelled; spurring them on to learn everything they can by adventure and experiment. These forces are powerful in them but when they are blocked or misdirected, the child suffers and the family, too. These forces of growth, of natural development need to be given useful channels for their outlet if the child is to be happy and at peace.

This is not so very difficult. What we need is to know why they act as they do and to recognize the legitimacy of this great energy of children. We should be wise enough to be glad that they aren't like soft lumps of clay that will take every impress of the potter's thumb. How dreadful and how uninteresting that would be! This must be our attitude: That the energy of children is legitimate and part of their growth. And then we must learn how to handle this wonderful forceful, human material that we call "our babies."

Mrs. Henry S—, Chicago: For years I have poured cold tea over the soil of my house ferns ever so often and have been convinced it has been a grand little tonic. But now—well, I'm wondering if any one can suggest something that is as good as tea for them—and not so hard to get! Even our house ferns don't rate any tea these days. We drink what we have—to the last drop.

Mrs. Will S—, Chicago: We have kept grass and weeds from growing between the bricks of the walks around our house in the country by using a watering can and sprinkling with salt and water. When my husband wants to be sure to get the mixture between the bricks he pours salt and water from an old pitcher which has a very narrow mouth.

Ethel A—, Chicago: If any one in your family gets a spot of candle wax on a piece of cloth, try scraping off all the wax you can remove. Then take a couple of blotters, put the "spot" between them and apply a warm iron. Wax should disappear shortly.

Contract According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1943: By Ely Culbertson.]

It is not often that a declarer must bring double-dummy technique to bear on any problem. Fortunately almost every hand merely requires the application of common sense and simple arithmetic. Once in a while, however, declarer faces a really abstruse problem and if he can solve it correctly he deserves extraordinary praise. That was the case in the following deal, where South brought home a slam contract that, it is safe to say, would baffle 99 out of every 100 declarers.

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

♥7 3 2
♦J 8 7

WEST
♠7 6 3 2

SOUTH

♦A Q 9
♣A K 6

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
2 hearts	Pass	3 hearts	Pass
4 no trump	Pass	5 spades	Pass
6 hearts	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the club queen. Declarer won and cashed two top trumps. East discarded the eight of spades on the second round and declarer paused to take stock. How could he reach dummy to use the ace of spades? One possibility presented itself in the diamond suit: declarer could cash the spade king, then lead a low diamond, hoping West had the king and would fail to go up, or he could lead the queen of diamonds, hoping either defender would accept his king then and there, which would promote a diamond entry in dummy. But declarer knew that the action of cashing the spade king and then shifting to diamonds would put these very astute defenders on guard, and he was pessimistic about the success of any diamond lead from his own hand. He decided to explore the situation a little further.

He deferred drawing the last trump, choosing instead to cash his other top club. [There was very slight chance that West would ruff this lead since good players rarely lead singleton queens against slam contracts.] East's failure to follow the second round of clubs was highly revealing and declarer now saw a distinct prospect of success. He led the spade king and deliberately overtook with the ace. He then returned the spade jack and, when East covered with the queen, made him a present of the trick, discarding his own club loser.

Now observe how this "fixed" East. If he returned a spade, declarer would discard a diamond and trump in dummy, then take the diamond finesse. East's actual return of a low diamond made matters just as easy for declarer. He ducked in his own hand, won with dummy's jack, finessed again on a second diamond lead from dummy, drew West's remaining trump and claimed his contract.

Incidentally, declarer had found the only method by which this contract could have been fulfilled against perfect defense. As it happens, a spade lead would have ruined South's coup, but surely no one could criticize West's choice of the club queen.

Friends of Library Luncheon Recalls Nazi Book Burning

The tenth anniversary of the "burning of the books" in Nazi Germany was observed yesterday at the third annual authors' luncheon given by the Friends of the Chicago Public Library at the Hotel La Salle.

"We are serving notice to a certain individual, whose name I won't even mention," said William Bachrach, president of the society, "that, ten years after he decreed the end of literary culture and freedom in Germany, we of America are more deeply interested in helping to preserve culture and freedom, thru the medium of books, than ever before."

More than 450 persons attended the luncheon, as compared with 100 the first year and 200 a year ago. Vincent Starrett, Tribune columnist, was master of ceremonies, and Mayor Edward J. Kelly was one of the speakers. Also on the toast list were Louis Zara, Lt. Lloyd Wendt, A. C. Spectorsky, Frank Hurburt O'Hara, Harvey O'Connor, Sterling North, Marian Neville, Franklin J. Meine, Ruth MacKay, Kenneth Horan, Otto Eisenschiml, John Drury, Herma Clark, Mary Hastings Bradley, and Frederic Babcock.

A Friendship Token Means Little to Girl

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

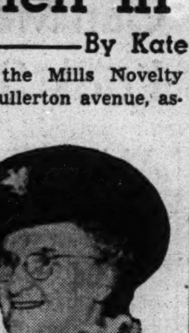
Mary-Lou tells that she has been going with a young man for more than a year and they both thought they were in love with each other. She accepted a friendship ring from her suitor a couple of months ago.

"Altho I received the friendship ring, I did not drop all my other friends, as it was understood that I could still see others. However, I always gave him the preference when it came to dates, since I liked him the best. Of course, several times he asked for dates when I already was tied up. So, for no good reason, he started acting careless toward me and indifferent. I used to see him often. Now I rarely see him. When I do see him he is devoted as ever, telling me I'm the girl for him and then promises to call me the next evening and breaks his promise, which is quite unlike his former behavior. Do you think I could ask him frankly what is wrong?"

You could do that, learn the truth. But we could tip you off to what's wrong. You have the notion that you can keep all the boys stringing along, and, even tho you accept a friendship ring from one, it doesn't mean a thing in your young life. We suspect that the giving of that ring meant something more to the boy, more than just a bit of trimming for your finger. Your accepting it confirmed his hopes that you were his best girl and none other's. Naturally, his pride would be hurt when he called to date you and found you already engaged for the evening. His failure to keep his promises now to call may be his way of getting back at you. And it does tantalize you, doesn't it, now that you're not so sure of him. Why not return the ring until you can make up your mind?

Women in War Work

—By Kate Massee—



Mrs. Jane Greenwood.

Employés of the Mills Novelty company, 4020 Fullerton avenue, assembled between shifts yesterday afternoon to celebrate the 66th birthday of Mrs. Jane Greenwood, who operates a drill press. A huge cake decorated in a patriotic motif was a feature of the party. Mrs. Greenwood, who also was a drill press operator in the first World war and whose husband works in a war industry, too, is on the 4 p. m. to midnight shift.

Mrs. Lawrence Nelson Jr. has been elected chairman of the American Women's Voluntary Services, to succeed Mrs. Watson McLallen, who has been chairman since the Chicago unit of the AWVS was organized last September. Mrs. McLallen will act as first vice chairman, and Miss Mary Louise Laird will be second vice chairman. Other new officers are Mrs. Roy Olin, secretary, and Mrs. William B. Levin, treasurer.

An urgent appeal has been made by the volunteer office of the OCD and council of social agencies for women [also men] volunteers to allot part of their time this summer to caring for the city's war children. Mrs. Elizabeth S. Fitch, director of the office, announced that registrations are now open for a special six session course for recreation aids.

Trips, outings, playground work, and story telling will be included in the lectures, organized under the direction of Miss Dorothy Spiker, director of recreation, Institute for Juvenile Research. They'll be given by outstanding experts in the recreation field.

"We have given special attention to the kind of work that men can direct," Miss Spiker said. "We are hopeful that a large group will enroll, as staffs are practically depleted of their male workers due to the war. Young boys need the direction of men, particularly in sports."

The committee also hopes that PTA members, clubwomen, mothers, and others who have expressed their concern over the problem of recreation for children will enroll for the course.

Interest in children is the chief qualification for those desiring to help in this vital phase of warwork. Special skills in athletics and crafts are helpful but not essential. A minimum of six hours weekly will be required of those completing the course, which will be held in Union park, Ashland avenue and Lake street on Mondays and Wednesdays from 6:30 to 9:30 p. m., starting on Wednesday, June 2.

Applicants should enroll at the volunteer office, 111 West Jackson boulevard, and should telephone Wabash 0528 for appointments for interviews. No applications will be accepted after June 1.

[This department reports on women's war activities and answers questions regarding such activities.]

Chicago Junior Hadassah to Hold Meeting Tonight

Members of the Chicago Junior Hadassah will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the Mirror room of the Hamilton hotel. Included on the program will be a talk on "Psychology of Success," by Mrs. Ruth Holt Crowley. Musical selections will be presented by Miss Shulamith Burman and Miss Eleanor Glazer. Climaxing the group's fund raising drive, a luncheon and tea is planned for Sunday, June 6.

Wheel Chair Requested for Needy Invalid

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

We hope that some north side reader can supply a wheel chair for the elderly Mrs. L. who recently suffered a stroke. She is 74 years old and is now bedridden. Her husband, 82, is assisting her in every possible way, but a wheel chair would be of great assistance. Their only income is an old age pension, but they will make an effort to pay transportation charges on a chair, if one can be obtained.

Mrs. C. on the south side:

"We are a group of church women who do a lot of baking for our USO parties, and we have a rather unusual request. We would like to ask if any reader has an electric cake mixer which she no longer uses. It would be a big help to us as well as a time saver. We enjoy supplying cakes for the boys, and donate our time and materials, but we would be grateful if some woman could donate a mixer."

If any reader can fill this request, we will be glad to provide further details. A member of the group will be happy to call for the mixer.

Head of Western College to Address Alumnae Here

Mrs. Alexander Thomson, president of Western college, Oxford, O., who recently was chosen "American Mother of 1943," will speak tonight at the College club to an audience of Western college alumnae, university women, and friends. "Educating Our Daughters in War Time" will be her subject. Mrs. Thomson, who has combined a career in the home with civic service, is the mother of four sons, three of who are in military service and the fourth in industrial war work. She has been president of Western college for two years.

Looking at Hollywood . . . . By Hedda Hopper

Spencer Tracy.

Hollywood, Cal., May 19.—Spencer Tracy is so delighted with the script Sidney Franklin has completed on "They Were Expendable" that he's willing to make another picture this year at Metro in order to do it. He'll costar with Katharine Hepburn in "Without Love" before "Expendable." . . Charles Boyer's Metro picture "Gaslight," which Johnny Van Druten is now writing, should make everybody happy. Our great lover's been off the screen much too long. . . . Hedy Lamarr is all set for the siren in "Quo Vadis," also marriage to John Loder. . . . Ingrid Bergman is planning to build a house here as soon as the war is over. There's a happy citizen. Her husband has been transferred from Rochester, N. Y., to the staff of Stanford hospital in San Francisco. He's a brain surgeon.

Turn About.

Ida Lupino celebrated her 10th year here. As you know, she was brought over from England to play "Alice in Wonderland." When they got a look at her they said, "Goodness, what happened, you aged on the boat!" Ida didn't get the part, but she can have most anything she wants today. But where is little Charlotte Henry, who got Alice? Last I heard, she was playing little theaters around the middle west. . . . Helmut Dantine is testing for Humphrey Bogart's rôle in "Passage to Marseilles"—Ditto Jean Gabin. . . . Kay Kyser was given a platinum, diamond studded watch by Louis B. Mayer. Inscribed thereon was, "To a swell guy." . . . John Golden telephoned Charlotte Greenwood he was air mailing her a new play written especially for her. We'd hate to lose Charlotte, but if it's good, I think she ought to take it. She could do her new radio show, called "Miss Charlotte," from either the big city or here. It begins in June.

Not Many Left.

William Gaxton, en route to New York, called up to say good-by and tell me Metro's picked up his option, which pleased him no end. Bill's gone back east to build a new picket fence in Connecticut and do a couple of radio shows. He'll return here July 1 for "Tropicana" with Mae West, then back to Broadway for the new Cole Porter show. After that another musical for Arthur Fried. I always said if a guy is worth $5.50 a ticket for 10 years on Broadway, he sure ought to be able to get 55 cents for a movie. Bill has made a smash hit in "Best Foot Forward." I'm wondering why they didn't sign up his wife, Madeleine, too. She's one of the best dressed actresses of stage or screen, besides which, she can act.

Mum's the Word Now.

Blanch Yurka was bragging about her swell cook on the "Bernadette" set. Today she tells a different tale. She had guests in for dinner. They loved the vittles, and asked to meet the cook. Next night her guests entertained the cook at the Mocambo. . . . Director Dick Thorpe had a note from Helen Macinnes, author of "Above Suspicion," saying she liked the picture better than her book. . . . Lionel Stander reports to the army air corps July 15. . . . Charles Bickford has lost his third mine—last one was in South America. It had to shut down on account of lack of oil. Charlie will sweat for a living from now on by just acting. . . . Carmen Miranda and Tony De Marco were dizzy planning new routines for the Samba when she said, "To heck with it—let's take a good deep breath and go to it." They did and laid out a couple of cameramen who tried to follow.

Foreign cooks can teach us plenty about stretching meats. Chinese mix their meats with celery, bean sprouts, mushrooms and serve it on rice or noodles. Italians make flavorful meat sauces and serve them on spaghetti or other paste. Mexicans stretch meat with cornmeal, as in the tamale, or with beans as chili con carne. Hungarian goulash is heavily extended with onions, and usually is served with noodles.

There's Spanish rice, which takes very little bacon to flavor it, Turkish "shaslik," with eggplant and tomatoes as extender; Armenian lamb with rice and currants. And there are dozens more. A good foreign cookbook or two could well be a part of every home library these days.

There must be a hundred ways to vary baking powder biscuits. Parsley or watercress biscuits are a pleasant variation. You add ¼ cup coarsely chopped cress or 2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley to the dough after sifting the dry ingredients. If you're using the biscuits for chicken pie or shortcake, add a teaspoonful of poultry seasoning to the recipe.

Then, of course, there are the good tomato biscuits, with tomato juice used in place of milk. These are especially nice when ½ cup of grated cheddar or parmesan cheese is added to the dough. Cheese and tomato biscuits really are wonderful.

Watch the amount of shortening that goes into the cookies you make. No longer is it possible to be lavish with butter; few of us can use any butter at all in cookies. Lard, bacon fat, margarine or vegetable shortening will serve the purpose beautifully. Here's a good peanut cookie which requires only ¼ cup of fat. Bacon drippings will do if you have them.

Peanut Bars.
[Two dozen.]

¼ cup fat
½ cup brown sugar
¾ cup molasses
2 eggs
2 cups sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup coarsely chopped peanuts

Cream shortening and sugar until light. Add beaten eggs and molasses. Sift flour, baking powder, salt and spices together and add alternately with milk to creamed mixture. Add flavoring. Mix to a smooth batter. Pour half an inch deep into greased shallow pans. Sprinkle nuts over batter. Bake at 350 degrees for half an hour. Remove from pan and cut in bars.

TODAY'S $5 PRIZE RECIPE

Mock Brown Rice.
[Serves six to eight.]

¼ cup margarine
3 large onions, chopped
4 tablespoons green pepper
½ pound fresh mushrooms or 2 small cans
1 cup rice
3 cups consommé, brown stock, or bouillon
Salt and pepper to taste

Melt margarine in skillet and cook onions, green pepper, and mushrooms in it until onions are yellow and transparent. Skim out and brown rice in fat remaining in pan. When lightly browned add vegetables and consommé and season to taste. Cook in double boiler or simmer gently over direct heat for 45 minutes to an hour, or until rice is done. Serve hot.

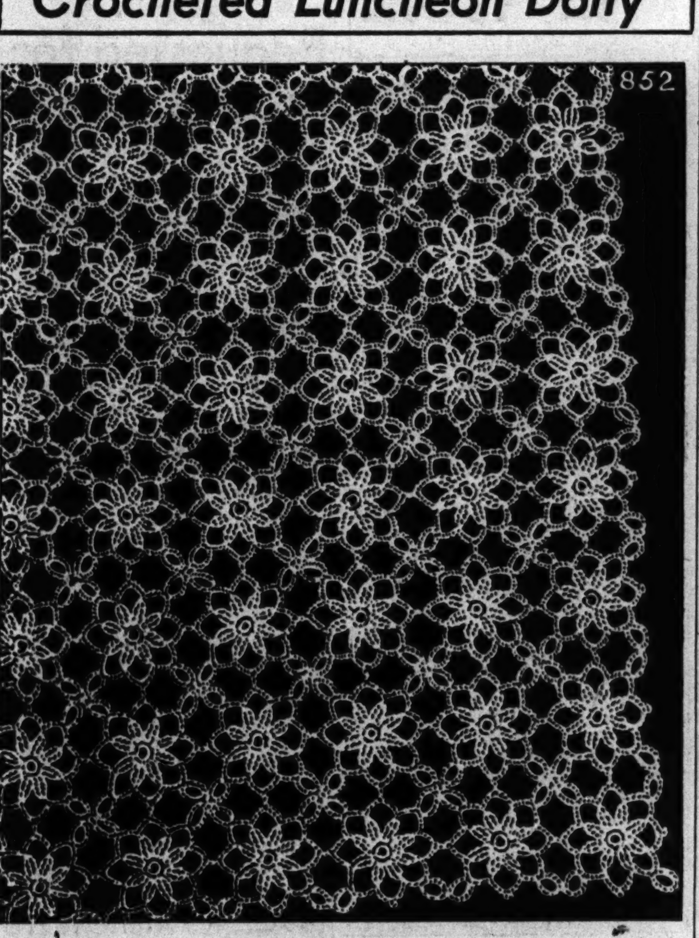
Crocheted Luncheon Doily



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Petal and cluster stitches are enjoying a wide popularity with crochet workers this season. These stitches are by no means new, but are being revived. This original petunia motif is quickly worked up, creating an ideal luncheon set. Ivory mercerized crochet cotton is the suggested medium for these sets. If runners or dresser scarfs are desired, one of the fine threads may be used.

For instructions in crocheting the petunia luncheon doily, No. 852, send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Milk Coffee
LUNCH
Canned Chicken or Vegetable Soup
Grilled Cheese and Peanut Butter Sandwiches
Half Grapefruit Milk
DINNER
Broiled Fish Fillets
Au Gratin Pimiento Potatoes
Fresh Green Beans

Au Gratin Pimiento Potatoes: Make a seasoned white sauce, add a little onion juice and enough chopped pimiento to suit taste. Partially fill a greased casserole with diced cooked potatoes, pour white sauce over them, lifting up potatoes so sauce runs well thru them. Top with buttered or margarined fine bread crumbs and bake in a moderately hot oven, 375 degrees F. until bread crumbs are browned.

Cherry Bread Pudding: Add 2 cups dry bread crumbs to 1 quart hot milk, and set aside to cool. When cool add ¾ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine, 2 eggs, slightly beaten, ½ teaspoon salt, and 1 to 1½ cups drained sour red cherries. Bake in a pan of hot water, at 350 degrees F. for 45 to 50 minutes.

The Tall Girl Can Make Self Look Shorter

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"The problems of the tall girl are unimportant to every one except the tall girl," declares one of them. "Unlike her plump sister who can reduce, or her thin cousin who can gain poundage, there's nothing much she can do about Nature's little prank except to accept it as gracefully as possible, capitalize on it and hope for tall beaux."

But there are a number of devices the tall girl can employ to turn her height into an asset, declares Miss Jean Merrill, grand opera and operetta star who is 5 feet 9 inches in her stocking feet.

Heels are the obvious trick, according to our tall girl informant. "Since flats became the fashion, they've been a boon to us tall ones. Sometimes when I wear a dinner dress that hides my feet, I wear ballet slippers. I love flats. They are so comfortable and make walking a pleasure. But for every day, all-around wear I prefer the medium heel about on inch and a half high. It adds little to the height.

"With clothes, there are optical illusions you can create. Suits, two piece dresses, boleros and peplums all help. The two piece is best. I'm a staunch believer in the skirt and blouse and skirt and sweater school of thought, both foreshorteners. In hats, there are the sailors, the cloche and the little round skull cap. Leave exaggerated pompadours, slick coiffures and curls piled atop the head to others who need to add height.

"Important above all else is: Don't be ashamed of being tall. Don't stoop. Far from detracting from your height, the round-shouldered look accentuates it. Don't give any of your friends the chance to say: 'Poor Mary; she's stoop-shouldered from trying to look shorter!' Carry yourself with pride, like a soldier. Assume a regal air. Remember that next to her face, a photographic model's fortune is her height. She needs it to carry clothes well."

WILSON'S WEEKLY Bulletin
By George Rector
Food and Nutrition Consultant to Wilson & Co.

EMBELLISH LOW POINT MEATS FOR EYE-APPEAL

Eye-appeal is such an important factor in appetite-appeal that homemakers should be ever mindful of its great value. This is particularly true when preparing foods which serve a special need, such as those of low-point value or those which are highly nutritious.

The wiener crown roast, illustrated above, adds glamor to what is usually considered an ordinary meat. Line up 1¼ lbs. Wilson's Certified Frankfurts on a meat board, placing curved end up. Using darning needle run a string through center of each wiener, crosswise. Repeat about one inch below.

Shape like a crown by bringing wieners on each end together and tie strings, leaving upper (first) string a little looser than lower string.

THESE GARNISHES ARE NUTRITIOUS

Have bread dressing hot before putting in "crown." Dressing is extra good if seasoned with Wilson's B-V along with onion and sage. One tsp. B-V dissolved in one tbsp. (hot water) to 2 qts. soft bread crumbs gives a grand broth flavor. B-V is now ration-point free.

Wrap strips of Wilson's Certified Bacon around center of crown, holding in place with wood picks. 6 servings, 6 points. Economical in money; in points.

Cover tops of the frankfurts with a 2-inch strip of damp cloth before putting into a 375° oven. Helps them retain plump shape. Heat only about 12 minutes.

Cook sauerkraut in bacon drippings. Extra good if from Wilson's Certified Bacon, which has such a delightfully mild smoked flavor. Serve around the crown roast. A tasty combination.

Know Your Garnishes

Garnishes are more important now than ever. Why not make a list of garnishes available to you and then make a point of using them often, alternating to give variety.

Radishes from Victory Gardens add color as well as piquancy. Takes no time at all to make roses or slices. Beet pickles we have with us always. Vary them by cutting wedges or Julienne strips or cut fancy shapes from slices.

Season sweetened apple sauce with lemon rind (or cinnamon if you still have some), color red, add gelatin and mold. Serve as a garnish around Wilson's Certified Pure Pork Sausage Patties. Nutritious and delicious!

Tomatoes, pimientos, cranberries, maraschino cherries and paprika are other possibilities when it's a red garnish you need.

There is an equally wide selection in yellow, green, and white garnishes. Takes only a few minutes thought to jot them down, ready for instant reference.

MEAT MAKES GOOD GARNISH

Wilson's Certified Pure Pork Sausage, either fresh or smoked links, makes a most attractive garnish for a vegetable dish such as escalloped corn and serves also as the meat for the meal. Saves time as well as points. Conserves every bit of that precious sausage flavor, too.

Next week, I have planned a delicious roast that will be economical of those red stamps.

Your Friend,
George Rector

EMPLOYES GET 6 NEW SEATS ON JOURNAL BOARD

Milwaukee Newspaper Plan Expanded.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 19 (AP).—Another step in the program to give eventual control of the Milwaukee Journal to its employés was taken today with announcement that the board of directors would be enlarged by six members chosen solely by employé stockholders.

Harry J. Grant, chairman of the board, notified Journal personnel that majority stockholders would cast their votes for the six employé designated nominees at the annual meeting June 1. The new directors will be seated at that time. The present board has 12 members.

In this newest development of the Journal plan inaugurated in June, 1937, a unitholders' [employé stockholders'] council was set up. It consists of 24 members, four each from the paper's six major departments—advertising and promotion, circulation, editorial, business, mechanical, and radio.

Elected for 2 Years.

The councilmen, to serve two years, were elected by their departmental co-workers at meetings held last night.

Employé directors must be councilmen and no department may have more than one. Altho unitholders elect only the councilmen representing their department, they may vote for any candidate for employé director. Thus, the names of all councilmen will be on mail ballots going to the 578 unitholders during the next few days.

The council will consult with the board and company officers from time to time regarding matters of concern to unit holders.

Plan Begun in 1937.

The Journal plan of employé participation in ownership was inaugurated in June, 1937, when 30,000 shares of stock, or 25 per cent, were made available to workers with five years' service. Each unit was priced at $25 and liberal arrangements were made for payment. Seventeen months later another 18,000 shares were set aside for employés, thus bringing the employe ownership to 40 per cent of the 120,000 shares. The value at that time had increased to $46 a unit. The service requirement now is about three years.

The plan calls for eventual employé ownership of at least 51 per cent of the stock.

Data compiled at the end of 1942 revealed that dividends and bonuses paid to unit holders up to that time amounted to 136 per cent of the purchase price of the 48,000 shares made available to them.

BRODE B. DAVIS, NOTED RAILWAY ATTORNEY, DIES

Brode B. Davis, 75 years old, of the Pearson hotel, Chicago attorney since 1890, who achieved national prominence in the early 1920s as counsel for the railways in stamping out ticket scalping, died Tuesday night in a Hot Springs [Ark.] hospital. He was an office associate of the late former Gov. Frank O. Lowden from 1900 to 1916, when the latter became chief executive of Illinois.

Mr. Davis was born in Lewis, Ia., Jan. 15, 1868, and was educated at the University of Iowa and the University of Michigan law school, where he received his LL.B. degree in 1890, being admitted to the Michigan and Illinois bars the same year. He married Bertha Peacock of Chicago in 1901, and she and a brother, Charles, a retired lawyer, survive. Fore 28 years he has had an office in the Rookery on La Salle street and most of the time had been associated with Atty. Arthur M. Kracke.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in the Fourth Presbyterian church.

TRUCK STRIKES AND KILLS MAN AFTER COLLISION

Walter Piascik, 67 years old, 937 West 32d place, was fatally injured yesterday when struck by a delivery truck after it collided with an automobile at Emerald avenue and 32d street. The truck was driven by Adam J. Supinski, 29, of 1040 West 32d street. The automobile's driver was Peter Wingard, 54, Topeka, Ind.

Maurice Holup, 31, 2307 Waverly place, Waukegan, a metal worker in a war plant, died in the Lake Forest hospital of injuries suffered when his automobile overturned in Lake Bluff. The car, rounding a curb in Green Bay road, just south of Blodgett avenue, about 1 a. m., struck a curb and rolled over. Holup suffered a skull fracture while three companions escaped unhurt.

HEALTHY GIRL TRIPLETS BORN BY CAESARIAN

Triplets were born to Mrs. Mary Ellen Pahr, 31 years old, 2934 North Richmond street, in a Caesarian operation at Columbus hospital on Monday, it became known yesterday. Except for being slightly underweight, the babies, all girls, are perfect. Both Mrs. Pahr and the children were reported to be in good health.

The babies, identical triplets, were born a minute apart. Frances weighed 4 pounds 10½ ounces; Joan, 4 pounds 5¾ ounces, and Ellen, 4 pounds 10½ ounces. They will be kept at the Sarah Morris premature station at the Michael Reese hospital until each weighs 5 pounds.

Mrs. Pahr was told three weeks ago by her physician, Dr. H. R. Melone, 800 Diversey parkway, that an X-ray picture showed there would be three children and possibly four. Mrs. Pahr and her husband, Frank, 36 years old, a stockman for a mail order house, have one other child, Rosemary, 23 months old. They are delighted with the triplets, but wish one might have been a boy. Dr. Irving S. Cutter, health editor of THE TRIBUNE, said triplets were born once in 8,000 births. He added that Caesarian operations were not unusual in the birth of triplets.

AID SAYS JUDGE BOASTED THAT HE RAN RACKET

Lansing, Mich., May 19 [Special].—Testimony that Judge Michael E. Nolan of Gogebic county probate court, referred to his wholesale traffic in secret marriages as a "racket" was placed in the record today in his impeachment trial before the Michigan senate.

William B. Fauhl, Gogebic county auditor who served as Nolan's register of probate for six years, described how the judge, from 1933 to 1937, issued an abnormal number of waivers of the five day waiting period under the Michigan marriage law, normally charging $5 for each waiver. When the legislature enacted a statute requiring physical examinations of marriage license applicants, to safeguard against the spread of veneral infections, Fauhl said Nolan told him, "I've been missing a good bet in secret marriages" and under the new law "the racket could be made to pay good money." The act permits probate judges to issue licenses and conduct marriage ceremonies in secret but the power, according to the board of managers prosecuting Nolan, is supposed to be strictly confined to cases in which the good name of a bride is thereby protected.

SNYDERS AGREE ON DIVORCE AND CHILD CUSTODY

Efforts of Superior Judge Joseph Sabath to reconcile differences between Albert G. Snyder and his wife, Elva, who engineered an elaborate "abduction" of her two children from her husband's Oak Park home May 11, were fruitless, Snyder's attorney, Thomas W. Barrett Jr., informed the court yesterday.

They have agreed to an uncontested divorce, Barrett said, and are working out details of a settlement. At a hearing last Thursday, the judge strove for two hours to end the couple's quarrel, while other litigants waited.

Atty. Barrett said Snyder will have custody of the children, Sandra Lee, 6 years old, and Albert G., Jr., 9, during the school months, and their mother will have them during summer vacations and legal holidays. She may visit them at any "reasonable" time, Barrett said. Final details will be submitted to the court today, the attorney said.

DOCTOR IS CRUSHED TO DEATH IN HOTEL ELEVATOR MISHAP

Dr. Adam Hoche, about 60 years old, whose home is believed to be in New York City, last night was crushed to death in an elevator accident in the La Salle hotel, where he had been a guest for two months.

Angelo Medona

Detectives Sam Pittigrew and Cornelius Ryan of the Central station reported that the elevator operator was Angelo Medona, 16, of 230 West 23d place, who had been employed by the hotel for a week. Medona told the detectives that the doctor entered the elevator at the 14th floor, and tripped and fell. The cage moved up, and he was crushed between the 14th and 15th floors.

In Dr. Hoche's possession police found a letter addressed to him, bearing a return address of 51 West 68th street, New York City.

We Want To Tell You About Our Main Plant Workers

This is going to be a plain statement about the 5,000 workers in our Main Plant in Cleveland, and what they did during the wartime month of April, 1943.

Just about our own people. But when you know about them, you'll also know what kind of workers are really speeding the day of Victory in hundreds of American plants, everywhere.

We're telling about April and our Main Plant because April brought two dangerous threats to the production of vital aircraft and automotive parts at that plant.

The first threat was an attempt by the C I O to shut down war production at our Main Plant. This was the most recent incident in an unsuccessful C I O organization drive that started seven years ago. 93% of our workers ignored the attempt and remained at their machines. Men and women, proud of their company and imbued with patriotism, demonstrated their loyalty by working overtime and during rest periods to increase production.

The Cleveland newspapers headlined that Thompson workers were angered by the strike-call. Later, editorials in many cities commended their patriotic conduct. One woman who worked through her lunch period said, "My husband is in North Africa. If he thought I would ever think of going on a strike, he would blow my head off!"

An elderly man, passing through the picket line, drew back his coat lapel and displayed a pair of Army wings. His son was in the Army Air Corps.

"They can't stop me," exclaimed another worker, "I have four brothers in the service."

The second threat came with the strike of motormen and conductors that completely stopped all street cars in Cleveland. Our employees with automobiles rallied to this emergency and only a handful of workers were absent due to the halting of public transportation.

Yet in April our Main Plant workers set an all-time production record. They turned out more sodium-cooled aircraft engine valves, by 11%, than during any previous month. Aircraft engine fuel pumps, fuel booster pumps for high-altitude fighting, and other war parts made at this plant also were produced in greater volume than during any previous month. These parts are needed for the assembly lines of bombers, pursuit planes, military cars, trucks and tanks, PT boats, submarines, and other motorized fighting equipment, all over the country. Our Main Plant workers also make engine and chassis replacement parts that go to Army motor bases. These replacement parts are essential for civilian automotive transportation, too.

In the same month of April these 5,000 workers raised their war bond subscriptions to 10.3% of their total pay. Over 500 have donated their blood to the Red Cross; many have repeated, up to five times. 1,500 are now waiting to give blood. From their ranks 1,244 have entered the American armed forces. Their record of absenteeism is far below the prevailing average in the country's war plants as a whole.

In what sorts of buildings and with what kind of tools are these Main Plant workers setting production records? One building is the original plant of Thompson Products, built in 1901. Another is an old, reclaimed sewing machine factory. There is some new construction, too. Many departments glisten with an array of the most modern machine tools, but in others our workers are using fine resourcefulness and ingenuity to squeeze extra output from older tools.

These 5,000 Main Plant workers stem from 37 different nationalities, and almost every color and creed. 512 are negroes, which is a higher ratio on our payrolls than negroes to white races in the Cleveland community. We have found negroes to be good workmen and loyal Americans.

30% of our workers are women. Most of them are the bread-winners of their families. They were recruited from homes and a wide variety of other peacetime occupations. Many replace husbands and brothers now in uniform. They have become expert, conscientious workers. In 1941 only 4 per cent of our Main Plant workers were women.

The majority of our new men and women have taken our learner training courses, earning and producing while they learn.

These Main Plant workers range in age from 16 to 78. We hire all ages, subject to good character, and mental and physical fitness for the work to be done.

Over 1,000 Main Plant workers are members of the Thompson Old Guard Association of employees who have been five years or more in the company's service. These veteran craftsmen whole-heartedly have passed their "know-how" on to the new and inexperienced.

So when you walk into this plant, you see America at work.

In telling you of our Main Plant workers we also have told you about all Thompson workers—over 19,000 of them in Cleveland, Euclid, Detroit, Toledo, Los Angeles and St. Catharines, Canada. These plants turned out $90,000,000 worth of precision fighting parts last year. 1943 will be much greater than that, for every plant is beating production schedules. All of these plants have been singularly free from labor difficulties that have plagued war industries in every section.

We believe our 19,000 workers are typical of America's war workers at their best—quietly doing their jobs, level-headed, sincerely patriotic, with their hearts set on the day of final Victory.

That's why we wanted to tell you about them.

Mantle of Glory.

Just an unpretentious sort of a house,
Setting there back from the street,
It needed a coat of paint, it's true,
But its small lawn was well-kept and neat;
The roof could have stood a new shingling job
Where the rain had made dark round rings,
But that service flag in the window
Made up for a lot of things.

Three stars, three sons, raised with loving care
In that little house back from the street,
The money it took to look out for them
Might have made the whole place trim and neat;
The money expended in illness and stress
In the lives of three growing boys,
If selfishly spent could have likely
Brought many material joys.

But whenever I pass that little brown house
With that service flag proudly displayed,
I can sense the deep pride of those dwelling within,
So gallant and all unafraid;
And I never give thought to its lack of paint
Or its otherwise shabby air,
For those stars in the window enfold the place
In a mantle of glory most fair!

Saga of a Sucker.

A couple of years ago, Mr. Anthony, I was a happy and prosperous man, married to a beautiful girl. I was holding down a good job in a bank. But one day I began playing the horses and before I knew it I was betting more than I was making. Soon I had to sell my car, then my insurance, then my house. I began tinkering with the bank's funds and got a year in jail for it. My wife divorced me. I was spiritually and financially bankrupt. Then six months ago I got a job and slowly pulled myself out of the rut. I even managed to save a little money. Now my problem, Mr. Anthony, is this "Who's gonna win the fifth race at Hawthorne?"

INDIGNANT CUB FANS ARE ONLY WASTING TIME

P. K. Wrigley Isn't in a Firing Mood.

Record 20 in Row

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 19 [Special].—The Los Angeles Angels, affiliate of the Chicago Cubs, today set a Pacific Coast league record in running their consecutive victory streak to 20 by whipping Hollywood, 10 to 4 and 4 to 1. The Los Angeles team of 1939 and Seattle in 1903 won 19 straight. The Angels, who this season have won 26 of 29 league games, are managed by Bill Sweeney, one time big league first baseman. The Chicago Cubs have lost seven in a row in the National league.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

As a baseball magnate, P. K. Wrigley, who owns the Cubs, isn't very happy these days. His sole pleasure so far as his diamond chattels are concerned is derived from reading the National league standings upside down. This provides a delightful illusion. It puts the Cubs in first place, at least until the mailman drops in with a bundle of fan complaints demanding that P. K. get busy and start something.

For the time being Wrigley has no intention of complying with the demands of those who write letters of indignation. He'd like to, but he feels like a man who is supposed to be on both sides of a river at the same time.

"If I make a move I get the front office interference cry from one quarter," he said yesterday. "And if I don't act when the situation isn't calm I am charged with being disinterested."

Cubs Not That Bad, Says P. K.

As club president, a title he has no intention of relinquishing, his immediate baseball program calls for nothing more violent than a meeting with General Manager James Gallagher and Field Manager Jim Wilson when the Cubs return from their current road trip.

"Naturally I am interested in whatever might be the cause of the present slump," he continued. "I don't think the team is as weak as it has looked thus far. Maybe the fellows are just down as the result of some bad breaks and will snap out of it. But if there is any way in which to add strength I have no objection. The trouble is that in these times there isn't much chance for shopping in the baseball market. Everybody in the business wants to hold on to his stock."

As for firing anybody in expectation of turning a tailender into a contender, the Cub owner intimated experience had taught him it is not a short cut to baseball success.

It's Hands Off on Novikoff.

Yes, Wrigley is fully conscious of the fact that the well publicized Lou Novikoff isn't with the club because of salary differences. He admits his preference would have been to have had the Mad Russian calmed down by the time the season opened, but explains this merely indicates a difference in his way of handling recalcitrant ball players and the sterner methods employed by Gallagher.

"He hits minor league pitching as if it were made for his benefit but his luck with the big league variety has been spotty," he declared.

Wrigley could have said that while Novikoff went on a streak last season and thus was able to finish with a .300 average, on which he now bases his salary demands, the Cubs still finished in sixth place, but he didn't mention it. He probably prefers to let Novikoff wear down Gallagher or vice versa, a procedure that thus far seems to have the Mad Russian stewing in his own grease.

CHARITY RACING WEEK PROFITS HIT $82,870.05

John L. Keeshin, president of the National Jockey club, which operates Sportsman's Park, yesterday turned over to Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., a check for $82,870.05, which represented the profits of the week of charity racing, April 24 to April 30. Accompanying the check was a statement of receipts and expenditures audited by Arthur Anderson & Co.

Total Receipts $197,675.

None of the executives of the track received any compensation for his services during the charity week and no charges were made for interest on investment, depreciation, or overhead except for actual operating expenses.

The income from pari-mutuel earnings amounted to $150,105.28. The breakage [to 10 cents] was $24,200.50 and admission fees, less taxes, came to $16,013.66. Programs, concessions, and miscellaneous incomes boosted the total receipts to $197,675.64.

Money to Chicago Charities.

Expenditures for the six day program totaled $115,195.59. The principal expense was for purses, which amounted to $50,080. Salaries of the track's employés were $26,388.63 and state license fees cost $15,000. The net proceeds were increased by $390 by John D. Allen, who refunded the entire amount paid for the use of Brink's service.

The Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., will donate all revenue from the racing meeting to various Chicago charities. The major beneficiaries will be the United, Catholic, and Jewish Charities, which will receive an aggregate sum of $40,000.

Classes Will End Tomorrow in 11th Tribune Golf School

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

If golf ever proved itself a game for all weathers, it did that, and convincingly, within the last 10 days. Yesterday more than 150 men turned out for the opening of the Edgewater Golf club's 47th season. On Monday and Tuesday, the best swingers in the Western conference worked a total of 21 hours to play the 72 holes that decided their team and individual championships at Westmoreland in the worst going in Big Ten golf history.

And since Monday, May 10, a total of 14,650 men, women, and children of the Chicago area has defied the most ornery batch of weather conditions to take free instruction in the fundamentals of the game in the first three lessons of the 11th annual Tribune golf school on the four courses of the Chicago park district.

Teachers Doing Outstanding Job.

It is a further testimonial to the enthusiasm of the school's faculty, comprised of members of the Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' Association of America, that the teachers who conducted the classes in cold showers turned out en massé. Never before in the 10 year career of this largest system of group instruction in the history of sports has there been such a response from Illinois P. G. A. members. They were on deck to greet their pupils and carry on in workshops and park shelters on the night of May 10. They were out in the freezing airs of May 14 for the second lesson, which attracted 12,000 students. Many of them even were willing to go out on last Monday, when the elements forced postponement of the school to Tuesday.

And they all have promised to be there tomorrow night, when the fourth and final class of the school is given on the same four park courses at the same hour. Because of the weather-ridden nature of the 1943 school, the Illinois P. G. A. members plan to make the final lesson the most comprehensive they have given in 11 years. They will not only go into the mechanics of the swing, but also will review the principles of the grip and the stance for latecomers.

Final Lesson Comprehensive.

If you have missed any of the first three lessons, therefore, you still can obtain a sound lesson in the rudiments of golf from men who have devoted their lives to the game. All that is necessary to attend this final lesson is to bring one golf club to the park district course—Jackson, Marquette, Columbus, or Diversey-in-Lincoln—nearest your home or work. The final lesson will begin at 7 o'clock and will last slightly more than one hour.

The money with which THE TRIBUNE usually purchased prize golf equipment from the Illinois P. G. A. for outstanding students this year is being directed toward a special party for soldiers, sailors, marines, and coast guardsmen. This will be held tomorrow night in the U. S. O. center at 131 South Wabash avenue, with THE TRIBUNE and the Illinois P. G. A. playing hosts to all service men who come to the center.

SOX, A'S TO PLAY TWICE TODAY, IF—

Ed Smith and Humphries Ready to Pitch.

The weather being what it is, the White Sox continued yesterday to delve into the finer points of pinochle, meanwhile being forced to forego their scheduled baseball lessons for the ninth time in the infant season.

Presumably Connie Mack's Athletics, who were supposed to share in the day's Comiskey park entertainment, also played pinochle, this being the standard recreation for baseball athletes.

However, all parties concerned are hoping for the best and on this basis there may be a double header this afternoon which will mark the opening as well as the closing of the series for the price of one admission.

Smith and Ross Ready.

It appears as if the weather man works up a peeve almost every time Eddie Smith is due to pitch, he having been designated pitcher-to-be on many of the washed out occasions. But this isn't going to scare Manager James Dykes, despite his fear of additional delays. Smitty was to pitch Tuesday and didn't. It was the same yesterday. But Smitty, says Dykes, is going to be in one of those affairs this afternoon unless—.

The other game will be a matter for Lee [Buck] Ross to handle, and the rangy North Carolina lad won't be a bit displeased if he should happen to show his former boss, Connie Mack, just how he performed that one hit shutout on the Yankees last week. In his two previous starts, involving 19 innings of work, Ross has allowed only two runs, these being scored in the second inning by Cleveland. So he has a string of 17 runless innings. Roger Wolff and Russ Christopher are ready to pitch for the A's.

Play Senators in Night Game.

The Sox' first appearance of the season on the night shift is scheduled to take place tomorrow under the Comiskey park lights, the other half of the act being the Washington Senators, who for the time being are riding with the first division elite.

Johnny Humphries, who specializes in after dinner victories, will operate against the Senators in the opener. The Senators also will be on hand for a singleton Saturday afternoon and a double header on Sunday, after which the Sox will wander into the eastern half of the circuit.

BABE DAHLGREN OF PHILS TAKES 1ST DRAFT EXAM

Philadelphia, Pa., May 19 (AP).—The army beckoned to Babe Dahlgren today. The 30 year old shortstop-first baseman, who is married, has a 6 month old child and is one of the best reasons why the Phillies are looking like a ball club again, took a preliminary physical examination on orders of his San Francisco draft board.

Babe, bought from Brooklyn two months ago, passed the nose and throat exam but was told the results of other tests will not be made known to him until next week. Should he pass, a final induction examination would follow.

EDWIN PARKER AWARDED ILLINI HONOR MEDAL

Champaign, Ill., May 19 [Special].—Edwin S. Parker of Berwyn was awarded the University of Illinois conference medal for proficiency in scholarship and athletics today by the athletic council. Parker, a graduate of Morton High school, won his varsity letter for two years as a member of the championship basketball team and was regular first baseman in baseball. By attending school last year and this, he will be able to graduate next August, altho he is only a junior in point of school years.

BROOKLYN ONE GAME IN FRONT AFTER 3-2 LOSS

Boston Makes It 7 in Row.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 19 (AP).—The St. Louis Cardinals took a two to one lead in their four game series with Brooklyn today by beating the Dodgers, 3 to 2. Coaker Triplett's home run into the left field stands with one on in the sixth provided the victory punch.

Southpaw Max Lanier was yanked by the Cardinals in the seventh. He threw six straight balls and the next pitch went for a single. Then Lefty Harry Brecheen, who rescued Ernie White yesterday, came in and repeated with three no hit innings.

Cards Start Early.

The Cards got a run in the first when Harry Walker singled and went all the way home on Walker Cooper's single off the right field fence. They picked up their other two when Triplett hit his homer with Cooper, who had walked, on base.

The Dodgers couldn't cash in until the sixth. Stan Bordagaray singled, went to second when Arky Vaughan walked, and scored on Joe Medwick's single. They chipped out their other run in the seventh, with Mickey Owen walking, going to third on Pinch Hitter Johnny Cooney's single to right and scoring on Pinch Hitter Dee Moore's long fly ball. Mamakos Is Awarded Decision Over Taylor

Milwaukee, Wis., May 19 (AP).—Steve Mamakos, Washington, D. C., was awarded the decision over Tito Taylor, Chicago Negro, in their 10 round fight highlighting a triple windup show tonight in the Auditorium before 3,200, who paid $5,100 to see the show. The two fighters slugged it out toe to toe most of the bout, with Mamakos getting the unanimous vote of the judges. Mamakos weighed 162½, Taylor 157.

BIKE-HIKE TOUR SCHEDULED FOR OUTDOORS FANS

Combination Event One of Week's Features.

BY BOB BECKER.

A combination bike and hike trip and walks both in Chicago and on trails in the forest preserves are among the outings scheduled for outdoor fans and walking enthusiasts this week-end. The organized walking groups have scheduled seven hikes for Saturday and Sunday. All of these are open to newcomers who want to take a walk at a time when there are many wild flowers in the woods. The wild haws and crab trees along the north shore which were in bud last week-end also should be in blossom.

The outings scheduled for Saturday and Sunday are as follows:

SATURDAY.

LINCOLN PARK [Outing association]—This is an evening walk [first of the season] thru one of Chicago's most interesting parks. Distance, 3 miles. Time of hike, 2 hours. Leave Sheridan road and Diversey at Elk's Memorial at 7:25 p. m. Expense, carfare. Point of interest, Belmont harbor.

KNOW YOUR CHICAGO TOUR NO. 150 [Prairie club]—A walk of 3 miles. Meeting place, north door of the public library, Randolph and Michigan, at 2:15 p. m. Expense, ticket 28 cents. Those wishing to join this walk are asked to make reservations at the club office not later than today. [Telephone Dearborn 3737.]

SUNDAY.

For Chicago hikers, Chicago and Milwaukee North Shore Electric leaves the Adams and Wabash terminal 8:45 a. m. and arrives at Winnetka Elm street station 9:36. No expense on the hike which will last 2½ hours. Walk begins at iron bridge on the gravel road crossing Des Plaines river, two miles north of Deerfield road. [Leader Lloyd Faxon, telephone Dearborn 2306.]

UPPER SALT CREEK [Outing club]—Distance, 7 miles. Leave end of Grand avenue street car line, Grand and Harlem avenues, via Leyden motor coach bus 10:05 a. m. Arrive Wooddale 10:35. Returning, leave Bensenville 5:50 p. m., arriving Grand and Harlem avenues 6:20 p. m. Expense, round trip fare 33 cents. Bring lunch and cup. Three small forest preserves in the upper Salt Creek area are the objectives of this Du Page county walk. [For information about the Outing club or further details about this walk, telephone Perzcella Munro, Kildare 9702.]

BENSENVILLE [Fort Dearborn Hiking club]—Distance, 5 miles. Meeting place, Union station, gate No. 7 [near subway to elevated lines] at 12:30 p. m. Leave Union station via Chicago, Milwaukee and Pacific, 12:45. Arrive Bensenville 1:36 p. m. Returning leave Bensenville 7:06 p. m. Arrive Union station 7:50. Expense, 75 cents. Secure tickets from club representative. Bring lunch, beverage is obtainable. [Leader, Marie Ohrt, Ravenswood 2196.]

PILCHER PARK WALK [Prairie club]—Distance, 8 miles. Leave La Salle street station 8:50 a. m. via Rock Island railroad. Leave Englewood station 9 a. m. Arrive Pilcher park 9:35 a. m. Returning, leave Pilcher park 5:35 p. m. Arrive Englewood station 6:27; La Salle street 6:40. Expense, $1.20. The morning walk will be for the most part within the park. The afternoon jaunt will be thru the woods along Hickory creek. Bring lunch and beverage.

BIKE-HIKE [Englewood Outdoor club]—This is a combination walking and bicycle outing. Meeting place, 111th street and Sacramento avenue at 10 a. m. Expense, $1.50. Bring lunch. [For further details about this outing, telephone Anthony Stelzer, president, Beverly 3320.]

BICYCLE TOUR TO LAKE FOREST [Evanston Cycle Touring club]—Distance, 38 miles round trip. About 4½ hours for the trip. Meeting place, Maple Cycle shop, 1605 Maple street, Evanston, 1:30 p. m. Arrive Lake Forest 3:30. Returning, leave Lake Forest 3:45, arrive Evanston 6:30. No expense. Bicycles should be properly equipped, and rider able to cover total distance without too much difficulty. Scenic route partially along the lake shore and thru the ravine sections of towns near Lake Forest.

Ott's Homer Helps Giants Beat Reds, 3-2

New York, May 19 (AP).—The New York Giants' jinx on Johnny Vander Meer worked again today, taking the shape of a two run homer by Manager Mel Ott in the first inning, and brought a 3 to 2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. The left hander always has had a hard time with the Giants, who took four out of five decisions from him in the two preceding seasons.

Napoleon Reyes, called up from Jersey City, started at first base for the Giants and was hurt on his first fielding chance. Running back for a high foul by Lonnie Frey in the first inning he turned his ankle and had to leave the game. Score:

MUDDERS WILL BE AT HOME IN CRETE HANDICAP

They'll Have an Edge in $5,000 Race Saturday.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Track conditions have been making it tough for many of the trainers who are attempting to point their better class of horses for the Lincoln Fields stake program, but some of the boys have found enough good mudders in their stables to hold out hope that Saturday's $5,000 Crete handicap may develop into a spirited engagement after all.

Ross Higdon, who trains for the Woolford farm stable, contemplates the climate with serenity as he points Signator and Pig Tails for this six furlong event. Pig Tails wallowed gleefully thru the mire as he won a tuneup event on Tuesday and Signator, which took the Crete handicap last season, is not a bit afraid of getting his feet wet.

These Like Mud, Too.

Brownell Combs' brilliant filly, Miss Dogwood, also is expected to be comparatively indifferent to the elements and, of course, Mrs. A. M. Creech's Sales Talk sloshes around a swampy track with the same zest as a 5 year old boy breaking in a new pair of shoes on a rainy day.

Racing Secretary William H. Shelley yesterday looked over the list of eligibles with some foreboding, but expressed hope that a good field will get to the post. In addition to the above named, the most probable starters include Wishbone, Flying Easy, Bring Me Home, Navy Cross, Little Kiss, and Sis Baker. Emerson F. Woodward's capable handicap performer, Valdina Orphan, is on the grounds and is in good shape, but he is generally considered a doubtful starter in this particular event.

Mr. Young Is Suffering.

Track Superintendent Tom Young, who has had many a bout with the weather in the course of his career, would have welcomed matching his landscape gardening talents against all that J. Pluvius could throw at him if he were at the regular Lincoln Fields plant this year. Before Tom ever was on a race track he was adept at coaxing petunias and geraniums to sit up and smile. The appearance of Churchill Downs on Derby day and of Lincoln Fields thruout its annual meetings have been tributes in the past to Tom's genius. So he's probably a bit put out this year because he hasn't been able to exchange a few belts with the weather man.

This time, with the Lincoln Fields meeting transferred to Hawthorne, he's concentrated on that phase of the track superintendent's duty which involves stabling arrangements, arrival of horses, etc. Meanwhile, Hawthorne's regular track superintendent, Ben Miller, has been wrestling heroically with conditions which would discourage Chinese coolies during the Yangtse flood seasons.

CUBS GET TWO CHANCES TODAY TO SHAKE SWOON

Derringer and Lee to Face Phillies.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., May 19.—Weather conditions which developed after a ladies' day crowd had gathered outside the Shibe park gates today caused a postponement of the third game of the series between the Cubs and Phillies.

As a result, the two clubs will meet tomorrow in a double header which will conclude the series. This twin bill is viewed with more than a conservative measure of glee by the Phils who now have the thought firmly implanted in their noggins that they constitute one of those teams of destiny. They know the Cubs now bleeding from seven straight reverses, are down, and they expect to keep them there.

Derringer, Lee to Pitch.

Paul Derringer and Bill Lee will attempt to elevate the Cubs from the doldrums tomorrow, altho to date neither pitcher has produced anything spectacular in the form of a flinging performance. Derringer, however, has one victory to his credit.

Al Gerheauser, a lefty who tied the Cardinals in knots last Sunday, and Charley Fuchs, a right hander, will pitch for the Phillies.

Tomorrow's twin bill has added to the Cubs' travel difficulties. It now appears they will have to jump to New York, spend the night there, and then catch an early morning train for Boston on Friday.

Aches Throw Goodman.

Outfielder Ival Goodman, who made his bow last night, came up with two painful charley horses today and Mizell Platt is scheduled to take over the left field post tomorrow.

Monarchs Take Two Out of Three from Gills

The Monarchs last night won two out of three from the Joseph L. Gills in the opening block of their best four of seven game series for the championship of the Classic Bowling league. The block was rolled on the Faetz and Son recreation lanes. Adolph Carlson of the Gills shot high series of 672. The second block will be rolled tomorrow night at Marigold Arcade. Last night's scores:

Monarchs	971	1,000	1,018—2,989

ANGELS TO PLAY AT SKOKIE.

Braves Drop Gomez; Roster Reduced to 26

Boston, Mass., May 19 (AP).—The unconditional release of Vernon [Lefty] Gomez by the Boston Braves tonight reduced the roster to 26 players, one above tomorrow's major league deadline.

WEATHER PLAYS MORE TRICKS ON PREP PROGRAM

Baseball, Tennis, Track Events Postponed.

For the third successive time rain yesterday washed out Chicagoland High school sport activites. Seventeen City league baseball games were postponed, bringing the number of games delayed to 58. The Illinois State High school tennis championship matches in River Forest again were postponed and the West Suburban league frosh-soph track meet was put over until today. In addition, three district meets in the state baseball tournament were forced to postpone their openers.

A Problem of Pitching.

The City league coaches, some with only one reliable pitcher on their staffs, face a problem attempting to play off sectional postponements. Most of the schools are in the second half of the double round robin play, but a few have one or two games to be made up from the first half of the schedule.

A fourth attempt will be made this afternoon to play off the state tennis semi-final and final rounds on the River Forest courts.

R. V. Lybeck, in charge of the West Suburban league varsity track meet, yesterday announced the conference will hold its meet Monday in La Grange instead of tomorrow as previously planned.

Three high school track meets will be held Saturday afternoon in Chicagoland. They are the fifth annual Chicago Teachers' College relays in Key Branch stadium, Roosevelt road and Central avenue; the Midwest Prep conference in Lake Forest and the Catholic league junior meet preliminaries in Loyola stadium.

Headed by Schurz, defending champion, the Chicago Teachers relays will draw 30 City league schools. Schurz is a favorite to win its fourth straight title. Strong opposition will be offered by Phillips, the state champion. Phillips' two man team, composed of Claude [Buddy] Young and Ranis Thomas, is expected to score approximately 25 points. Schurz, coached by George Topping, has a well balanced squad.

Culver Defends Title.

Culver Military academy is the defending Midwest Prep conference champion. Returning with the Indiana squad are Elwood Hillis and Warren H. Chapman, holders of the conference records for the mile and 880 yard run, respectively. In addition, the cadets will have a heavy point winner in the dashes and hurdles in T. D. McKee. Red Evans is expected to take the broad jump. His best mark this season is 22 feet.

PICTURES SHOW STEPHENS' KNEE ONLY SPRAINED

St. Louis, Mo., May 19 (AP).—Additional X-rays disclosed today that Vernon Stephens, shortstop of the St. Louis Browns, is suffering from a severe sprain at the left knee cap, instead of a fracture. He may be able to rejoin his team within a week.

Stephens, the American league's leading hitter, was injured last Sunday and his knee was placed in a cast at St. John's hospital. It was explained the sprain had resulted in a developmental condition that simulates a fracture.

STOCK MARKET SURGES HIGHER; VOLUME RISES

Steels, Rails Lead Broad Advance.

New York, May 19 (AP).—Steels, rails, and a group of industrials supplied the principal momentum for a broad rise in today's stock market.

Advances of fractions to about a point were general and a number of the gains amounted to 2 points or more. The upturn brought a large increase in stock exchange volume. Transfers totaled 1,493,300 shares against 930,060 yesterday.

Helpful to favorable sentiment was Winston Churchill's speech before congress in which he indicated new vital war decisions were in the making and promised again that Great Britain would give full aid in the crushing of Japan.

Predict Wide Investment Demand.

Indications of an improved technical position after the market's corrective swing of the last 10 days aided buying. Analysts deduced the better quality of leadership on the advance meant possibly a renewal of investment demand in contrast with the recent "amateur" speculative operations in various low priced shares.

American Telephone extended an early fractional advance after the company announced the regular $2.25 dividend. The close was 1¼ higher. Tops for a year or longer were established by Air Reduction, Westinghouse Electric, du Pont, which lost its gain; Union Carbide, and Eastman Kodak.

Nickel Plate preferred climbed 5¾ and the common advanced 2. Both attained new highs.

CHICAGO STOCKS RISE.

Chicago Stock exchange prices advanced yesterday in turnover of 44,000 shares. Among the more actively traded issues were Central and South West Utilities, up ⅛; Merchants and Manufacturers Securities and Midland United common, unchanged; Midland United preferred, up ¾ to close at 12 after touching a new 1943 high of 12⅛, and Stewart-Warner, up 1⅛ to close at 13⅛ after a new high of 13¼.

BONDS ARE HIGHER.

New York, May 19 (AP).—Bond market prices were higher today after stumbling in a narrow range for more than a week.

The rails, especially reorganizations and medium priced loans, led the upturn with many gains of fractions to a point or more. High priced industrials and utilities attracted moderate investment buying and United States government issues firmed on the stock exchange and in outside markets.

DECLINE IN OATS PRICES PUSHES GRAINS LOWER

Purchase of 1 million bushels of Canadian oats for shipment to Chicago for delivery on May contracts resulted in a decline of 1 cent a bushel in oats futures yesterday after early sales at 64⅛ cents. The late weakness in oats affected wheat and rye, both of which lost early gains.

Oats closed ⅛ to ⅜ cent lower. Wheat was off ¼ to ½ cent and rye declined ⅛ to ¾ cent. July and September corn sold at the ceiling price.

Corn futures trading was heavier as the result of an announcement late Tuesday that cash interests who had hedged grain in elevators would be able to settle their contracts on the basis of $1.07 a bushel for the May, July, and September deliveries during the last seven business days of the respective months, or 2 cents a bushel above the current ceiling price on futures.

Nickel Plate April Profit Rises to 6 Times '42 Level

The Nickel Plate railroad reported yesterday its April net income was $789,535, compared with $126,563 in April, 1942.

Wright Plane Parts Faulty, Says Senator

Washington, D. C., May 19 (AP).—The senate Truman committee reported today there "was no question but that some defective parts" were furnished for use in army and navy planes by Wright Aeronautical corporation from its plants at Lockland, O., near Cincinnati.

A committee statement, made by Sen. Mon C. Wallgren [D., Wash.], said investigations by the committee and a board of army officers were continuing.

Insist on Precautions.

Wallgren said the committee first received complaints in January from government and company inspectors that faulty aircraft engines and parts were being furnished by the company, a subsidiary of the Curtiss-Wright corporation.

"There was no question but that some defective parts were supplied and some unsafe material was placed in completed engines ready for shipment," Wallgren's statement said. "The committee was insistent that every precaution be taken, both to stop faulty practices and to find and correct any defects in finished engines which had already been shipped. For these reasons the committee submitted its evidence and testimony to the army. Immediately thereafter, the material was made available to the department of justice."

Wallgren, chairman of a subcommittee on aeronautics, said the complaints by government and company inspectors were to the effect "that they were not permitted to make proper inspection or to reject considerable quantities of material considered by them to be defective."

Knudsen Joins Probe.

The statement said the war department appointed a board of investigation headed by Lt. Gen. William S. Knudsen, which, with Robert A. Lovett, assistant secretary of war for air, visited Cincinnati to examine witnesses. It continued:

"This board has made two reports to the committee, and a number of corrective steps have been taken. The army assured the committee that every precaution is being taken to insure that defective engines or substandard parts are not used in service."

HOG PRICES RISE ALTHO RECEIPTS MOUNT 57 PCT.

Despite much heavier selling of hogs thruout the country yesterday, prices at the Chicago stock yards reached the highest level since Wednesday of last week and equaled the best prices in 12 days. The average of $14.50 a hundred pounds was 20 cents above last week's close and 5 cents above Tuesday's market.

The stock yards received 26,000 hogs including directs to packers, the biggest Wednesday run since Jan. 27. The total was 57 per cent larger than a week earlier and 72 per cent above a year ago.

Practically no changes occurred in prices for cattle and lambs.

One Man Dispute Stops Ordnance Loading Line

Murphysboro, Ill., May 19 [Special].—Labor difficulties stopped work in one unit of the Illinois ordnance plant today. The plant's public relation department explained that work stopped on a loading line when one employé did not join the United Mine Workers union, No. 50, because he was already a member of the AFL.

Pension Fund Has 13½% of Sears Shares

Sears, Roebuck & Co. employés that are members of the company's savings and profit sharing pension fund own 13½ per cent of the company's outstanding stock, a joint announcement by H. C. Penticoff, group manager of Sears' Chicago retail stores, and O. S. Detweiler, general manager of the large mail order plant here, disclosed yesterday.

As a result, the announcement said, the profit sharing fund is the company's largest stockholder, holding 785,170 shares as of Jan. 31. Of the total, some 9,525 Chicago employés own 297,701 shares which on April 1 had a market value of $20,839,070.

In addition to stock owned, each employé member of the fund also has cash credit balance in the fund. These credits over and above the stock holdings totaled $12,356,914 as of April 1.

Under the employés profit sharing plan, started in 1916, the company contributes to the fund 5 per cent of profits before taxes and dividends. Employé members deposit 5 per cent of their salaries, but not more than $250 a year. However, instead of 5 per cent last year, the company contributed 7½ per cent or a total of $7,716,836.

In the 27 years existence of the fund, the company has contributed $52,840,969 which has been added to the employés' deposits and the increase acquired thru dividends and other earnings.

VOLUNTARY CUT IN NEWSPRINT IS URGED BY WPB

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 19.—The WPB, warning that a further cut in newsprint use may be imposed, today asked publishers of the nation's 1,787 newspapers to make voluntary cuts in newsprint use.

William G. Chandler, director of the WPB printing and publishing division, said estimates that previous WPB restrictions would cut consumption by 10 per cent have not been realized, and that the "necessity for further voluntary curtailment is urgent."

The WPB curtailment order, which went into effect Jan. 1, restricted each newspaper to the amount of newsprint used for its net paid circulation in 1941.

"Which Is Essential?"

New York, May 19 (AP).—The Wall Street Journal, business newspaper, says the "increasing scarcity of wood pulp for paper making" appears likely to force early action by the WPB to determine which kinds of paper are most essential in war time.

Wanted:

MEAT

Operations Executive

National food organization, distributor of millions of pounds of dressed, smoked and processed meats, has an unusual opportunity for a man with executive qualifications. This permanent position carries major responsibilities, and has an important post-war future. Preferred: a man between 35 and 42 years of age, graduate who majored in animal husbandry at some accredited university or state agricultural college. Experience must include knowledge of important sources of supply and practical experience in industry operations, but most important consideration is management ability. Securing the right man is of primary importance, and the salary will be commensurate with the responsibilities. If you think this position fits you, send details on age, education, employment history, draft status, and any other subjects that seem appropriate. Replies will be held in strict confidence; however, they may be made through a third person.

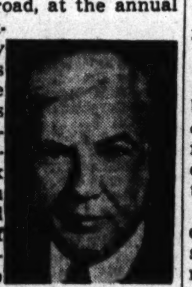
ADDRESS B X 500, TRIBUNE

I. C. GIVES DEBT SLASH PRIORITY OVER DIVIDENDS

Beven Tells Policy at Annual Meeting.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

J. L. Beven, president of the Illinois Central railroad, at the annual meeting of stockholders yesterday in the company's general office gave stockholders who couldn't attend an opportunity to speak their mind thru letters. He read a few, all of which were uncomplimentary to the management and indicated that the stockholders have one desire—dividends.



J. L. Beven.

The first was from a man who owns four shares of common and one of preferred which he bought in 1935. He said he wished to protest the granting of pay increases to officers and directors at a time when the stockholders get nothing. Beven said the officers had had no increases in compensation last year and the directors get no salaries—only fees.

Some Holders Critical.

A New Yorker who owns 100 shares of preferred bought in 1941 was disappointed because the stockholders are getting no consideration in this period of high revenues. A resident of Pennsylvania, the owner of 25 shares of common bought in 1942, was "so disgusted I feel like selling my stock and investing in another railroad." He wanted dividends. Another said that the officers should give up their pay until the road pays dividends. Several of the writers criticized the fact that officers and directors own so little of the road's stock.

Beven answered the dividend complaints by saying the management considers that its duty is to use what revenues it can to pay on debts to put the road in better financial shape for the future.

"I started at $12 a week," he said, "and I got to my present job without pull or influence. I own 38 shares of stock and I get $60,000 a year, of which about a half is net to me. I haven't been getting that so very long, and when I'd have liked to buy our stock I couldn't afford it. My own opinion is that railroad men are underpaid—they could get more in other lines of business."

Beven said that he would rather have a man like Gen. Wood on the board without owning a share than others who might own 10,000. He explained that directors are chosen from a geographic viewpoint and, more important, for their standing and their ability in making their own organizations a success.

"The Illinois Central has gone thru a lot of trouble," he continued, "and but for the good work of the management—and I am not taking credit for that—the railroad would have been bankrupt and the shareholders would have been out in the cold.

Road's Position Good.

"I don't know when we will resume paying dividends, but when we do it will be on a sound basis. Nothing is more important than to get debt down and fixed charges reduced. The railroad is in good position and each day shows its capacity for handling a large volume of business, which gives promise for the future."

He reported that net income for the first four months of this year was $9,652,000 compared with $5,516,000 a year ago. Vernon W. Foster, general counsel of the road, was elected a director.

Expanded Trade with 'Middle American' Nations Is Urged

Further development of trade between the United States and "Middle American" countries was urged yesterday by William K. Jackson, vice president of the United Fruit company. He advocated renewal of the government's reciprocal trade agreement program as an important means of facilitating this trade.

Addressing a luncheon meeting of the Chicago Association of Commerce and Export Managers Club of Chicago in the Hotel Sherman, Jackson asserted the war had made it imperative that this nation look to Middle America — the mainland countries and islands between North and South America—for many vitally essential materials formerly obtained from tropic lands in the East Indies.

Have Resources We Need.

He listed such products as rubber, hemp, jute, quinine, sugar, coffee, cocoa, and certain strategic minerals which the United States could no longer obtain from across the pacific.

"Middle America, at our own front door, has a vast area of rich tropical soil capable of producing and furnishing much of what we have heretofore obtained from so far away," declared Jackson.

He warned, however, that development of resources in Middle American countries should be undertaken by private enterprise, rather than thru direct or indirect loans by the United States to local governments, and decried the need for "any kind of international body or tribunal to supervise capital investments in middle America."

Jackson explained that in the expansion of trade American enterprise should not only seek markets for what it grows and manufactures, but should be ready to buy that of which other countries have a surplus.

Develop Buying Power.

"The business prosperity which enables them to buy more of goods is predicated upon the development of new enterprises there which create purchasing power," he declared. "This is where we can be helpful with our capital."

He predicted "tremendous impetus" in airway development in Middle America after the war and declared the future of those countries lies rather in the extension of roadways than in building more railways."

Referring to the continuation of reciprocal trade agreements with Middle American countries, Jackson said "the negotiation of these agreements was one of the most heartening events of a century in rational foreign trade building."

People and Events

Paul W. Oliver of Chicago has resigned as United States manager of the marine departments of the Dubuque Fire and Marine and the National Reserve Insurance companies effective June 1, 1943. He will join Bartholomay and Clarkson, general insurance agency in Chicago. Oliver organized the Dubuque's marine department on a national basis in 1936, with all underwriting being handled in Chicago.

William Clarkson Heath, president of the A. O. Smith corporation, Milwaukee, has been elected by member banks in group No. 3 of the 7th [Chicago] federal reserve district, as a class B director, to fill a vacancy created by the death of Max Wellington Babb.

Hempstead Washburne, former manager of the Chicago office of the Mercantile-Commerce Bank and Trust company, St. Louis, has joined Harris, Hall & Co., Julien H. Collins, vice president, announced yesterday.

The annual meeting of the Chicago chapter of the Chartered Life Underwriters has been set back one day to June 4. Clarence E. Smith of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, heads the nominating committee's slate for the presidency next year.

WOOLWORTH'S SALES CLIMB IN FIRST 4 MONTHS

Pullman Company's Profit Higher.

F. W. Woolworth company's sales in the first four months of this year increased 9.4 per cent above sales in the corresponding four months last year to $130,822,721, E. C. Mauchly, vice president, told stockholders at the annual meeting in Watertown, N. Y., yesterday.

Sales in 1942 established a record volume of $423,220,598, compared with 1941 sales of $377,148,059, he said. Stores in operation at the close of the year numbered 2,015, of which 1,862 are in the United States, 145 in Canada, and eight in Cuba, he disclosed.

Mauchly said some lines of merchandise carried by the company have practically vanished from the market because of military requirements. He said there was large curtailment of volume on kitchen ware, tools, and other metal products.

Eight Directors Elected.

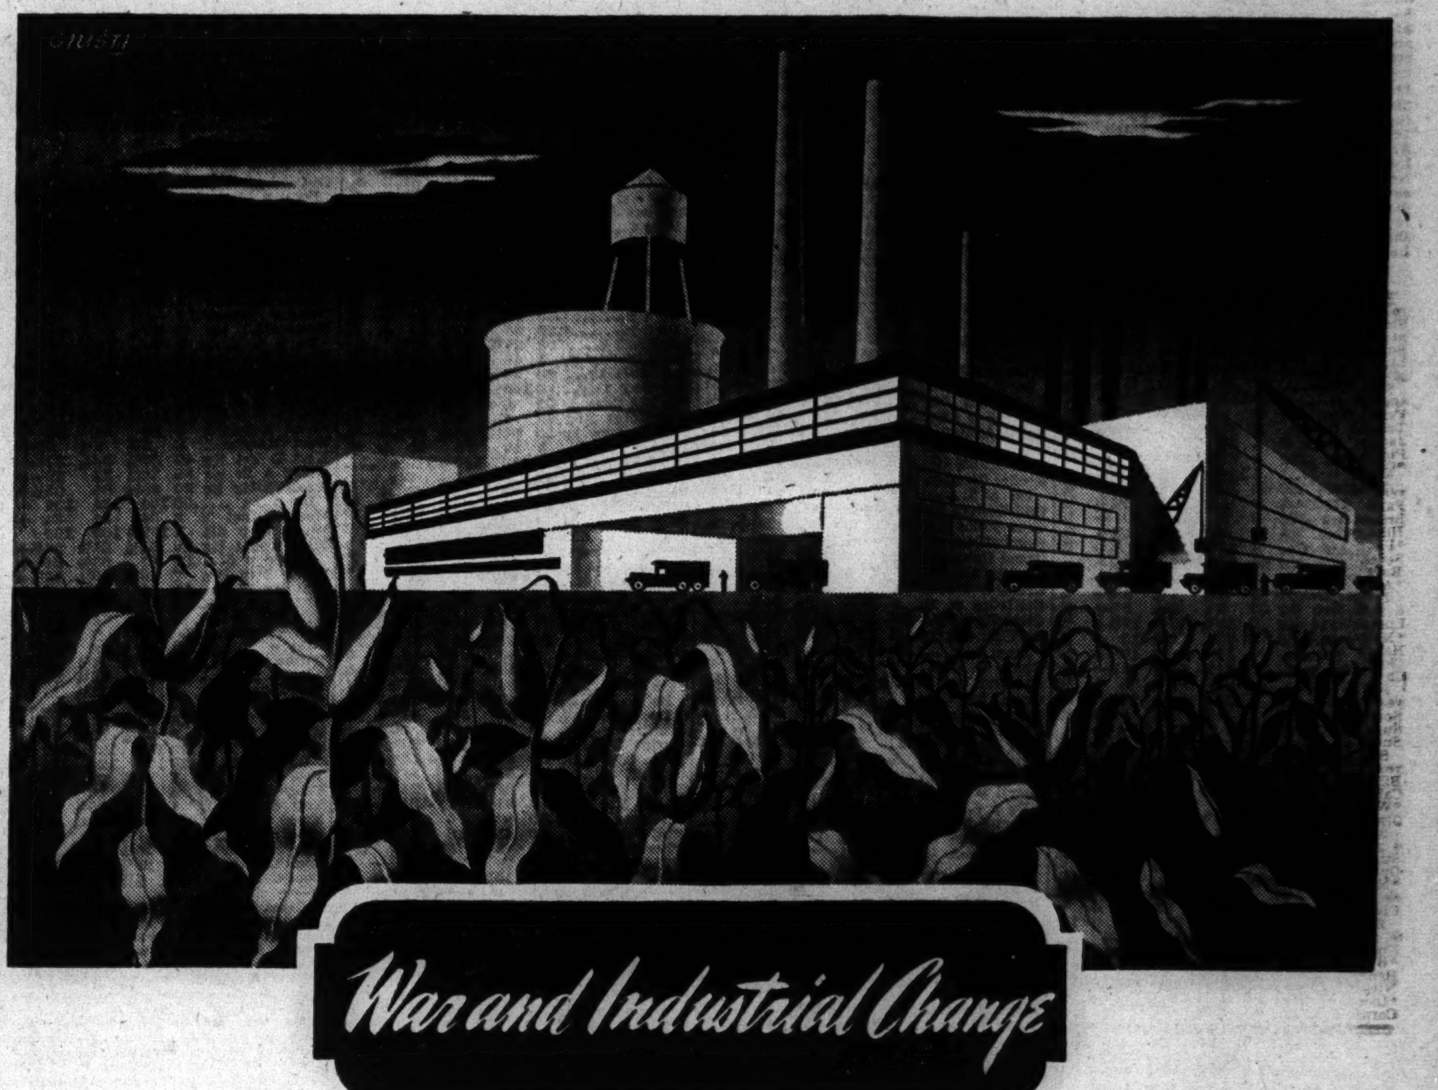
Eight directors, one-third of the board, were elected for three year terms. They were Floyd R. Cole, Seymour H. Knox, Mrs. Jessie Woolworth Donahue, Philip Lehman, Martin A. Schenck, William L. Stephenson of London, England, Harry E. Ward, and Charles W. Woolworth. Other reports yesterday:

CONSOLIDATED OIL — Stockholders were told at the annual meeting in New York by H. F. Sinclair, president, that a butadiene plant being built by the company is expected to be in operation in the next two or three months. He said earnings thus far in 1943 have been at about the same level as a year ago.

Pullman Profit Rises.

PULLMAN COMPANY — This sleeping car affiliate of Pullman, Inc., Chicago, had March net profit of $553,809 after provision for amortization of investment for air conditioning, against $377,581 in March, 1942. Net profit in the three months ended March 31 amounted to $1,318,994, against $1,449,205 a year earlier.

CATERPILLAR TRACTOR—April net sales of this Peoria, Ill., company rose to $16,284,300 from $8,999,535 in April of last year, L. B. Neumiller, president, reported. Net sales in the four months ended April 30 amounted to $51,348,394.



The grim necessities of war have called upon American ingenuity—and not in vain. Here in Chicago we see a great aluminum plant spring from idle prairie, a new steel mill erected on former swamp land, and a giant airplane plant come into being on the site of a corn field.

These new industries, it is evident, are not confined to the emergency but promise profound alterations in the future nature and scope of Chicago industry. No one can state exactly what the full implications of this great change will be, but that it will expand the scope of Chicago's role in American economic life is evident.

At present the American National Bank is devoting its efforts to assisting government and industry in the national emergency. Afterward, it is our intention to play a comparable part in the new world beyond the horizon, and specifically in the New Chicago.

SUNRAY OIL.

Please send me a review of the Sunray Oil corporation.—H. H.

Answer: Sunray Oil corporation is one of the small but complete units in the petroleum industry. Crude oil and natural gas production constitute the principal activities of the company. Development of new properties and acquisitions have been reflected in a sharp rise in crude oil production in recent years. The company last February purchased an interest in 35 producing oil wells in the Foster pool in West Texas. Acreage holdings are located in Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas, New Mexico, Louisiana, Indiana, Mississippi, and Illinois. A refinery is operated at Allen, Okla.

The possibility of a merger with the Superior Oil corporation was reported recently, but was said to be not imminent. Sunray Oil was incorporated in 1929, went into receivership in 1931, and was reorganized in 1934.

Net income and earnings per share of outstanding preferred and common stock in the five years 1938 to 1942, inclusive, were:

		Per share.
	Net inc.	Pfd.	Com.
1942	$818,713	$29.48	$0.37
1941	853,276	28.17	.39
1940	527,911	16.30	.23
1939	605,552	17.06	.25
1938	569,314	14.52	.23

Capitalization outstanding at the end of 1942 consisted of $3,950,000 of notes payable of the wholly owned subsidiary, Sunray Oil company; 27,770 shares of 5½ per cent preferred stock, $50 par value, and 1,999,138 shares of $1 par common. The preferred is convertible into common at any time at $9 a share for the common. Both issues are listed on the New York Curb exchange.

Regular dividends have been paid on the preferred since Oct. 1, 1936. An initial common dividend of 10 cents was paid Sept. 1, 1936, and was followed by distributions of 25 cents in 1937, 5 cents in 1938, and 10 cents in 1939, 1940, 1941, and 1942. Dividends of 5 per cent in stock were also distributed in 1941 and 1942 to holders of the common. A dividend of 10 cents a share has been declared payable June 14, 1943.

THE PURE OIL COMPANY
Preferred Share Dividend

The regular quarterly dividend of $1.25 has been declared on the 5% Preferred Shares, and $1.50 on the 6% Preferred Shares of THE PURE OIL COMPANY, payable in cash on July 1, 1943, to shareholders of record at the close of business June 10, 1943.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, May 19 (AP).—Cotton textile brokers were unable to secure new commitments from mills today, except for a few fill in orders which carried high priority ratings. Mill releases of woolens and worsted goods were in limited quantities, while business in the rayon trade hinged on pending simplification programs.

OPA DRAWS NEW ATTACKS; LIVING COSTS MOUNT

Bare Sharpest Increase in Agency's History.

the National Association of Retail Grocers, the National Association of Real Estate Boards, and the National Association of Retail Druggists.

The AFL council charged in a public statement that the price control program has broken down, so far as foodstuffs are concerned. It said there had been no sincere attempt to roll back prices to a reasonable level.

Hold Chaos Created.

"Instead, the OPA has created confusion and chaos in the nation's food markets by a continuous series of complicated and contradictory rulings which have made a mockery of price control," the council declared.

"In fact, the giddy policies of the OPA have made it possible for profiteers to create artificial shortages in basic commodities and to reap unconscionable profits thru black market operations.

"The executive council is firmly of the opinion that the time has come to call a halt to the farcical performances of the OPA. The workers of America, whose wage income has been stabilized within narrow limits, are protesting all over the country against being victimized."

CHICAGO—All indications point to the disintegration of the OPA as a potent factor in the food business within the next two months, the American Institute of Food Distribution of New York said in a statement.

The highly regarded institute declared that the agency is almost entirely discredited and it is questionable whether it ever will be able to get prices and rationing under firm control again.

The statement charged that labor unions have intervened in management of the OPA and that altho Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown contends he has complete control of OPA policy and activity, it is apparent that he does not have an equal control over OPA employés.

"The last few days have been hectic for the food trades," it went on, "and most of the troubles can be traced to the fact that the unions are dictating OPA policy, with most of the dictation coming thru [Director of Economic Stabilization James F.] Byrnes' office in the White House in the person of Ben Cohen, of the famous Cocoran-Cohen team. Cohen is handling all the details of OPA matters for Byrnes and his word, in effect, is final."

Link Orders to Coal Woes.

The institute asserted that the OPA made "frantic efforts" to build a defense for the aministration in advance of the expiration of the coal strike truce Tuesday, and that this accounted for the "flood of complex, confusing price orders."

Altho the outcome of the coal fight is uncertain, "there is no uncertainty about the double squeeze being put on the food business," it added, and observed that the war labor board told John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers' president, that his complaints regarding high living costs would be taken care of by improved price control and rationing.

"Probably the most discouraging aspect of OPA," the trade institute asserted, "is the way in which the practical men are being completely disregarded—even more so than in earlier days. They work out details of plans, suddenly find their purpose distorted, and a completely different plan, impractical and unpopular, issued as an official OPA order.

"Administrator Brown is in the midst of trying to collect a workable organization under the OPA tent, but it is difficult to persuade outstanding business men to enter into such a turmoil."

NEW YORK.—Harry Brisman, executive secretary of the Greater New York grocers' conference, condemned as "a direct approach to Fascism" the OPA regulations separating the nation's food stores into four different categories and permitting each to charge a different rate depending on service features and annual turnover.

He said his organization would call a mass meeting of 15,000 grocery proprietors and their employés within 10 days to protest the order which, he predicted, will drive at least a third of all New York food merchants out of business within three months.

"They started out the same way in Europe," Brisman declared.

Brisman said the mass meeting is being arranged to inform the public that the independent food merchant is not a black market operator and to prove that Mayor Fiorello La Guardia's self-styled "white market" venture into the meat and potato supply business "has been conceived for the purpose of political gain."

Salesmen.

COMMISSIONS

For just one man in our Chicago organization, while some of you salesmen are wondering whether there are still opportunities in the sales field.
OUR MEN DON'T DO.
No canvassing, no delivering, no credit investigators, no calling back, no collecting, no servicing, and don't sell their friends. They spend all their time and all their energy in adding to their personal income on live leads. If you are just ordinary you should earn $100 a week. If you are top—you should average over $200 every week in the year. Come in and let us show you what our men do in order to earn the kind of money and the opportunity you are missing.

BEWARE OF "BLIND ALLEY JOBS"

We have retained Luella Canterbury, noted Vocational Advisor, to help you avoid the pitfalls that you will encounter when looking for your first job. She will tell you the kind of position you are best suited for—she will also give you tips on what to say, how to dress, and how to act, to make the best impression on your prospective employer.

This unique service has been recognized by Chicago's leading newspapers, including a feature writer of "The World's Greatest Newspaper," as the most helpful service ever given to "beginners" by an employment agency.

'40 CADLLAC
7 PASS. IMPERIAL
The original cost of this luxurious car was over $4,000. Since then it has had unusually low mileage and the best of condition. We defy it to suffer comparison with any brand new car, so don't fail to ride and drive this. Cadillac's finest creation; completely equipped with radio, air condition unit, white wall tires, spotlights and many dollars' worth of other extras; offered at a tremendous bargain.
